Crack criminal caged

By Julie Murphy

Staff Reporter

Antioch police arrested Andre G. Jones, 21, of 1601 Lorelei, Zion, with 34 grams of crack cocaine with a street value of $6,500 on Nov. 3 at 8:30 p.m. at the Best Western.

"Drug activity will not be tolerated in the Village of Antioch," said Chief Chuck Fagan. "When anyone becomes known who is involved with that activity, he or she will be arrested, charged and prosecuted to the fullest extent of the law."

Cmdr. Craig Somerville said the department had received reliable information earlier in the day that a drug transaction was to take place at the hotel in the public washroom. He said that officers set up surveillance outside of the hotel, behind the registration desk and inside the bathroom.

Somerville said, "At 8:30 p.m. the offender was seen coming through the parking lot, looking around and checking the environment. When he was confronted by a detective when he went into the bathroom, he ran out and was brought down and handcuffed."

Somerville said police initially found 24 grams of crack cocaine on Jones, and later found another eight grams that he had in his mouth and tried to spit out in the squad car.

"Jones had just been released from prison in September on gun charges," Somerville said. "He's been remanded to Lake County Jail charged with unlawful possession of a controlled substance with intent to deliver, a class X felony. He was also charged with unlawful possession of a controlled substance (class 1 felony) and resisting an officer."

Upon conviction, a class X felony is punishable by 6-30 years.

"Anytime we receive any information regarding drug activity, it's taken very seriously," Somerville said. "We encourage anyone with that type of information to contact us."

Heneberry takes ATHENA

'Forefronts' winner receives recognition from LLV Chamber

By Brenda Balin

Staff Reporter

For the second time in its three-year history, the Lindenhurst-Lake Villa Chamber of Commerce has selected a previous nominee to receive the ATHENA Award.

This annual award honors a person who best meets three criteria: assists women in reaching their full leadership potential, demonstrates excellence, creativity and initiative in their business or profession and provides valuable service by devoting time and energy to improve the quality of life for others in the community.

This year's recipient, Joyce Heneberry, who was also recognized in Lakeland Media's "Forefronts 2002," was first nominated for the ATHENA Award in its first year, 2002.

Heneberry's philosophy is thus: "We make a living by what we get. We make a life by what we give."

For the past six years, she has worked at Kids Hope United (formerly Central Baptist Family Services) in Lake Villa. As director of development, she oversees special events and appeals, fund-raising, community relations and volunteer coordination.

She is also a member of the Community High School District 117 Board of Education, the LLV Chamber, LLV Women in Business, Lake County Volunteer Administrators Network, Family Times Magazine Advisory Board, Sequoit Pride and the village of Lake Villa Revitalization Committee.

Previous community involvement includes serving on the Lake

Village trustee race broadens

Dennis Crosby throws hat in ring for trustee

By Julie Murphy

Staff Reporter

Dennis Crosby wants to help the Village of Antioch "get it right" as it faces inevitable growth and has entered the race for trustee as a means to do so. He is hoping to earn one of three available slots in the April election.

Crosby said he moved to northern Illinois from South Carolina more than seven years ago, and chose to move to Antioch from Gurnee.

"It's beautiful and I see a tremendous future here," he said. "My wife and I have an 11-year-old, and we're happy with the schools. There is a wonderful constituency here. I think this can be the premier city in the Midwest."

Crosby said after attending a number of meetings of the board of directors that he came to the conclusion a more businesslike approach is needed in running the village. "There needs to be a fresh approach to doing things," he said.

He said he's suited to the position because he has a "background steeped in business."

That background includes working his way up from airline ticket agent to corporate vice president of American Airlines, a position that put him in charge of 2,200 employees scattered more than 5,000 miles. "From Hartford to Honolulu, I kept everything focused and running," he said. "At the end of the day, I always knew it was my responsibility."

Additionally, he served as president of Laker Airways and chief operating officer of international Russian-American and British-American joint ventures. Today, he describes himself as "an active entrepreneur" who has an ownership position with Logistics Unlimited Inc., a freight forwarding and logistics management company serving about 2,000 customers nationwide.

Crosby said the Russian-American joint venture was one of the best experiences of his life.

He said he lived in southern California and commuted to Russia, specifically Petropavlovsk located halfway between Anchorage, Alaska and Tokyo.

"This was in 1993-94," he said. "I was asked what I would do with this 11,000 foot runway. We made it a refueling stop, a technical stop for American planes. This was on a Soviet military base."

Crosby said he had to deal with the State Department, Department of Transportation and the Federal Aviation Administration in the United States and the corresponding agencies for Russia.

"We were here as Americans and there was no precedent to get this done," he said. "I learned a lot about how to work with Bureaucracies."

Crosby said he believes that there are very hard working members on the board and that Mayor Taso Maravelas has done a superb job implementing processes and controls. He also said he believes that board members need to be more in touch with the citizens and work on their behalf.

"I plan to spend the next few months knocking on doors to see what the people want," Crosby said.

Crosby said he was not running on a slate at this time. He said, "The mayor has not announced. Regardless of what happens, I'm going to run."

Garden club decorates for holidays

Come Dec. 4, the Antioch Garden Club is going to be busy decorating and distributing wreaths throughout our town.

Toni Urbaitis, who organizes the holiday decorating workshop for the club, said about a dozen members will get together on that day at the Antioch Senior Center to decorate the wreaths that will also be distributed that day. She said the club's wreaths will be placed at the Antioch Metra Station, the Lasco House (part of Lakes Region Historical Society), the Antioch Fine Arts Foundation as well as the Tiffany Senior Apartments, Oakridge Manor, Orchard Manor and Millview Manor.

Antioch Garden Club meets the first Monday of the month, September through June at the United Methodist Church at 848 Main Street. Guests are encouraged to arrive at 6:45 p.m. to allow the meeting to start promptly at 7 p.m.

This year's programs include: the December event; pioneer gardens, January; pressing flowers, February; plants for shade, March; hummingbird window box, April; and designing a herb garden, May.

Visitors and new members are welcome. For more information call 847-395-1202.

Though the official day to set our clocks back has passed, Antioch Fire Department Chief Dennis Volling wanted to send out a reminder to change those smoke detector batteries if it was overlooked.

Information officer Lt. Chris Lienhardt said, "Smoke detectors really do save lives. This is the time of year when the batteries should be changed. This is really very important."

The Antioch Fine Arts Foundation Gallery hosts a free acoustic folk music song circle on the second Saturday of every month from 1-4 p.m., which makes Nov. 13 the next opportunity to hear some good music.

Pixie Eslinger said, "Come enjoy an afternoon of music and fine art by local artists."

The gallery is located at 983 Main Street, the northeast corner of Ida and Main. For more information, call AFAF at 847-838-2274.

Those who aren't around for this weekend's musical entertainment should consider going to the Antioch Public Library on Saturday, Nov. 20 at 3 p.m. to listen to the unique songs of the Senior Kitchen Band.

The band has a wonderful reputation around the county and performs several times a year in various locations. It practices year-around at the Antioch Senior Center.

Some residents may have had the opportunity to hear the band play at the village's first annual Octoberfest; they were outstanding.

If you have interesting information or anecdotes to submit for "Our Town" call staff reporter Julie Murphy at 847-223-8161, ext. 600 or e-mail, moorfie@ix.netcom.com

Vote on clock tower elevation

By Julie Murphy
Staff Reporter

Election season isn't quite over. Jim LaFontaine of the clock tower committee said three elevations have been drawn for consideration, and that the committee would like residents to vote on which one they like best.

He said, "We have three drawings that are going to move around to three different locations over the next couple of weeks. We'd like for everyone to have a good opportunity to see the drawings and vote."

The clock tower ballot box and display are at the Antioch Senior Center now through Nov. 12. The display will be at the State Bank of the Lakes from Nov. 13-19. From there it will travel to the First National Bank-Employee Owned from Nov. 20-30.

"We want to have the community involved in this decision-making process," LaFontaine said.

Back in September, with more than $170,000 in its coffers, the clock tower committee asked the village board for permission to spend $15,000 to have architect Allen Belli to draw up actual plans.

At the time, LaFontaine said the drawings are necessary to be able to get a better handle on what the final costs of the project would be. He said the committee wanted to know how much more money and in-kind materials and services it would have to raise to see the project through fruition.

The selected drawing will be provided to Seater Construction, and final costs will be determined from that.

Early estimates for the project had been at $225,000, but they may be less.

The clock tower will be built at the northeast corner of Main and Orchard streets, and soil testing has been completed and the site deemed suitable for building, according to LaFontaine.

The 50-foot tower will house a clock that will be electrically wound and will have two bells. The hourly bell would be louder and ring at the top of the clock, and quarter hours would be both lower in tone and ring from a lower position. The clock itself is an original Seth Thomas from 1917, and would account for about $50,000 of the project's total cost.

Traffic stop leads to pot bust

Lincoln Continental, $3K seized

By Julie Murphy
Staff Reporter

Dwayne A. Saylor, 37, of 42376 N. Poplar, was arrested on Oct. 28 at 8:37 p.m. on Route 173 at Tiffany Road, when he was stopped for a traffic violation and caught with just under one pound of suspected cannabis.

Saylor was stopped for improper lane usage and a check of his identifiers came back with information that his driver's license was suspended. Police found the cannabis, as well as nearly $3,000 during the inventory for tow of Saylor's Lincoln Continental.

Chief Chuck Fagan said, "Our officers do a great job. They are very thorough, and it shows with an arrest like this."

Saylor was charged with unlawful possession of cannabis, unlawful possession of cannabis with intent to deliver, driving while suspended and improper lane usage.

Cmdr. Craig Somerville said the street value of the cannabis is about $3,000.

"The $2,872 cash and the car were confiscated pursuant to the Drug Asset Forfeiture Procedure Act," he said.

In addition to losing the car and money, Saylor could serve 3 to 7 years upon conviction for the Class 2 felony of possession with intent to deliver.

'There is an amount where it's better to keep it local. I recommend we look at how much more you're willing to pay to keep it local.'

Alan Probst
Village Administrator

Village Administrator Alan Probst said there are advantages to purchasing locally, all the way around.

He said, "There is an amount where it's better to keep it local. I recommend we look at how much more you're willing to pay to keep it local."

Shannon, who said he has been using his own vehicle since the middle of 2000 despite being budgeted money for a village-owned one in 2003 and 2004, said it is necessary for him to perform the services for which he is responsible during emergency and/or disaster situations.

The board voted in favor of going out to bid for the vehicle, with the exception of Trustee Barbara Porch who wanted to see more latitude for variance within the specifications.

Village examines bidding process

By Julie Murphy
Staff Reporter

Local businesses stand to benefit from procedural changes discussed by the board of directors of the Village of Antioch.

When the discussion came up to go out to bid for a vehicle for public safety inspector and emergency management coordinator Lee Shannon, Trustee Dorothy Larson requested that a policy be set to include notifying local dealerships of the village's intentions to go out to bid. The discussion came after the board unanimously approved two bids for police vehicles, both from out-of-town dealerships.

"I think it would be a courtesy to let them know upfront that we are going out to bid instead of them having to read through the newspapers and possibly miss something," she said. "I would like to send a letter to the four new car dealers in town. I would rather buy locally."

Larson said it would be up to the dealerships to decide whether or not they were interested in placing a bid with the village, but would give them the opportunity to do so. She also said notifying them wouldn't obligate the village to act on a bid placed by a local business.

Trustee Larry Hanson asked why this policy should just pertain to car dealerships. "I think we should try to keep it (purchasing) all local," he said. "We should do it for anybody."

Larson said she made the recommendation with vehicles because the village only goes out to bid for items that over $10,000, and that the purchase of vehicles fits that.

Antioch Pottery hosts open house

By Julie Murphy
Staff Reporter

Keeping with tradition, Jill Tortorella's Antioch Pottery is hosting an open house just in time for the holidays that will run on Saturday, Nov. 13-14 from 10 a.m.-5 p.m.

"This is one of my favorite weekends of the year," said Tortorella. "Everyone has a lot of fun coming to the open house, watching demonstrations and getting a chance to see new pieces come out of the kiln."

The kiln will be unloaded on Saturday at 10 a.m. Tours will be given throughout the weekend.

Tortorella will be giving demonstrations on using a potter's wheel.

Additionally, refreshments will be served and, of course, pots, plates, cups, bowls and a variety of other pottery art will be for sale for those interested in doing some early holiday shopping. In addition to her own work, the ceramics of additional artists will be available.

Offerings include Ikebana flower frogs (unique horizontal flower vases) as well as gift items in a range of sizes, colors and prices.

Antioch Pottery offers classes for both adults and children. Tortorella brings in guest artists four times a year to conduct special workshops.

Tortorella earned a BFA from the School of the Art Institute of Chicago. She regularly exhibits her work in shows throughout Illinois, Wisconsin, Missouri, Iowa, Michigan, Minnesota and Oklahoma.

Her works are in the collections of the following corporations: Amoco Oil, Fleming Co., Dean Goad Interiors, The G.H.K. Co., Stifel Nicolaus, Quaker Oats, Perception Inc., Levin & Shredder, HAR Aerospace, Hackneys Restaurants, Mary Barnes Donnelly Foundation, and The Lake Forest Bookstore.

The studio, located at 25942 Heart O Lakes (Grass Lake Road to Lake Bluff Road) For more information, call 847-838-1040.

ATHENA

first Lindenhurst-Lake Villa recipient.

This year's award ceremony followed a dinner at the Country Squire in Grayslake on Nov. 5. It was attended by 130 of the township's most active and involved citizens.

Local ATHENA corporate sponsor, Mark Scarpelli, of Raymond Chevrolet in Antioch, was not present due to illness, but was honored in absentia by LLV Chamber President Jim Hyerdall (The Advertiser) for his support over the past three years.

Keynote speaker, former Lake County Coroner Barbara Richardson, entertained the dinner guests while educating them about six traits of leaders. For each quality, she quoted a prominent example of a strong woman.

When she began describing the fifth trait, "risk taking," she grabbed the crowd's attention with a perfect impression of Katherine Hepburn, saying, "If you don't paddle your own canoe, you don't move."

She ended her presentation by singing "ATHENA," using the word as an acronym for Achievement, Time, Help, Excellence, Nomination (for the honor) and Award (deserved.)

Other nominees, who were honored throughout the year at chamber luncheons, were (in alphabetical order) Carol Larsen (Branch Manager, First American Bank), Karen Mezich president/owner, Lake County Music; founder of Greater Lindenhurst-Lake Villa Area Fine Arts Council), Ann Nelson (president of District 41 PTO), Mary Reljic (president/CEO of Excellence Unlimited; pro-bono lobbyist; community activist), Linda Rix (president of Afterschool Club; partner in American Business Collaboration), Mary Shahbazian (president of Allendale Association) and Suzanne Smith (representative with Hoopis Financial Group, board member of LLV Chamber; founder and chair of LLV Women in Business).

The ATHENA program, named for the Greek goddess, who exemplified courage and wisdom, originated in Lansing, Michigan in 1980.

At that time, Martha Mayhood Mertz, owner of Mayhood/Mertz Realtors, Inc., was invited to serve on the board of directors of the Lansing Regional Chamber of Commerce. The only woman serving on the board, she discovered that, in 75 years, her Chamber had only once honored a woman. She felt the time had come to bring businesswomen into leadership positions within the Chamber.

The first ATHENA award was presented in 1982. Since then, thousands of men and women have received the honor throughout the United States, Canada and Russia.

Vista holds community events in November

Victory Lakes honors veterans; surgery center marks 5 years with community open house

This month, Vista Surgical and Treatment Center and The Village at Victory Lakes host several events for the community.

Veteran's Day was marked by a special Veteran's Day celebration in honor of Victory Lakes residents who have served in the military.

The event was open to the public and had participation from community and veterans groups in northern Lake County.

A display of veterans' memorabilia and performances by Brass Ensemble, ROTC and The Village Vocalists highlighted this occasion.

The Vista Surgery and Treatment Center in Lindenhurst has been providing outpatient surgery, diagnostic testing and rehabilitative therapies to residents of northwest Lake County for the past five years.

In celebration, the center is holding a community open house from 10 a.m.—noon on Saturday, Nov. 13.

The surgery center is located at 1050 Red Oak Lane, off Grand Avenue, near Deep Lake Road, directly east of the Lake Villa Library.

The open house includes the opportunity for area residents to tour the same day surgery, diagnostic and rehabilitation facilities of the center.

Certificates for free blood glucose and cholesterol screenings will be distributed. An informational fair featuring home and personal safety, childbirth classes, physical therapy, heart health and more is also included.

The first 50 families will receive a copy of the 353-page family health guide, "Healthwise Handbook." Guests are also invited to take part in raffles, refreshments and giveaways.

For more information on this event, call 800-843-2464.

Seniors living at The Village at Victory

Each year Operation Christmas Child delivers millions of gift-filled shoe boxes to boys and girls around the world who are suffering because of war, natural disaster, poverty, illness or neglect.

The Victory Lakes seniors have collected a wide variety of donated items for the children. They will fill and wrap the boxes on Nov. 15.

Celebrate reading

In celebration of Children's Book Week, members of the community will be on hand to read and share some of their favorite children's books on Thursday, Nov. 18, from 7-8 p.m. in Meeting Room B, at the Lake Villa District Library, 1001 E. Grand Ave., near Deep Lake Road.

Representatives from Lake Villa and Lindenhurst community service organizations will be guest readers. No registration is required.

This program will feature the following members of the community: Lake Villa District Library Board President Caroline Jacobson, Thompson Elementary School Principal Alex Barbour, Lindenhurst Police Community Service Officer Rebecca Albrecht, veterinarian Pam Preston of Lindenhurst Animal Hospital and a Lake Villa Rescue Squad representative.

For more information, call 847-356-7711.

Suspended/possession of drug paraphernalia

Shane S. Smith, 21, of 12127 222nd Ave., Bristol, Wis., was arrested for driving while suspended and possession of drug paraphernalia on Nov. 6 at 11:16 a.m. at the intersection of Orchard and Toft.

He was stopped when he disobeyed a stop sign. A check through LEADS came back with information that his Wisconsin driver's license was suspended.

Smith was arrested and during inventory for tow, a glass smoking pipe with burnt cannabis residue was found in the center console of the vehicle. He was issued citations for disobeying a stop sign, driving while suspended and unlawful possession of drug paraphernalia.

Smith was released on personal recognizance pending his Nov. 24 court date.

Revoked driver's license

Michael D. Winscom, 29, of 32 Hillcrest, Fox Lake, was arrested for driving while revoked on Nov. 7 at 11:22 a.m. on Depot at Main Street.

He was stopped for disobeying a stop sign. A check through LEADS came back with information that his driver's license was revoked.

Winscom was arrested and issued citations for driving while revoked and for disobeying the stop sign. He was released on personal recognizance pending his Nov. 24 court date.

Driving while suspended

Stasia L. Talaczynski, 22, 42425 North Park Lane was arrested for driving while suspended on Nov. 7 at midnight on Hillside at Route 173.

She was stopped for traveling the wrong way on Hillside, a one-way street. A check through LEADS/NCIC came back with information that her driver's license was suspended.

Talaczynski was released on personal recognizance pending her Jan. 26 court date.

LAKE VILLA

Weapon found

On Nov. 1, at 12:15 a.m., a 35-year-old Lake Villa man reported to police that he found a .25 caliber Sterling semi-automatic pistol in a pouch lying by the side of the road at the southwest corner of Cedar Avenue and Lake Street. The pouch also contained ammunition of the same caliber. The gun and ammunition are in the possession of police. The owner has not been determined.

No valid driver's license

Javier A. Jimenez, 32, of 2478 S. 11 St., Milwaukee, was arrested by Lake Villa Police on Nov. 1, at 5:40 p.m., while driving a white 1994 Ford Thunderbird eastbound on Grass Lake Road near Deep Lake Road. Police stopped the car because of a broken brake light cover. The driver had no record of a license in either Wisconsin or Illinois. He was charged with driving with a broken taillight and having no valid driver's license. He was released on a $1,000 I-bond, pending an appearance in Grayslake Branch III court, on Dec. 8, at 3 p.m.

LINDENHURST

No valid driver's license

Beth A. Johnson, 27, of 1409 Chestnut Drive, Round Lake Beach, was arrested by Lindenhurst Police on Nov. 8, at 12:04 a.m., while driving a black 1999 Chevy Express van on Grass Lake Road near Heritage. She was charged with improper lane usage, no rear registration plate light and no valid driver's license. She was released on a $13,000 I-bond, pending an appearance in Grayslake Branch III court, on Dec. 1, at 9 a.m.

DUI ARRESTS

The following people have been arrested for driving under the influence of alcohol or drugs

Michael J. Frost, 28, of 223 W. Hawthorne Drive, Round Lake Beach, was arrested for driving under the influence of alcohol on Nov. 6 at 1:41 a.m. on Route 173 at Tiffany Road.

He was clocked traveling 61 mph in a 40-mph zone, and he crossed the centerline into the officer's lane of traffic. Frost failed field sobriety testing and a portable test indicated .158 blood alcohol concentration.

He was arrested and issued citations for speeding, operating left of center, improper lane usage, not wearing a seatbelt and DUI. At the police station, Frost submitted to a Breathalyzer test with a .155 blood alcohol concentration result.

Frost was unable to post bond and was held until someone was able to post bond for him later. He was released at that time.

Ray Henry Chlovary, 60, of 4518 Kingswalk Drive, Rolling Meadows, was arrested by Lindenhurst Police on Nov. 7, at 1:23 a.m., while driving a white 1991 Cadillac Allante westbound near St. Mark Lutheran Church at 1822 E. Grand Ave. He was observed weaving, and driving 45 mph in a 35-mph zone. He failed four of four field sobriety tests and refused breath tests. Police found a cup containing beer in the car. The driver was charged with improper lane usage, speeding, failure to signal a lane change, DUI and illegal transport of alcohol. He was released pending an appearance in Waukegan courtroom C-402, on Nov. 23, at 9 a.m.

CRIMESTOPPERS' CRIME OF THE WEEK

Lake County Crime Stoppers and the North Chicago Police Department are seeking information regarding a homicide.

North Chicago Police are requesting public assistance and information leading to the arrests of persons in connection to a homicide that occurred on the 15th of September 2004 in the 2200 block of Kristan Avenue, North Chicago.

The victim Dwayne K. Wilson, 37 years of age, was ambushed in his vehicle as he parked his blue Pontiac Grand Am in the rear of his home on Kristan Avenue in the 2200 block. Wilson died as a result of the gunshot wound he suffered. Police believe that there was more than one person shooting at Wilson.

One suspect is described as an African American male, tall, wearing dark clothing and running through the east alley of Kristan Avenue, North Chicago.

Vehicles involved in the incident may be a white older model vehicle containing several African American males and (or) a red vehicle with gray stripes and tinted windows containing several African American males. These vehicles were observed leaving the area after the shooting.

Lake County Crime Stoppers and the North Chicago Police Department would like to remind everyone to call when suspicious activity or a suspicious person is observed, and do not try to confront suspicious subjects yourself. If you have any information about this crime or any other felony crime or felony fugitive, contact Crime Stoppers at 847-662-2222.

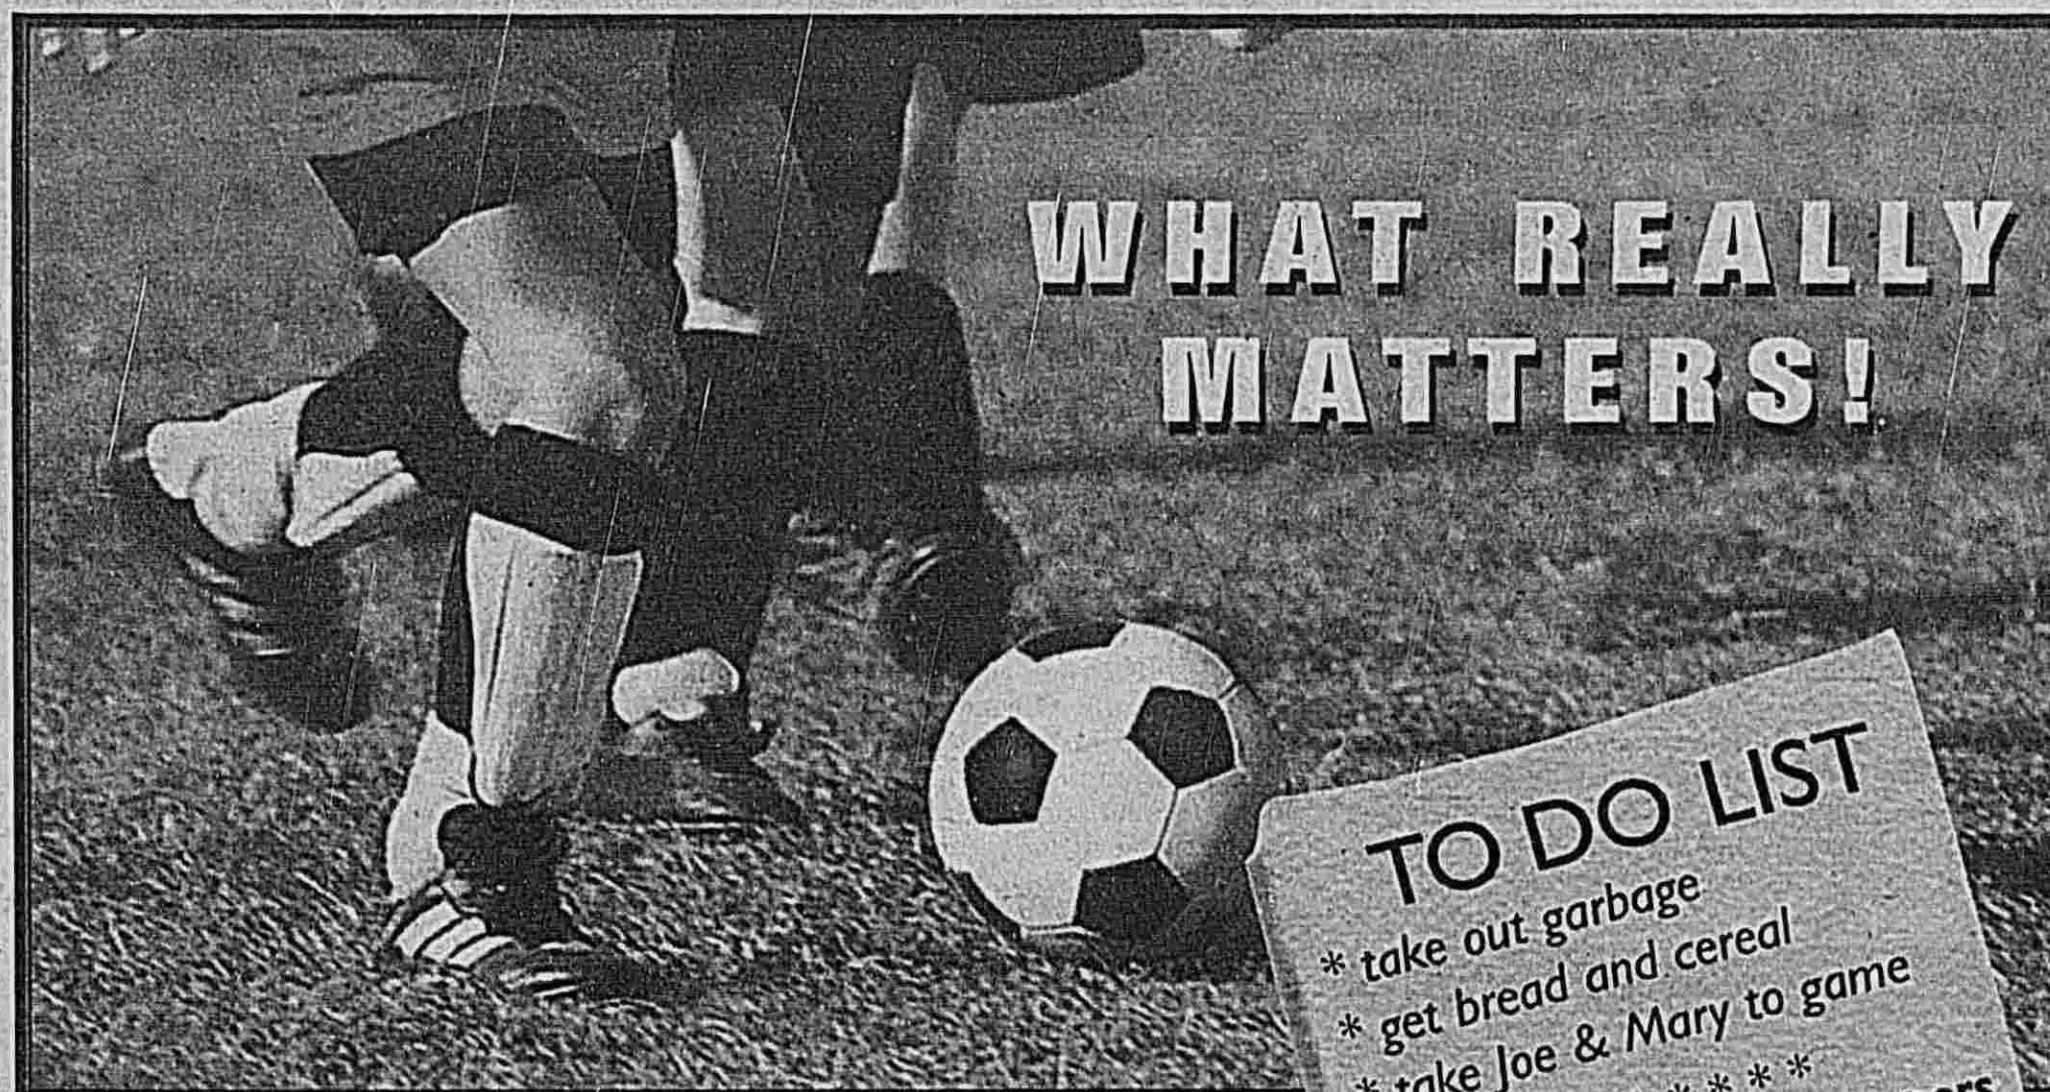

Also, abuse of the elderly is a crime, so let's not forget to report this type of crime as well.

If your information leads to an arrest you could be eligible for a cash reward of up to $1,000. Crime Stoppers wants your information—NOT Your Name.

Village ordinances restrict residents' allowed number of pets

By Laura Jastram, Julie Murphy, Steve Peterson and Ginny Skweres

Staff Reporters

John Gutknecht was surprised to learn the village of Round Lake imposes a limit on the number of animals per household. As a new resident, Gutknecht said he called the village to find out about licensing pets, but was never told of a "pet limit."

"I have been told this is something that is not actively enforced," he said. "It is really only enforced when someone complains."

Gutknecht did some research on pet limits and found Round Lake is not alone. Many of the surrounding villages have pet limits as a part of their village ordinances.

In Title 6, Chapter 6.12 of the Round Lake village ordinance it states, "It is unlawful for any one person residing within the corporate limits of the village to keep more than two of either cats or two dogs or a combination thereof at any one time."

Concerned about the pet limits in the village, Gutknecht sent a letter to the mayor of Round Lake, Bill Gentes, asking for a review of the village ordinance. His request was honored and the village board discussed the possible need to consider amending the current ordinances.

Trustee Sherry Perkowitz said the ordinance seems a "little bit restrictive."

On the other hand, Trustee Dale Multerer said every time a person has a pet there are two people complaining about them.

Round Lake Police Chief Charlie Foy said he realizes not everyone is an irresponsible pet owner, but the more animals in a household, the more chance there is for problems.

Multerer said he knows this ordinance may hurt the responsible pet owners, but the ordinance really concerns the irresponsible pet owners.

Resident Debbie Jones said the opposite.

Jones also recently moved to the village and when she found out about the pet limit she was forced to find a new home for her 11-month-old Brittany spaniel because she already had two dogs.

She said the ordinance hurts the responsible pet owners because they are the ones who want to make sure they are following the law.

"It only hurts the people who care enough to apply (the ordinance) to themselves," Jones said.

Her daughter, Sarah Jones, said the village is "focusing on the wrong part of the problem."

Gutknecht said the village board's discussion didn't focus so much on the number of animals, but on the possibility of a nuisance.

Round Lake village ordinances address such "nuisances" as defecation, leashes and dogs or cats at large.

Jones said if the village would enforce those ordinances there would not be a problem.

Mayor Gentes asked the village administrator, Bam Peterson, to research the ordinance more in depth and find out what specific subdivisions say about pet limits and the board will discuss the topic at a later date.

Gutknecht said he is pleased the ordinance will be discussed again, but he anticipates any decision will take some time.

"It is tough because not many people are affected by this except those who got caught or those who want to be responsible," he said. "Those who got caught aren't necessarily the best example of pet owners."

Surrounding ordinances

Towns have had animal control ordinances on the books for so long most police departments, who enforce the rules, can't remember the circumstances that surrounded the creation of the rule.

Deputy Chief Brian Budhy said Libertyville's rule was in place when he came on board 20 years ago. Libertyville allows households to have up to three pets.

In Vernon Hills three pets has been the limit since at least 1982. Public Information

Ken Helndl, from Prairie Grove, pats his dog Cody just as Cody runs off to play in the Lakewood Forest Preserve's dog exercise area near Wauconda.

Officer Kim Christenson said the department responds to all calls in order to report more than a total of three cats and dogs per household.

"When we hear about that, it's usually because somebody called. If we receive a call that says somebody has too many animals, we look into it," Christenson said.

Within the Village of Antioch, residents are allowed a combination of three dogs and or cats for parcels under one-half acre in size. Those who have a parcel of one acre or more are allowed four total animals.

Alan Probst, village administrator, said the same stipulations are placed on apartment complexes and condominium developments. He clarified that if there is a 10-unit building on one-half acre, only three animals are allowed within the entire building.

"They cannot exceed that number," he said. "My guess would be that there are apartments in violation of this ordinance."

Probst said condo associations are allowed to further limit the number of animals allowed.

In Fox Lake, the village has a limit of two dogs, and three puppies of six months or younger and is looking to adopt rules for the number of cats.

"It becomes extreme in some cases. The worst case is having to take out the subfloor," said Building

Commissioner Bill Hart.

Problems with several pets are usually brought to the village's attention by neighbors, he said. The village may issue tickets, but normally refers matters to Lake County Health Department, which has a fee for pet removal.

"We have some problems with large numbers of cats at one house. They carry a lot of diseases. I thought at first it was just the elderly refusing to give them up, but it is found at a big variety of homes," Hart said.

A proposal may be coming to the village board on limits for cats.

Island Lake Police Chief Don Bero said that there are no limits for dogs or cats in that village.

Wauconda requires a permit for a kennel if more than four dogs are housed at one location and only in light industrial zoned areas.

Lake County

Leslie Piotrowski, spokeswoman for the Lake County Health Department, said there are limits to the number of dogs and cats that residents can own within the unincorporated areas of the county.

"For properties under one-half acre, residents are allowed to own three dogs and three cats," she said. "The number increases to four each for properties over one acre."

Piotrowski said individuals who breed dogs or cats are required to have a kennel license.

She said the Animal Control Division of the Lake County Health Department does not go door-to-door to determine how many animals are being kept. She said, "The department responds to complaints that are made, generally by neighbors."

Piotrowski said once a complaint is registered a letter is sent to the resident as notification that 15 days are allowed for compliance to be met. Court action is taken if the resident does not respond.

Piotrowski said some communities, like Waukegan, have their own animal control departments. She said even in communities where this is not the case, animal limit violations are not referred to the Lake County Health Department.

"In those cases it is generally the police departments that handle the matter," she said.

Regardless of property size, residents in unincorporated areas can apply for a multiple pet permit. "This is done through Animal Control," Piotrowski said. "The cost is $75 to apply for the permit. Anyone interested in doing this should call Animal Control at 847-949-9925."

Christmas musical opens Dec. 3

For the first two weekends in December, the Chain of Lakes Community Bible Church on Grass Lake Road will perform a Christmas musical "One Bethlehem Night."

Patti Stagg, communications coordinator, said, "Although specifics are lacking in the Biblical account of Jesus' birth, we do know that all of the people who were there that night were, in many ways, just like us. They were ordinary people with ordinary occupations whose longings and desires were much the same as ours."

Stagg said "One Bethlehem Night" provides a glimpse of what might have happened on that night.

She said, "All of the characters in this musical, except Mary, Joseph and the shepherds, are fictional of course, but we have to believe that their real-life counterparts existed."

The story is said to take a look at how these people may have reacted to the circumstances believed to have surrounded the birth of Jesus.

Tickets are on sale at a cost of $5 for adults, $3 for children and $15 for families. For more information, or to purchase tickets, call the church at 847-838-0103.

Lake Villa Church of LDS appoints new bishop

The Lake Villa First Ward of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints sustained Randy Bell of Lindenhurst as Bishop, replacing Clark Walker, who recently moved to Colorado.

Bell, who lives in Lindenhurst, has a bachelor's degree in chemistry from Utah State and a Ph.D. in chemistry from the University of Oregon.

He has received several prestigious awards from Abbott where he has worked for seventeen years.

He and his wife, Joann, have five children and seven grandchildren.

Previously, Bell was the branch president of Great Lakes Military Second Branch.

Troy Vellinga from Lindenhurst and Isamu Fairbanks from Grayslake were also sustained as counselors in the Bishopric to assist Bell in the administration of the congregation's 400 members.

The primary geographical organizations of the church are wards (local congregations), stakes (comprised of several wards) and areas. Bishops preside over local church congregations and are the leaders with whom rank-and-file members most frequently interact.

Stakes and wards have no paid ministry. The substantial volume of labor required to run a stake or ward effectively is carried out by the members, who are asked by their leaders to contribute in specific capacities, such as in administrative, teaching, or service-oriented positions. Ample opportunity is given every willing member of the congregation to render service, share talents and gain new skills.

Anyone who has driven through the intersection of Routes 83 and 120 at anytime over the past 36 years has seen the same structure sitting on the northeast corner.

During the summer and fall months, fruit and vegetables seem to spill out of the small, light green building and into the parking lot where shoppers wander among the fresh produce. Hand-painted signs advertise the latest arrivals and bins full of seasonal crops are set up in and around the store.

Villiard's Fresh Market has been a Grayslake staple since the late 1960's, when Roger Villiard decided to open the business as a family affair.

"Really what got me started was my children at that time were high school (age) and I didn't want them working for somebody else and I didn't want them standing on the street corner," he said with a laugh.

So instead of just any street corner, Villiard's five children spent a lot of time at their dad's corner stand.

All of his children are grown now, but he still runs the business with his son, Greg. And, at 69 years old, the Villiard's Fresh Market is Roger's life's work.

"We've been here for, I guess I can say, half my life," he said.

Villiard moved to Lake County from a small town in northern Wisconsin called Exeland back in the 1950s. He said he spent fifteen years working in the sheet metal business before opening his own construction enterprise.

After that, he decided to open the fresh market.

While the stand has remained the same for many years, Lake County has done far from stand still. More and more people move into the area every year, which, of course, has increased Villiard's clientele.

Several new stores and corporate chains have sprung up around Villiard's store as well, including a Jewel grocery store about a half block away. But he said that hasn't hurt business.

"Everybody says to me, 'What's the price at Jewel?'" Villiard said. "I say, 'I have no idea, I could care less.' And I don't. I don't care what they sell their stuff for. I never have. I know they don't care whether I'm here or not because I don't think I bother their business."

People haven't neglected his store over the years either.

Villiard's is one of the few remaining independent markets in the area. It has built a large base of loyal customers over many years and the same people frequent the store every season, many of whom Villiard and his wife have watched grow up.

"It's kind of funny because it's basically all the same people," he said. "You've seen them for years and years. My wife has picture of kids when they were in the pumpkins and it's just crazy because they have children of their own now."

Villiard's Fresh Market is open from the middle of May through the end of October and offers fresh seasonal produce for both the summer and fall seasons.

In the summer, customers can find local sweet corn along with fruit

Smooth trails

Okay, the trail itself may not be smooth, but riders participating in the gaited horse cavalry ride at the Lakewood Forest Preserve in Wauconda will definitely have a comfortable ride. Some horseback riders prefer gaited horses because they have a mid-range speed that is typically a lateral gait instead of a diagonal one and it makes for a smoother rider.

For more information about this event, call Dennis Leveque at 262-694-8516.

ADOPTION CORNER

Home with harmony

Melody

Melody, an 8-year-old Labrador retriever mix, is looking for a home with harmony. This very well housebroken sweetheart has been adopted out and returned three times for no fault of her own. She's had a bad luck string of busy families, job transfers and new homes that won't allow pets.

Kennel staffer Joe Moore said, "She's probably best as an only pet, and older children are okay." Melody walks well on leash, loves belly rubs and playing in the baby pool during hot weather.

Nothing's black and white

Liam

With Liam, a 2-year-old domestic long hair, nothing is black and white except his coloration. He's friendly and outgoing, good with children and good with other cats, though he's reportedly a little sensitive about have his nails trimmed. Feline caregiver Jamie Jacques said, "He was returned for litter box issues, though the owner was inconsistent with the type of litter and box provided for him. He's been fine since he's been back here. Liam is really a sweet cat."

Save-A-Pet is located at 31664 N. Fairfield Road, Grayslake. It's closed on Tuesday, open 1-5 p.m. on Monday, Wednesday and Friday, 1-8 p.m. on Thursday and 11 a.m.-6 p.m. on Saturday and Sunday. ### Puppy love Libertyville resident Pat Lundy and his 13-year-old, four-pound Yorkshire terrier Blarney enjoy some fresh air and sunshine at the McDonald Woods Forest Preserve in Lindenhurst. They came to walk the trails along with Rhoda Lundy and westie Ashley. Rhoda said Ashley is "a bit of a loner," which explains their absence from the picture.

Massage therapist aids comfort

Julie Murphy

BARKIN' UP A TREE

Right off the bat, canine massage therapist Betsy Smouse said she's not a veterinarian and not intended to take the place of one.

"I don't take the place of a vet, and for many things I like to have the vet's permission before I start treatment," she said. "My goal is to help, not to interfere."

Smouse, who moved back to Antioch from California this year, said canine massage therapy could be used to improve a dog's mobility, agility, to ease pain and to help lengthen muscles that may have shortened, due to lack of use, after surgery. She said her massages are muscular and do not involve the joints directly.

"I massage all the muscles, including the feet and the toes. I don't do major massage on joints," she said.

Among Smouse's current patients is Scamp, an 8-year-old border collie-springer spaniel mix owned by Bonnie Bruski. He had surgery on his rear knee for a surgery described by Bruski as being similar to a football injury. Smouse is helping with the rehabilitation.

Bruski said, "I noticed the difference with the first treatment. Scamp is the neighborhood greeter, and he overdoes it. Now, he's using both rear legs instead of hopping on them."

Smouse said his muscles had atrophied and shortened after surgery and that massage had helped to stretch and return them to normal.

"Massage does a lot of things," she said. "It helps with flexibility and circulation and releases toxins from the body. As I'm massaging, I'm working with range of motion and series of sit/stands that, for him, act like an exercise, like a sit up."

Bruski said she was surprised that no physical therapy was offered after Scamp's surgery.

"As a human, if you have surgery on a knee, there is physical therapy that is part of the treatment," she said.

Bruski said she hired Smouse to come in weekly when it became clear to her Scamp continued to be in discomfort. "I could tell he was still hurting, but he's much more comfortable now."

Smouse said others come to her to prepare their pets for sports such as agility competitions, as well as to relieve their aches when the event is over. Others seek relief from the pains of old age and arthritis.

"It's not part of what I do to diagnose problems, but I have found things that can then be addressed by a veterinarian," she said. "I have found a lot of paw injuries, ingrown nails, ticks, abscesses and even cancer."

Smouse is currently only certified as a canine massage therapist though intends to get her feline certification in the near future. She can be reached at 847-644-6677.

There's no place like home

They say that home is the place where they have to let you back in no matter how much you have screwed up.

So it was with great trepidation that I returned a telephone call from my former roommate Characterless B. Drunkenbum.

You see, Characterless has lived with me on and off for most of my life.

And I always seem to do better when he's not around. But still, he's like a brother to me, so I called him back.

"Hey Characterless, you old drunken bum, what's up?" I asked.

"Well, Jeff, my life is spinning out of control. I can't stop drinking. I can't stop gambling, my girlfriend has left me, the landlord wants me out by Friday, and I think I'm going to get fired," Characterless said.

"So how is this different than the last 40 years of your life?" I asked.

"Well, you know, Jeff, that's the funny thing. It ain't. All my life has been one big downer. I've never amounted to anything just like all the teachers and my parents told me, but it has never felt like this before," Characterless said.

"How so?" I asked.

"Well, Jeff, I'm older now, and I can't rebound like I used to. The hangovers last all day long now, and my liver feels like it is three times bigger than normal. I've maxed out all 12 of my credit cards and the casino won't give me any more credit. And no matter how much I beg my girlfriend she just won't take me back," Characterless said.

"So what are you going to do?" I asked.

"Well, Jeff, you know that I always seem to do better when I am living with you, so I was wondering if you maybe had a spare room where I could stay for awhile. I heard that you are a big shot writer now or a television anchor or something like that and that you are doing all right for a change," Characterless said.

"That's true," I replied. "But I am also a single dad trying to raise a 12-year-old gifted child and I don't know if there is any room for a bad example like you anymore," I said.

And there was silence in heaven for about three minutes.

"But Jeff, it's me, your old buddy Characterless B. Drunkenbum. You have never locked me out before."

And I thought for a minute, and decided what the heck.

And then I smiled and said: "Come on over Characterless, you old drunken bum. This will always be your home. And don't worry about a thing, there is plenty of beer in the fridge—and I got a hunch my Lotto numbers are going to win tonight."

By KYLE SCHMITT

More than 500 county Cub Scouts let the good times roll at the Cubmobile Derby 2004, held at Bowen Park in Waukegan Oct. 23.

Representing 20 different packs in the downhill race, Cub Scouts from the North Star District piloted cars that they had built themselves primarily out of plywood and 2x4 and 4x4 lumber, with tricycle, wheelbarrow or lawnmower wheels placed on to guide the vehicles. Drivers experiencing mechanical difficulties could stop in at the pit area, where their respective pack mechanics could remedy the problems and get them back out on the road.

The junior speed-burners ran their makeshift vehicles down a 175-foot hill, competing two drivers at a time and reaching speeds of 15 to 20 miles per hour. No times were kept, but packs formed lines along the course and yelled encouragement to their respective members, and first and second place ribbons were awarded to drivers after every race.

Besides the speeds they reached while piloting their Cubmobiles, the scouts enjoyed a freedom they don't often experience, said event coordinator John Forker.

"The parents have very little control of them until they stop," Forker said. "They're totally on their own for this time, so it helps them build confidence and everything else."

The race also allowed participants to briefly enjoy a right they would not receive again in short fashion. "Six or seven-year-olds look at driving a car like the biggest thing that they'll ever have, and that's what we give them."

The scouts got to select the color and design of their racers, and received their wood badges for helping to build the vehicles, Forker said. He thanked the Waukegan Park District for helping to place bales of hay along the racetrack to prevent crash-related injuries, and for letting them put out canopies to shield the racers from the elements.

Distinctive colors and designs marked the competition, with seats ranging from basic woods to leather, and one Cubmobile creatively sporting the painted handprints of the den that had built the vehicle.

Competing in a green and white car to represent his St. Patrick's Catholic Church Pack 675 in Wadsworth, Ben Kloss enjoyed braving the dangers inherent in the race.

Having to crank the wheel on a car that would barely turn couldn't deter Kloss from seeking the checkered flag, as he endured rainy conditions to compete and cheer on his six denmates.

"It was scary in the beginning, but it wasn't when you started racing it," Kloss said. "It felt like you were going to crash."

Kloss helped build the number 7 car during a den meeting held last week at a fellow scout's home. The Cubmobile's construction took 75 minutes to complete, which gave him just enough time to test-drive it down the driveway.

Utilizing wood found in the scout's garage, the den endured a tough trial but had fun in building their car.

Intricately involved in his Cubmobile's production, Joey Galea helped design the distinctive features of his den's white and blue vehicle. A member of the Lindenhurst-based Pack 187, Galea gave his car a "dragster" feel, complete with an exceedingly tall backseat.

Galea got to test-drive the Cubmobile as it neared completion, but said that the fun of shaping the vehicle's look may bring him back to the race next year. "It's fun to design the cars and tune it up a bit," he said.

Although he characterized his car as "uncontrollable," Galea said that cheering on his friends, and driving down the park hill, made for an enjoyable day at the races. "It was pretty exciting to be going down as fast as I could," he said.

Mom Unwound

I really need to relax. That's why I've spent the past hour ransacking my children's rooms looking for a working cassette player, and another 20 minutes dismantling their electronic games for batteries to run the player, only to discover that the one intact set of earphones has the tonal quality of a speaker at a drive-in movie. Still, there's no sense my getting worked up about it, because now I can't remember where I put that infernal relaxation tape: "Tibetan Tension Tamers for Bamboo Flute and Temple Gong."

I'm better off improvising my own recording anyway. After all, the closest this mom comes to Shangri La is when I inhale car exhaust in the school parking lot while waiting to pick up my kids. Certainly I'm more likely to relax if I rely on calming cues from familiar surroundings, rather than the exotic sound of macaws mating in the rainforest.

So, as the designated parent facing the trauma of teaching a teenager how to "bring 'em back alive," I'm now going to take slow, deep breaths to accompany a meditation of my own:

Leslie Glazier-Werner
LES ON LIFE

'Embrace Your Inner Air Bag' (With Spiritual Instructor, Ms. Dumpthecluch)

Intro: Sounds of birds chirping and a car engine humming. The engine stops, a car door slams, hubcaps fall off and the car alarm blares.

Ms. Dumpthecluch: Take this time to rest your tired, old sacred center and recharge your Diehard to face life's little challenges, like wrestling the steering wheel from your son before you kiss a light pole.

Just listen to my voice—and the pulsing throb of your high blood pressure—as you strive for balance, even if junior bends your chassis permanently out of alignment.

Merge with the flow. Yes, imagine yourself as one with that passing semi truck. Remember, like a good neighbor, your instructor is there for you. Breathe deeply. Check your insurance coverage.

Now we're ready to tackle mental roadblocks using guided imagery and progressive muscle relaxation.

Begin by tensing the muscles in your head and shoulders. Hold to the count of three, remembering that's how many times you flunked Driver's Ed. as a kid.

Release these muscles and feel the soothing warmth, like the hot breathe of your high school driving instructor, Mr. Crane, as he screamed in your face, "BRAKE, BRAKE, BRAKE."

Next, tense the muscles of your arms and hands, mimicking your teenage form frozen on the steering wheel as Mr. Crane begged passing motorists to call him a taxi.

Relax once again. Then assume the yoga posture, "Petal to the metal" while envisioning Mr. Crane repeatedly attempting to stop the car by jamming his heel through the passenger side floorboard.

Finally, complete the karmic circle by wishing Mr. Crane "Peace"—because nothing will prevent my kid from getting a piece of me.

'Marcella Says' provides cooks with words from an Italian master

COOKING BY THE BOOK

Culinary legend Marcella Hazan, author of five respected cookbooks, sums up her 40-year career in the field in yet another book, a memoir-like "Marcella Says..." (HarperCollins Publishers, 2004) complete with family photos and anecdotes as well as some 120 recipes.

She covers a lot of ground, from soups and salads to chicken, fish and various classic Italian desserts. Hazan provides insight on why home cooks ought to make their own egg pasta and offers guidance on temperature control and when a dish is done.

One of the interesting aspects of this book is Hazan's side comments, inserted as "Marcella Says." For example, in the fine Fettuccine with Prosciutto recipe, she advises: "You can use an enameled cast-iron pan both to make the sauce and serve the pasta, but if you don't have one, make the sauce in a 10-inch skillet, preferably nonstick, and serve the pasta on a very warm serving platter."

Fettuccine with Prosciutto, Cream and Nutmeg

3 Tbl. butter
Prosciutto cut into narrow strips to measure 2/3 cup
1/2 cup heavy cream
1/4 tsp. freshly grated nutmeg

1/3 cup freshly grated Parmigiano-Reggiano cheese
Fettuccine made with 3 whole eggs or 10 oz. boxed fettuccine

• Put the butter and the prosciutto in whichever pan you are using, enameled cast iron or any skillet, and turn on the heat to low. • Lightly brown the prosciutto, stirring from time to time, being careful not to overcook it or dry it out. • Add the cream and nutmeg, and cook down the cream, stirring from time to time, reducing it by a third. Remember that egg pasta is thirsty for sauce, so do not reduce it too much. Should you inadvertently reduce it more than you would have liked, do not add more cream, but extend it with 2 or 3 tablespoons of the pasta cooking water when tossing the fettuccine. • Turn off the heat until the pasta is cooked. • When the fettuccine is done, tender but firm to the bite, turn on the heat to medium under the pan with the sauce. • Drain the pasta at once, reserving a few tablespoonfuls of the cooking water in case of need, and slide it into the pan. • Toss thoroughly, adding some of the cooking water if required to loosen the sauce. • Add the grated Parmesan, toss again and serve promptly directly from the enameled cast iron pan, if that is what you used. • If you used a skillet, empty its contents onto a warm serving platter and serve at once.

St Ignatius Squash Recipe

1 bushel of squash
1 cup margarine
1 cup brown sugar

Wash the squash and cut in half the long way. Remove seeds and pulp and scrape clean down to the squash. Lay halves skin side up in large roasting pans. Put about 3 inches of water in pans of squash and place in pre-heated 350 degree oven. Bake until squash is soft (about 2 hours or more, depending on how full oven is). The water will be absorbed by the squash and stay moist. Scoop out the flesh trying to keep out the strings next to the skin. Mash in large bowl with 1 cup margarine or butter and 1 cup brown sugar per each squash.

Order up!

AUTUMN LEAVES CAKE

2 cups all-purpose flour
1 1/3 cups granulated sugar
1 tablespoon plus 1/2 teaspoon baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon ground cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon ground nutmeg
1/3 cup butter, softened
1 cup milk
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
2 eggs
1 can (16 oz.) ready-to-use white decorator icing
1/4 cup caramel ice cream topping

• White rolled fondant •
• Assorted colors from rolled fondant multi-packs
• Brush-on color and icing writers

Preheat oven to 350°F. Spray baking pan with vegetable pan spray. In large bowl, combine flour, sugar, baking powder, salt, cinnamon and nutmeg. Add butter, milk and vanilla; beat with electric mixer on slow to medium speed for 2 minutes. Beat in eggs and continue beating for 2 minutes. Spoon batter into pan. Bake 40-45 minutes or until toothpick inserted in center comes out clean. Cool in pan 10 minutes. Remove from pan and cool completely. Cut cake into 2 layers. Combine Y2 cup icing with ice cream topping; spread between cake layers. Lightly ice cake with remaining icing.

To Decorate: Roll out and completely cover cake with white fondant. Smooth, with palm of hand or Easy Glide Fondant Smoother. Use colored fondants to create leaves: roll out fondant 1/8 inch thick, either directly from the package, combining colors to create new colors or marbling 2 or more colors. Using the largest leaf cutter, cut out 3 or 4 leaves at a time in various colors. Position on cake, attaching with brush dipped in water; smooth edges with fingers, to cover entire cake. For border, roll out colored fondant 1/8 inch thick. Using smallest leaf cutter, cut out leaves in various colors. Attach to bottom of cake using brush dipped in water. Create leaf "veins" using thin ropes of colored fondant or painting them on using Brush-On Color.

Micro-Minute

With its cooler weather and hearty foods, autumn is great!

Our traditional harvest-time go-alongs are so comforting. We have so many choices of apples, squash and other fruit and veggies in loads of varieties, shapes, colors, and sizes and, of course, pumpkins. With all these options, it would be hard NOT to get your five-a-day servings of fruit and vegetables!

What's the quickest, easiest way to prepare nature's bounty? In the microwave. According to the American Dietetic Association, the vitamins and minerals in fruit and vegetables are sensitive to light, heat, and water, so storing and cooking them correctly is key to maintaining their nutrients.

That's where microwave cooking comes in. It requires very little water, meaning that fresh produce retains more of its vitamins and minerals. You can't beat that!

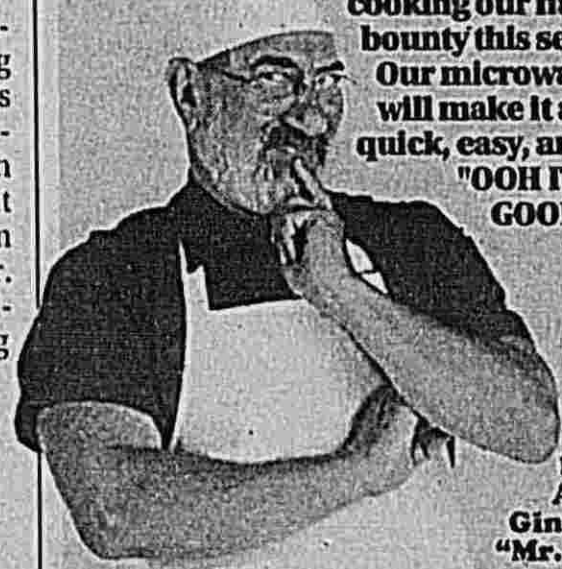

Here are a few microwave tips to get your veggies and fruit from the field to your table...fast!

- Don't salt vegetables during cooking, as it causes toughening as well as dark dry spots.
- Unless you enjoy cleaning up messes, pierce the skin of potatoes and squash before cooking so they don't explode while cooking.
- In older microwaves, check items halfway through their cooking times to see if the edges are getting more done than the centers; stir or rearrange, if necessary. In newer models, such as the Panasonic Inverter Microwave, the cooking is much more even.
- Don't overcook! Food continues to cook even after the microwave finishes its cooking cycles, so plan to let veggies stand (covered) for about 3 minutes before serving.

One fruit that lends itself very well to microwave cooking is squash. And yes, believe it or not, it's a fruit, not a vegetable! Small squash, like acorn and butternut, need to be pierced several times before cooking to allow the steam to escape, while larger squash, like butternut and pumpkin, should be cut in half and cooked cut-side down or in chunks.

Since the larger squash varieties are really hard to cut when raw, just microwave them whole for a few minutes, until softened, then cut and continue cooking until tender. After cleaning out the insides, don't toss out the seeds—they're great for snacks! Simply rinse them off, pat dry, and place on paper towels. Microwave at 100 percent power for 2 to 3 minutes then salt lightly, and enjoy.

See? There's no need to be scared of cooking our nature's bounty this season. Our microwave will make it all quick, easy, and... "OOH IT'S SO GOOD!"

'Of Thee I Sing' a spirited sendup of American politics

Dale Benson (left, as Alexander Throttlebottom) and Michael Gutrich as John Wintergreen in a scene from "Of Thee I Sing" at Drury Lane Oakbrook.

CRITIC'S CHOICE

By TOM WITOM

The political scene has long given satirists something to chew on. And in American politics, George S. Kaufman found a mouthful.

Kaufman won a Pulitzer Prize for his 1931 musical "Of Thee I Sing," written with Morrie Ryskind to a score by George and Ira Gershwin. Drury Lane Oakbrook Theatre, under the direction of William Osetek, is reviving this high-camp romp.

As expected, many references are dated such as the one to actress Clara Bow, and a few just plain unfortunate (the second act's endless drubbing of the French). But there's still loads to enjoy.

The musical comedy frames itself around the presidential campaign of one John P. Wintergreen (Michael Gutrich as a personable dimwit), whose party has him run on the platform of "love." It's easier to appeal to the voters' hearts than their intelligence, the candidate is told. If elected, he is to marry the winner of a beauty contest, the brainchild of the National Campaign Committee.

Only the usually pliable candidate has other ideas, follows his heart and weds the pageant's secretary, Mary Turner (Kelly Ann Clark) — a move that dogs him later when the contest winner Diana Devereaux (Christine Sherrill in an outstanding comic performance) sues for breach of promise.

Wintergreen, in one scene, says he just couldn't resist the homemade corn muffins of his new First Lady. After considering the evidence, the nine Supreme Court justices break out into song and all back his choice of a mate, pouring out such fractured lyrics as "the ruler of the government / the man who taught us what love meant."

As the campaign unfolds, there's an especially funny scene when political speeches are made while simultaneously a general entertainment is scheduled in the form of a wrestling match between two fighters in a ring immediately in front of the podium. You can guess who gets the most attention.

Even after the election, Devereaux, as the wronged woman, continues to press her case with the general public. Party hacks start to have second thoughts, and impeachment proceedings get under way, even though the hapless vice president who would succeed Wintergreen would be a worse disaster for the party. Dale Benson, a seasoned performer whose sense of comic timing is always right on the money, does a terrific job as the forgotten

Alexander Throttlebottom, the clueless vice president who has kept such a low profile that nobody knows him.

In Act 2, Devereaux, capitalizing on her French ancestry and complaining she didn't get "a square deal," presses her case with the help of the French ambassador, who demands that the country's new chief executive do his duty and make things right.

Osetek's sharp direction and Tammy Mader's lively choreography (the huge ensemble sings and dances up a storm) keeps "Of Thee I Sing" on track.

Discovery Museum film festival entry deadline

The Lake County Discovery Museum is organizing the first Amet Film Festival to be held in early 2005. The festival is named in honor of Waukegan native Edward Amet who invented the first practical 35mm film projector.

The Amet Film Festival will be for a weekend in early 2005. Friday evening will start with a kick off party at the museum honoring a lifetime achievement award winner. Saturday will include a variety of film making panels and screenings at Marcus Cinemas in Gurnee Mills. Sunday will be back to the museum for the awards ceremony.

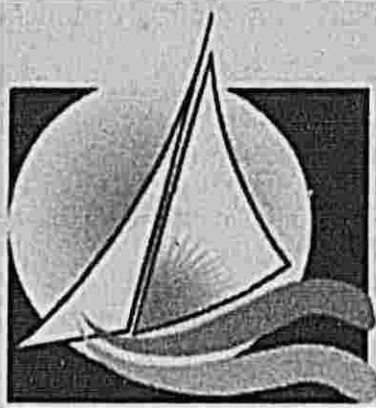

Categories include comedy-long, comedy, short, outstanding technical achievement, student, and audience favorite. The awards are being made by R.S. Owens, the same company that makes the Oscars. The deadline for applications is Dec. 1.

The planning committee is open to new members, and is also looking for additional judges for the various categories. Sponsorship opportunities are also available.

The Lake County Discovery Museum is the largest public museum in the Chicago suburbs, and will soon be opening the first exhibition on the life of Walter Payton.

For an application or more information, visit www.ametfest.org or call Joan at 847-223-0093.

Natural SCENE

For a program calendar or additional information about your Lake County Forest Preserves, call 847-367-6640 and request a free copy of the Horizons quarterly newsletter or visit on-line at www.LCFPD.org.

About the Lake County Forest Preserves

The Lake County Forest Preserves manages 24,955 acres of land and offers innovative educational, recreational and cultural opportunities for all ages. Visitors enjoy nearly 112 miles of trail for a variety of outdoor recreation uses, fishing ponds and lakes, public access to the Fox River, award-winning nature and history education programs and events, and four public golf courses. Facilities of special interest include Independence Grove near Libertyville, Ryerson Conservation Area near Deerfield, Lake County Discovery Museum near Wauconda, Greenbelt Cultural Center near Waukegan and Thunderhawk Golf Club near Beach Park.

Rainbow trout stocked at Lakewood Forest Preserve

Lakewood Forest Preserve near Wauconda is now open for rainbow trout fishing following release of roughly 600 trout in Banana Lake. Fishing in the Forest Preserves is free. Anglers ages 16 and over must have an Illinois fishing license. Trout fishermen must also have an Illinois inland trout stamp. Proceeds from the sale of the stamps help fund the stocking program.

Rainbow trout

Most of the trout range in size from three-quarters to one pound. The trout stocking is an annual fall event at the 3.2-acre Banana Lake. The lake is stocked again each spring. Daily catch limit is five. The deepest point in Banana Lake is 25 feet.

Lakewood features four additional lakes, including: 8-acre Taylor Lake with maximum depth of 20 feet; 5 acre Beaver Lake with maximum depth of 10 feet; 2-acre Acorn Pond with maximum depth of 14 feet; and 4-acre Heron Pond with maximum depth of 5 feet.

Most are natural potholes and sloughs that were dammed to create deeper permanent lakes and ponds. All contain largemouth bass, bluegill and channel catfish. Black crappie, green and pumpkinseed sunfish, and golden shiners are also present in some of the ponds.

Free Fishing Guide

There are many other great spots to fish in your Lake County Forest Preserves. A free guide to fishing in the Lake County Forest Preserves is available. Anglers are invited to call 847-367-6640 for copies, designed to fit into tackle boxes and glove compartments. Copies are also available for download from the Forest Preserve website at www.LCFPD.org.

More than one dozen lakes and ponds are profiled in the guide, which includes directions, depth maps and color illustrations of the fish to seek. Des Plaines River access points are also included, along with wheelchair access points, ice fishing information and more.

Important rules are detailed in the guide, such as minimum lengths required by the Forest Preserve District and catch limits set by the Illinois Department of Natural Resources (IDNR). These rules help maintain healthy fish populations in Forest Preserve lakes and ponds that are managed with assistance from the IDNR.

For additional information about fishing in your Lake County Forest Preserves, visit our website at www.LCFPD.org, or call our General Offices at 847-367-6640.

Volo Bog seeks volunteers

Volo Bog State Natural Area is looking for adults to fill positions as volunteer Weekend Naturalists and Visitor Center Docents. The positions involve a one to two-day commitment per month for one year. No prior experience is necessary. Training workshops are scheduled beginning for the first two weekends in December with continuing learning opportunities to follow.

Volo Bog's volunteer program allows adults to share their love and enthusiasm for the natural world while helping to provide a valuable extension to the interpretive programs at the site. Volunteers meet new people, develop new skills, learn more about the natural world and about Volo Bog, a unique natural resource so close to home.

Phone site naturalist Stacy Miller at 815-344-1294 for further information, to obtain an application and to schedule an interview.

Volo Bog State Natural Area is an Illinois Department on Natural Resources site located on Brandenburg Road west of U.S. Highway 12 between State routes 120 and 134 in Ingleside.

Gallery hosts Box Elder show and Birthday Open House

Antioch Fine Arts Foundation announced today its November Feature Show, "Box Elder." This show features artist interpretations of the theme, box elder. From the pesky critters that adorn our homes every year, to the beautifully variegated wood, to plays on the words; artists have created works of art that are sure to please the eye, move the spirit or tickle a funny bone. The opening reception will be on Friday, Nov. 12, from 6-8 p.m., at Antioch Fine Arts Foundation Gallery, 983 Main St. in Antioch, Ill. Come meet the artists and view their artwork.

This event coincides with the Foundation's Third Birthday Open House. Birthday Cake, refreshments and hors d'oeuvres will be served. Be sure to ask for a ticket for the door prize drawing, which will be held at 8 p.m. For additional information contact the gallery at 847-838-2274.

Additional original art on display at the gallery, includes works in watercolor, acrylics, digital art, glass, ceramic, wood sculpture, woodturnings and a variety of other mediums.

Antioch Fine Arts Foundation is a not for profit organization, dedicated to furthering the creative efforts of its members while spreading knowledge and appreciation of the visual arts. This is accomplished by providing an environment, which fosters interaction with other artists and the community through public display of members' artwork coupled with art demonstrations, classes and workshops.

'Honk!' at PM&L

A little gem

What becomes of retired jewel thieves? Do they simply sail off into the sunset of a tropical island? Or is there always the allure of that one last heist?

Max and Lola (Pierce Brosnan and Salma Hayek) scored big when they got away with the second of the three famous Napoleon diamonds; leaving baffled FBI agent Stan Lloyd (Woody Harrelson) holding the bag, or more accurately, the empty steel case. Now sailing into plain view of their island paradise is a cruise ship, with the coveted third Napoleon diamond on board.

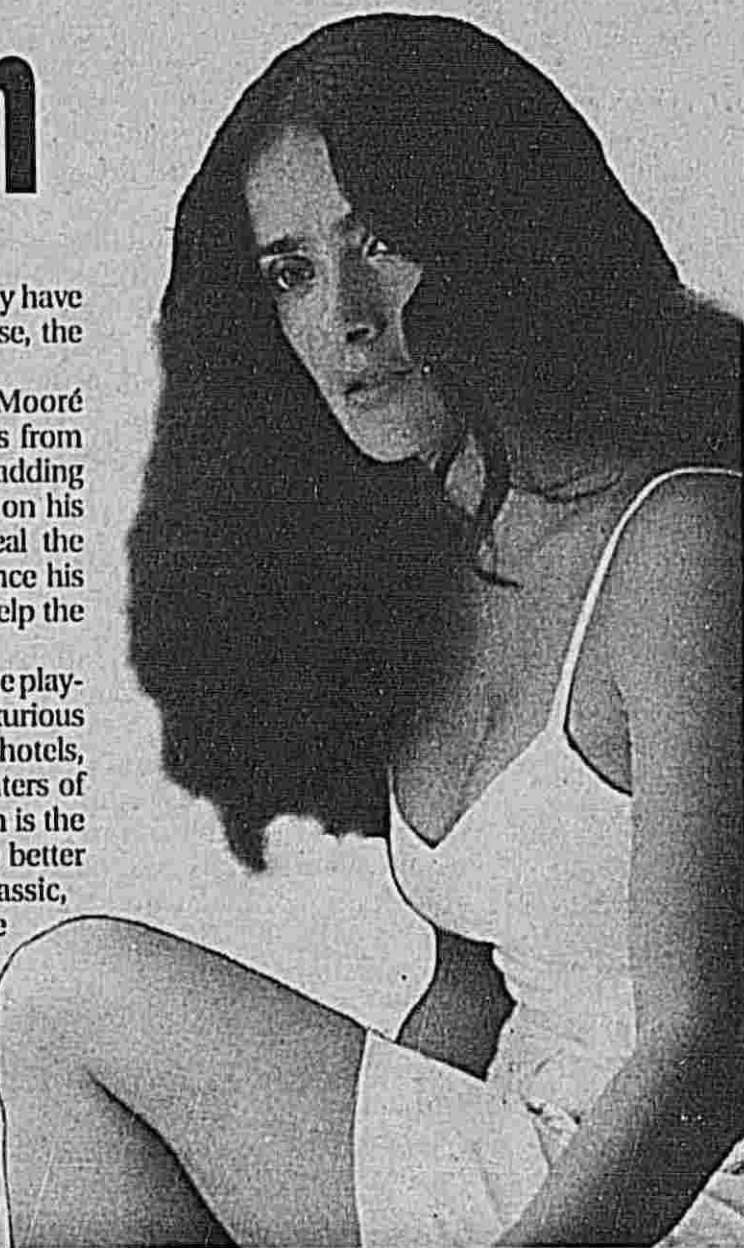

Also taking up residence on Paradise Island for the week that the ship is in port is Agent Lloyd. He's certain that Max and Lola plan to grab the stone. And he gladly teams up with lovely local cop Sophie (Naomie Harris) for a fast and furious relationship that also turns into a not surprising but humorous friendship for the four of them. After all, they have a lot in common the chase, the pursuit, the diamond.

Raconteur Henri Mooré (Don Cheadle), who hails from Detroit and admits to "...adding the little thing to the 'e'" on his name, wants Max to steal the diamond for him to finance his new casino, as a way to help the island people.

The game is set and the players are in motion. In luxurious beachfront homes and hotels, and under the crystal waters of the Caribbean, distraction is the key. Of course, there are better heist movies as the classic, "Rififi," "The Heist," "The Italian Job," and both "Ocean's 11," for starters. But you can't beat the beautiful cast and setting here.

This colorful caper sparkles. It was such fun, director Ratner says he ready for the sequel.

The incurable romantic

This sequel to "Bridget Jones's Diary" picks up where the first film left off, with Bridget (Renee Zellweger) and Mark (Colin Firth) as the perfect couple. The days ahead are filled only with sunshine. Bridget is on cloud nine because she is finally in a long-term relationship. Even the goofy things she's asked to do at her job are ameliorated by her personal life.

Bridget still lacks confidence and has low self-esteem, which rears its head when Mark's co worker Rebecca (Jacinda Barrett) seems to be taking up too much of his time. She's brilliant and beautiful, always says the right thing and just seems perfect in every way. One of the pleasant surprises in the film is how the relationship between Rebecca and Bridget unfolds. If Rebecca is the left jab, then Bridget's old boyfriend and one-time lover Daniel (Hugh Grant) is the right cross. Daniel plays her like a fiddle and soon has both Mark and Bridget in a dither.

Bridget is cute and perky, and bounces back from adversity throughout the film. Her romantic ski vacation with Mark is a particularly well done farce that earmarks how well Bridget regains her footing, under any circumstance. Along with a sky diving reporter assignment, where she gets up close and personal with some real pigs, she's a hoot.

A key factor in how well you will like the film is probably how quickly you bond with the relationship between Bridget and Mark. Of course, there are also all of those Bridget Jones devotees out there, ready to follow her to the edge of reason. One comedic element of the film that underscores a serious thought is the trip to Thailand and its observations of the sex trade.

George's Take: After recently seeing the romantic comedy "Sideways," it was hard for me to not see this as a lot "cuter" than it needed to be. It was funny but there was nothing in the film that was thought provoking. That's not to say every film has to have a message, but I like to be entertained and informed; then the two hours of my life to see a film have a higher return on that investment.

Pam's Take: I like this film much more than I did the original. Renee seemed to capture the British culture and accent more realistically this time. I thought the chemistry between her, Grant and Firth was spot on.

NEW RELEASES

These films are currently playing at local theaters. An average of six new reviews a week as well as recent releases can be found under Now Playing at www.reelmoviecritic.com.

opening this week

Noel: Susan Sarandon has an in-the-pits personal life after her divorce and becoming a caretaker for her mother. Paul Walker is insanely jealous of his fiancée Penelope Cruz and she's thinking of dumping him. Alan Arkin has taken an interest in Walker. As these disparate souls cross paths on Christmas Eve in New York City, some personal miracles occur. (PG)

Seed of Chucky: The fifth installment of the killer doll is back in another horror comedy. Jennifer Tilly is the twisted bride. Chucky and Tiffany go Hollywood and horrific experiences become the order of the day. (R)

Bill Condon, director of the surprising 'Kinsey'

By George O. Singleton

I met with Bill Condon the morning after his movie "Kinsey" opened the Chicago International Film Festival. You are familiar with his work as he wrote the screenplay for "Chicago." He was elated with the screening, as there were more than 1,000 people in attendance. He said, "...that was incredible; in addition, it gave me the opportunity to be inside the Chicago Theater for the first time. When we did the movie "Chicago" we only shot the exterior."

George Singleton: How did this project come about for you? With the discussion about a constitutional amendment to prevent gay marriage, there appear to be strong feelings about certain sexual relationships.

Bill Condon: The thing that seems clear to me is that Kinsey was trying to take morality out of the discussion of science. Gay marriage is one thing and stem cell research is another, but what disturbs me the most is AIDS in Africa. Of the $5 billion that has been earmarked, $800 million is for abstinence education. Science now comes with moral strings attached.

The marriage course that Kinsey taught came out of the nationwide VD epidemic of the late '30s. Students were arguing for these courses because they were completely in the dark. The overall argument is much the same, as it's either science or abstinence.

GS: What was the process in getting an "R" rating for the film? Did you have to fight to keep it from being a "NC-17," or did that even matter?

BC: It did matter. We signed a contract that said we would deliver an

"R" rated film. It's very hard to get a movie distributed and advertised with an NC-17 rating, so that is kind of a de facto censorship. What I was most worried about was what the whole film leads to. You are in this period movie in the Midwest, where people are wearing argyle sweaters, in a pretty setting, and then comes this revolutionary figure who steps into a classroom where most sex education was scary VD movies and he shows us close up slides of aroused genitalia. You may be used to seeing that in a movie but not with well known actors. The MPAA decided to give it a hard "R" rating with a "thank you" because they felt they learned a lot. They did not ask us to make any changes, which was pretty amazing.

GS: I thought that the frontal nudity shot of Peter Sarsgaard might cause a ratings problem.

BC: (Laughing) It could have been that too, as well as a woman masturbating on camera. Peter has made a joke about how he's a little offended that his frontal nudity did not earn an NC-17 rating.

GS: What thoughts do you want people to have when they leave the film?

BC: To acknowledge that everyone's sexuality is different. That does not mean men or women (as in gay or lesbian) but every part of you. The struggle is not to let a need to belong distort one's individuality. If people will ask where am I on that scale I'll be satisfied.

This thought provoking film is often entertaining, at times disturbing and always enlightening. It opens on November 19th.

The Polar Express

Does Santa Claus exist? This movie, based upon the best selling book of the same name by Chris Van Allsburg, will provide that answer, with Tom Hanks as the voice for five different characters in this animated children's film.

A young boy (Tom Hanks) listens for the sound of Santa's sleigh bells on Christmas Eve. What he hears is a train whistle, and when he leaves his bed to peer out the window, he sees a conductor (Hanks) beckoning him aboard the train for the North Pole to see Santa Claus. He's reluctant at first but jumps on board when curiosity gets the better of him.

On this journey he meets a Lonely Boy (Peter Scolari) who, by comparison, makes just about any kid look happy. Our young hero also becomes a friend with a bright and spunky Heroic Girl (Nona M. Gaye), a central personality who shares experiences with various characters. A know-it-all kid and a transcendent hobo, who hitches a ride atop the fast moving specter-train, round out the passenger list.

The journey to the North Pole is filled with suspense as the train loses its brakes on a steep downgrade, and later it slides precariously across a frozen lake as the ice begins to crack. Once at the North Pole, the wonderment of Santa Claus and the work of his reindeer and elves blossom.

The film uses the latest animation technology called "performance capture," which features detailed facial movements and allows characters to appear not as caricatures but rather as human subjects that have been painted.

The animated "people" in the film have a malaise to their expressions that at times seems eerily sad. Tom Hanks lending his voice and movement to five roles was virtuosity but the film may have had more depth with more variety. Of course, there is a Santa Claus so the movie clearly ends on a high note. We believe!

George's Take: I enjoyed the film but think it's more suited for kids and not as much as a dual path for adults as well, like "Shrek," "Shrek Tale," and "The Incredibles."

Pam's Take: It was hard for me to distinguish the dialogue in the film. I don't know if that was the movie itself or the fact that we were sitting in the upper balcony at the Cadillac Theater.

Charity

Catholic Charities 57-year-old celebration of giving kicks off

Catholic Charities of the Archdiocese of Chicago kicks off its 57-year tradition of holiday charity to children and families in need on Monday, Nov. 15.

The Celebration of Giving, which encompasses both Catholic Charities' Toy Shower and its Sponsor-a-Family Program, is a month-long effort to collect Christmas gifts for many of the children and families served by Catholic Charities of the Archdiocese of Chicago. The goal is to create a memorable holiday for the nearly 15,000 children served through the Toy Shower and the more than 600 families assisted through Sponsor-A-Family, families that are unable to afford buying Christmas gifts for their children.

New, unwrapped toys in their original packaging are collected from Nov. 15-Dec. 15. To get involved, contact Erin O'Connor at 312-655-7912.

In a similar manner, Sponsor-A-Family Teaches out to families who are most in need, responding to their basic wishes for items such as clothing, household items, books, or school supplies. To sponsor a family, contact Shannon McCowry at 312-948-6797. The Sponsor-a-Family gift drop-off is Dec. 4-6 at the Catholic Charities Administration Office at 126 North Desplaines Street, Chicago.

For more information and drop-off locations, visit www.catholiccharities.net/toyshower.

Courses

Bocce Ball offered through Gorton

This popular, fun-filled evening of learning and playing Bocce Ball will once again be offered through Gorton Community Center, 400 East Illinois Road, Lake Forest, on Saturday, November 13, from 7-10 p.m. The cost for this off-site event, including buffet dinner, is $35 per person (cash bar).

Come for an evening of fun and laughter and to learn and play the game of Bocce Ball at the Highwood Bocce Courts. This 7,000-year-old game blends sport with democratic spirit and friendship. The purpose of the game is to roll the bocce, a 4-inch ball, weighing about three pounds, as close as possible to the pallino, a 1-inch ball which is rolled down the alley first. The game takes skill, but we will have you playing like a pro by the end of the night.

Interested participants should register in advance. For further information, or to receive a program booklet, contact us at 847-234-6060, visit our website at www.gortoncenter.org, or stop by the Gorton office between 9 a.m. and 4:30 p.m., weekdays.

'Practice Living Yoga'

"Practical Living Yoga", continues at Gorton Community Center, 400 East Illinois Road, Lake Forest. Barbara Spietz will be instructing this popular class on Fridays from Nov. 19 - Dec. 17 (no class Nov. 26), from 10:30 a.m. - noon. The fee is $44.

Combining the 5,000 year-old tradition of Hatha Yoga with contemporary exercise physiology provides an excellent base upon which to build a yoga practice. Barbara Spietz's class blends Eastern philosophy with Western "know-how" for a practice approach to wellness. She is an internationally recognized master teacher who has conducted teaching training workshop throughout India and the U.S. She is an initiate of Swami Rama, founder of The Himalayan International Institute of Yoga Science and Philosophy. Barbara's 30+ year career in education has given her the knowledge and experience necessary to conduct classes that meet a variety of needs and ability levels. Bring a mat, strap, and pillow. Equipment and audio tapes are also available.

Interested participants should register and pay in advance. For further information, or to receive a program booklet, contact us at 847-234-6060, visit our website at www.gortoncenter.org, or stop by the Gorton office between 9 a.m. and 4:30 p.m., weekdays.

Public

Speak out for traffic relief in Lake County

Traffic congestion relief is important to all of Lake County. Traffic congestion continues to top the list of issues impacting the business climate in Lake County.

From now through Nov. 20, Lake County is conducting seven meetings to gather public input regarding traffic congestion problem locations. The primary purpose of the meetings is to give public officials and citizens an opportunity to comment on what they consider to be high priority projects for traffic congestion relief.

The meetings will be held at 7 p.m. on Monday, Nov. 15 at the Warren-Newport Public Library, 224 N. O'Plaine Rd., Gurnee; Tuesday, Nov. 16, at the Patty Turner Senior Center, 375 Elm St., Deerfield and the Lake Villa District Library, 1001 East Grand Avenue, Lake Villa; Wednesday, Nov. 17 at the County Building, 18 N. County St., Waukegan; Thursday, Nov. 18 at the Mundelein Fire Station, 1000 N. Midlothian Rd., Mundelein; 9 a.m. Saturday, Nov. 20 at the Wauconda Township Hall, 505 W. Bonner Road, Wauconda.

Feel free to attend any of the meetings at any location. Input from all the meetings will be compiled and considered by the Lake County Division of Transportation during the transportation planning process.

Due to time constraints, public comments will be limited to five minutes each for elected officials and organization representatives and three minutes each for individuals. Written comments of any length are welcome.

Thanks, in advance, for your cooperation. If you have questions or need additional information, please contact the Lake County Communications Office via phone 847-377-2550.

Shopping

'Chicago Neighborhood Tours' offers new holiday shopping excursion

Chicago Neighborhood Tours (CNT) invites Chicagoans and visitors to start their holiday shopping early with the unusual and sublime gifts found only at museum shops across the city. New for this gift-giving season, CNT will take guests via motor-coach to browse and purchase gifts at five unique shops on Saturday, Nov. 20 from 1 a.m.-2 p.m.

These five shops the tour will visit represent the city's diversity, many cultures, past, present and renowned arts and crafts tradition.

Holiday Shopping With Chicago Neighborhood Tours departs from the Chicago Cultural Center, 77 E. Randolph Street at Michigan Avenue. The cost is $25 for adults ($20 for seniors/ students) and includes refreshments. To book Holiday Shopping With Chicago Neighborhood Tours visit www.ChicagoNeighborhoodTours.com or call 312-742-1190.

Theater

'Very Eric Carle'

This November, the Mermaid Theatre of Nova Scotia will be present "Very Eric Carle" at Gorton Community Center, 400 East Illinois Road, Lake Forest, on Nov. 20 at 10 a.m. or 2 p.m. Tickets are $10. This production is geared to children aged pre-K through 3rd.

Following upon the international success of "The Very Hungry Caterpillar" and "The Very Quiet Cricket", Mermaid Theatre of Nova Scotia draws upon the magic of blacklight to capture the charm of three favorite Eric Carle stories. High up in a beautiful blue sky, a "Little Cloud" changes into various shapes of things he has seen. An adventurous trip to the zoo changing into different animals teaches "The Mixed-Up Chameleon" the importance of being true to oneself. In "The Very Busy Spider", a spider builds a web on a farmyard fence and ignores the playful banter of the barnyard animals. These whimsical tales are much beloved by several generations.

Performed on a blacklight stage, these stories are played out by invisible black-clad puppeteers, guiding fabulously fluorescent-hued puppet creations around the stage while a recorded narration tells the story and music accentuates the mood.

An incredible, kid-friendly, "non-shushing" show that will have you and your children mesmerized.

Interested participants should purchase tickets in advance. For further information, or to receive a program booklet, contact us at 847-234-6060, visit our website at www.gortoncenter.org, or stop by the Gorton office between 9 a.m. and 4:30 p.m., weekdays.

Workshop

Writing / publishing kids workshop

Writing and Publishing Workshop, for third-sixth graders, will be offered at Gorton Community Center, 400 East Illinois Road, Lake Forest on Friday and Saturday, November 12 and 13, from 9 a.m.-3 p.m. The cost of the program is $100, and students are advised to bring their own sack lunch. All other materials and a snack will be provided.

Interested persons should register and pay in advance. For further information, or to receive a program booklet, contact us at 847-234-6060, visit our website at www.gortoncenter.org, or stop by the Gorton office between 9 a.m. and 4:30 p.m., weekdays.

HOROSCOPE

ARIES - Mar 21/Apr 20

You've been mulling over a big decision lately, but trying to keep a lid on it so no one will know. Now is the time to let the cat out of the bag. Others will be surprised.

LIBRA - Sept 23/Oct 23

Stay at home most of the week and let someone close share the days with you, cuddling and rubbing your back. If you must venture out for supplies, hurry back soon.

TAURUS - Apr 21/May 21

This week you'll love nothing more than unwinding with a good friend. You'll have that opportunity now, since other responsibilities have been worked out.

SCORPIO - Oct 24/Nov 22

You keep many of your talents hidden from the general public, Scorpio. However, this week may be the time to show off some of your tricks. Expect the unexpected as a result.

GEMINI - May 22/June 21

A friend or family member could use some of your time. You have no problems pitching in, but don't devote all of your energy to his or her situation.

SAGITTARIUS - Nov 23/Dec 21

Slow down, Sagittarius, or you could find yourself backtracking to cover something you've forgotten. Now is not the time for racing, but rather for savoring the sights.

CANCER - Jun 22/Jul 22

Even if you don't think you're in the mood for a friendly conversation this week, Cancer, someone may change your mind very quickly. It could lead to romance.

CAPRICORN - Dec 22/Jan 20

Hurdles may seem high this week, but if you get a running start, you can clear them easily. This is especially true if you have someone on your side who is cheering you along.

LEO - Jul 23/Aug 23

It will take some cosmic forces to get you out of bed most of the week, Leo. That is, unless someone special is your reason to jump up and go. If not, rest up.

AQUARIUS - Jan 21/Feb 18

You've finally decided to spark up a conversation with someone you deal with on a daily basis. Just make sure that there are no jealous eyes watching from the wings.

VIRGO - Aug 24/Sept 22

You're in the mood for a romantic dinner, candlelight, soft music and more. If the timing is right, you won't be enjoying these luxuries alone. Keep yourself open.

PISCES - Feb 19/Mar 20

It will be next to impossible to keep your feelings to yourself. If they are good feelings, others will be enthralled with your enthusiasm.

from farms and orchards in Michigan and other Midwest states. Up until a few summers ago, Greg also used to run to and from Texas, Florida and Georgia hauling watermelon, tomatoes and other produce.

When autumn arrives, the market specializes in apples, squash, pumpkins and fresh honey, which is harvested from local hives.

Villiard said he has gotten to know several farmers throughout the country while attending the South Water Farmer's Market in Chicago every year.

"There's always farmers there and they know what you want and they get your telephone number and you get there's," he said. "As long as you're buying, they've got products to sell."

Their network with independent farmers has been scaled down over the past few years and is limited mainly to the Midwest now. Villiard sold the 24-foot truck that was used for the runs into the Deep South and has focused on product from closer farms.

He added that the most important element of the market's success has always been quality.

"You can't give them junk," he said. "They're not going to come for junk. You want to make sure your customers are happy and they got the right stuff."

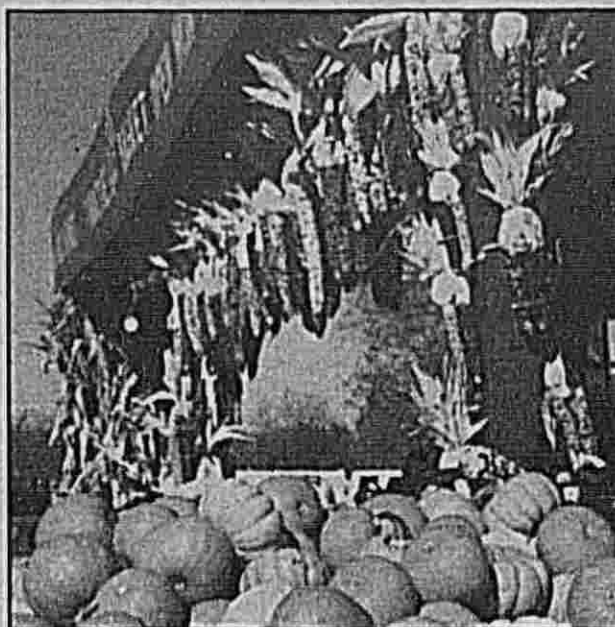

Villiard is now preparing for the home stretch before the market closes for the winter. Every November he and Greg make a trip to northern Wisconsin, where they pick up pine trees to sell for Christmas before closing December 23.

When the store closes for the season, Villiard and his wife leave their house on Fox Lake and head back up to northern Wisconsin, where they are originally from, and spend four months at their winter home in Park Falls.

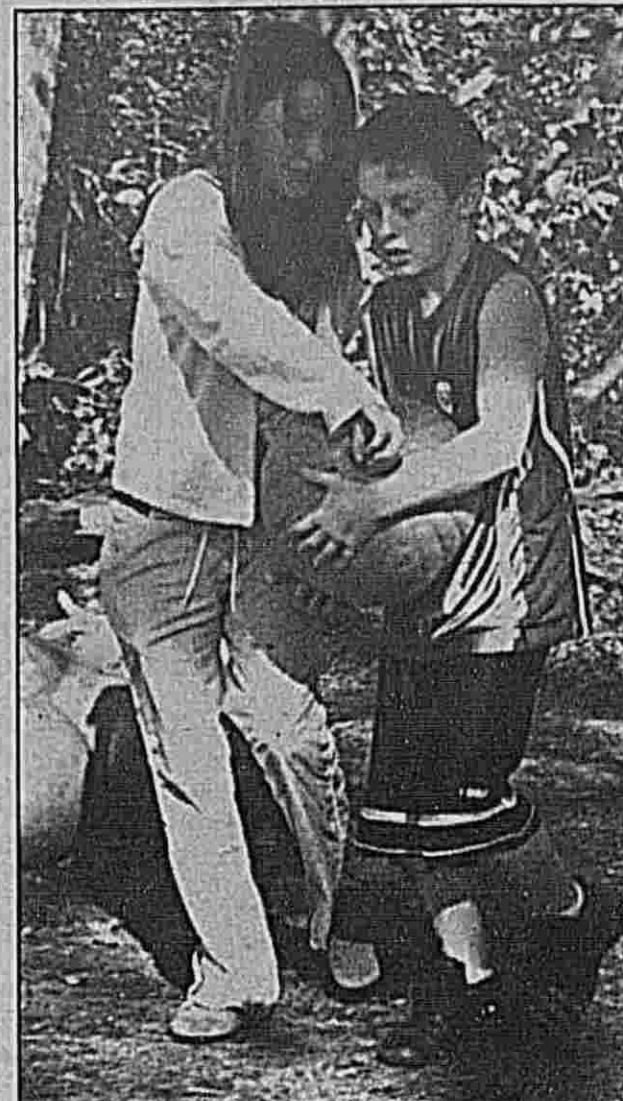

And when he comes back in mid-May to reopen the store that has been there for nearly four decades, he knows the regular customers will be there waiting for him.

"As long as you get good stuff the people will be there," he said. "It's an excellent business. The same people buy. We know what they want."

IHSA: Players involved could be suspended

By Nicholas Alajakis

Staff Reporter

Less than one year removed from a sectional championship, Waukegan's boys basketball program may face sanctions from the Illinois High School Association (IHSA) for possible violations of practice rules.

Waukegan is under investigation by the ISHA following an incident where players were found to be practicing prior to the Nov. 8 start date of the basketball season.

Executive Director of the IHSA Marty Hickman said his organization was tipped off last month that the basketball team was practicing at a Waukegan middle school gym.

The IHSA immediately followed up, and sent a staff member to Jack Benny Middle School, where Waukegan players were present.

A complete investigation into the incident has not yet been conducted, Hickman said.

The IHSA is looking to see if Waukegan broke any one of three rules.

The most major rule, and one that could lead to suspensions of players involved, is the "coaching school" rule.

IHSA prohibits any coaching in "sports theory or skill" prior to a sport's start date. At the middle school there were an unspecified amount of players present, Hickman said. Hickman also did not deny that an adult was present as well.

If it is found that the adult present was providing instruction to the players and there was clearly a violation of the rules, then players involved could face mandatory suspensions, Hickman said. Suspensions could range from one day to 365 out of competition for each player involved.

The coaching school rule is

Developer sued for accessibility

By Kyle Schmitt

Staff Reporter

The state's attorney general's office has filed a lawsuit alleging that a county housing development company failed to make its residential units suitable for individuals with mobility concerns, a legal action that the defendant derides as a government scam to make money.

Filed by Attorney General Lisa Madigan in Lake County Circuit Court on Nov. 1, the lawsuit alleges that Onan Super Suites, a condominium complex located at 3305 Sunset Ave. in Waukegan, provides no units that are accessible to people who use wheelchairs, a violation of state and federal law.

According to the lawsuit, the attorney general's office performed investigations determining that each of the 102 units had only a 27-inch wide bathroom door, making it difficult or impossible for someone in a wheelchair to pass through them. Every bathroom and most kitchens, the lawsuit alleges, contained insufficient floor-space for someone in a wheelchair to enter and maneuver within the facilities.

This legal action marks the first lawsuit filed by Madigan alleging a violation of the Federal Fair Housing Act, as well as the first to be filed under recent amendments to the Illinois Human Rights Act. The legislation gives the attorney general the right to file complaints alleging pattern and practice violations of the act directly in the Circuit Court.

The transgressions demohstrate that the property's developers, Onan and Onan, Inc., engaged in "a pattern of not obeying the law," said Illinois Attorney General's office press assistant Gail O'Connor.

"You would think that it would be even more necessary to make sure the disability laws are followed to the book, because these are the people that need it the most," O'Connor said.

Jim Onan, an officer in Onan and Onan, Inc., insists that the property was built in accordance with state law, as an architect contacted the state to ensure compliance before the building's construction in 1995.

Challenge for county chairs heats up

By Jeff Zachary

Staff Reporter

The general election may be over, but now the real politics begin to see who will end up as the Lake County Board chair and the Lake County Forest Preserve chair.

With 23 board members, 12 votes are needed to chair.

Sandy Cole (R-Grayslake) has announced she will challenge

Chairman Suzy Schmidt (R-Lake Villa) for the Lake County Chair and Schmidt is on record as saying she will support Audrey Nixon (D-North Chicago) for Lake County Forest Preserve chair over incumbent Bonnie Thomson Carter (R-Ingleside).

Carter: seeks to keep forest preserve chair

"A number of board members have asked me to run," Cole said. "I think it's a good thing and a healthy thing to do. Change is good. It helps keep the dynamics of a team working together. We have 23 members with a variety of talents. This is not just about one person."

Schmidt sounded confident that she will retain her position.

"You never say that you have it but I feel confident that I have the votes," Schmidt said. "But things change. I never take anything for granted."

When asked who she was supporting for forest preserve chair, Schmidt said, "I've said openly that I am going to be voting for Audrey Nixon," Schmidt said. "Actually Bonnie told me months ago that she was not interested and I committed my vote to Audrey. Since then she has changed her mind, which she can do."

Schmidt said that she doesn't really need any Democrat votes to keep her job. "But I find it's great to work with everybody. The county doesn't really have partisan issues and I am happy for that. I take pride that we all work together," Schmidt said.

Carter said she was definitely wanting to keep the forest preserve chair and had nothing against

time for a change.

Schmidt for declaring her support for Nixon. "Suzy gave her support to Audrey when she didn't think I was interested," Carter said.

The chair of the County board receives a salary of $68,000 which is double the amount of a trustee. The chair also receives a vehicle to use.

The chair of the forest preserve receives $10,000 more than a commissioner. The election will take place at a special meeting of the county board on Dec. 6.

Appeals court gives ruling on Grever case

The Illinois Appellate Second District Court affirmed three official misconduct charges against former Lake County Board Chairman Robert Grever, but vacated five others.

"We disagree with the court on the opinion to vacate," said George Strickland, head of the felony review division of Lake County State's Attorney's office.

In November, 2002, Grever was ordered by Lake County Circuit Court Judge Mary Schostok to repay the township $205,000 for a debit that a relative incurred at Winchester House. He did not tell the Ela Township Board in a timely manner, the court found.

Grever was accused of official misconduct during his term as supervisor of Ela Township. Grever owed the township $200,000, Lake County Circuit Court judge ruled. The appellate court gave its opinion Nov. 8.

"It is still a message of what happens when an elected official violates the trust of the people. Corruption is corruption is corruption," Strickland said.

"We will be filing a motion at the Second District court to re-hear the case. Of the eight charges, five have been reversed and he stands convicted on three. If the others are reversed, he may not have to pay and could get the amount that he has paid back," said Robert Will Jr., Grever's lawyer for the criminal case.

That re-hearing request will be filed in the next week, he said.

Grever still faces 90 days "straight time" in jail. Grever will be allowed to keep his pension. He served as Ela Township supervisor from 1981 to 2001. He was Lake County Board representative from 1990 to 2001.

Special meeting of county board

Pursuant to the provision of Illinois Compiled Statutes, Ch. 55, Par. 5/2-1002, a special meeting of the Lake County Board will be held in the County Board Room, 10th floor, County Building, 18 N. County St., in Waukegan on Monday, Dec. 6 at 9 a.m., for the purpose of electing a temporary chair of the Lake County Board; election of the chair of the Lake County Board; election of the vice chair of the Lake County Board; appointing a rules committee and setting Tuesday, Dec. 7, at 9 a.m., in the assembly room, for the rules committees first meeting, with additional meetings of the rules committee as needed scheduled for Wednesday, Dec. 8 at 9 a.m. and Thursday, Dec. 9, at 9 a.m. in the assembly room and setting Tuesday, Dec. 14 at 9 a.m., in the County Board room for the next County Board meeting which will be held for the purpose of adopting the County Board rules; appointing standing committee members and making other appointments as deemed necessary.

For this meeting reasonable accommodation will be made for disabled persons. This includes accommodation for the vision and hearing impaired if a request is made within 48 hours of the meeting time.

Church wins county's approval

By Jeff Zachary

Staff Reporter

Back in July the Lake County Zoning Board of Appeals voted to recommend that a group of Hindus called the Chinmaya Mission be granted a special use permit to build a church in unincorporated Round Lake, and now the full county board has also voted to approve.

The permit allows for a 16,000 square foot church to be built on 7.1 acres of land on Fairfield Road in Fremont Township. Board member Bob Powers (R-Round Lake Beach) expressed his opposition to the church moments before the votes were taken.

"I will be voting against this mainly because it's a terrible spot on the road. I don't know what we can possibly do where somebody's not going to get killed. It's just south of Route 60 on Fairfield Road and it's on a side of a hill. So I'm going to have to vote no because it's a major (traffic) safety issue," Powers said.

The vote passed 19 to 4.

After the meeting, Carole Stanley, the neighbor to the north of where the mission is to be built, and who has led the fight to oppose the mission, commented on the decision.

"I'm disappointed. Our biggest concern is the safety. The traffic is horrible and I find it difficult to believe that a 100 car parking lot is going to make things safer," Stanley said.

Attorney Terry Wepler represented the Chinmaya Mission throughout the three public hearing and at all the committee meetings.

"We are very happy," Wepler said. "We did what we had to do have the least impact on our neighbors. Of, course there is always some impact. We want to be good neighbors and we will be."

After the vote, Ashok V. Bhatia, a member of Chinmaya said, "It has been a long haul but we are very excited. We are looking to start (break ground) sometime next spring. We will now get our heads together and start planning," Bhatia said.

ALOOKBACK

Lake County history from the Lakeland Archives

10 YEARS AGO • 1994

A Round Lake teen was beaten with baseball bats following an incident at Kristoffs in Round Lake. Two teens were arrested on aggravated battery charges. Another six were arrested for disorderly conduct. Police believed that the incident was gang related.

An Antioch industrial company was charged with polluting Sequoit Creek. Circuit Systems Inc., a manufacturer of circuit boards, was charged with "water pollution and operation of a hazardous waste storage facility without a permit."

15 YEARS AGO • 1989

Competitive gymnastics at Grayslake High School were eliminated from the curriculum. Few at the board meeting to discuss gymnastics' future voiced a concern against cutting the program. The gymnastics coach blamed the lack of a "feeder system" at the school.

Motorola Inc. was looking to purchase land in Libertyville to manufacture cellular telephones. An 87-acre site near the intersection of Route 45 and Winchester Road was being looked at.

25 YEARS AGO • 1979

Round Lake Beach police were investigating the possibility that an eighth grader received gum or candy laced with drugs during her trick-or-treat rounds on Halloween night. Drugs were suspected because of the girl's "actions and behavior." Police were still waiting results from the crime lab.

A Grayslake teen was stabbed during a fight at a party. The 17-year-old was allegedly stabbed during a fight over a girl. The suspect fled on foot. Lake County Sheriff's Deputies were investigating the incident.

Congressman Phil Crane, who at that time resided in Mt. Prospect, announced his plans to run for president the following year.

Herniated Disc?

Lindenhurst, IL -According to a recently released Herniated Disc pain relief report, most people suffering from a herniated disc have no idea how to eliminate their pain. Some use heat, others ice. Some people try surgery. From sleeping on the floor, to pillows underneath the legs, herniated disc pain relief techniques vary. But thanks to a free report, local herniated disc sufferers finally know exactly what to do.

Republican voters leave their roots

Victories of three Democratic candidates in the Nov. 2 election are being studied closely for indications whether new voting patterns have emerged among Republican electors in Lake County. Strong Democratic totals scored for offices at three levels—federal, state and county—portend significant change.

Lake County Republicans displayed a strong aversion to their candidate for U.S. Senate and helped contribute to the 3.4 million votes collected by Democrat Barack Obama. An Associated Press exit poll found that four out of 10 Republicans voted for Obama, a liberal state senator from the South Side of Chicago. Democrat Melissa Bean received support of normally Republican voters in ousting incumbent GOP Congressman Phil Crane in a district long regarded as staunchly conservative and heavily Republican. Normally dependable Republican voters helped defeat their party's nominee for coroner, James Wipper, in favor of Dr. Richard Keller, by 919 votes.

Although Wipper was a long-time deputy coroner and well qualified, he ran approximately 40,000 votes behind other county incumbents in what appeared to be voter punishment for questionable administrative decisions that became campaign issues. Wipper was a first time candidate. Crane carried the reliably McHenry County GOP portion of the 8th Congressional District, but just enough Republicans in Lake County and the Cook County parts of the district were tired of Crane to put their conservative instincts aside in preference for a fresh face. It's highly doubtful that the 8th District has become a bastion of liberalism in one election.

Racking up 70 percent of the vote, Obama can truly lay claim to being a "senator for all the people of Illinois." Only time will tell whether the new senator will be able to fend off the siren song of national politics to tend to the needs of the people who elected him. Indications are that the attractive young Democrat will face heavy distractions.

More local say so good for road work

Highway building in Illinois always has been a top-down process with the Springfield bureaucracy calling the shots on how, when and where, and in what quantity new roads will be built.

The exceptions to this broad brush generalization are counties like Lake with sufficient resources to operate a professional highway department and municipalities conducting piece-meal local street improvements. Most Illinois townships maintain highway departments for maintenance of rural roadways. Even these units operate under the close supervision of the Illinois Dept. of Transportation headquartered in Springfield because a large percentage of funding is tied to motor fuel taxes collected and dispensed by the state.

There are other ways of funding and building new highways. A new decentralized approach is being implemented in Texas where eight regions in the state have been created to build much needed new roadways. In essence, each region is largely on its own using public funds for road building. Texas voters in 2001 created the Texas Mobility Fund, a bonding mechanism to raise funds for urban highway building to relieve traffic congestion in major population areas. Local leaders are empowered to prioritize how dollars will be used to reduce congestion.

The regional plan replaces a system where cities and counties had to go begging to the state for construction money. If such a plan were to be put in place in Illinois, IDOT would become more of a support organization rather than its current czar-like status. Picture IDOT providing engineering assistance and management support in a northeastern Illinois region rather than having the last word on how Lake County digs itself out of morning and evening commuter time gridlock.

As a practical matter, Texas has relied heavily on toll roads for moving its burgeoning metro population, scrapping a pay-as-you-go philosophy that sounds a lot like the way new roads are built in Illinois. Tollway expansion isn't popular at all in Illinois, but a decentralized system for building new roads has merit and is worth looking at. With more local input, bet that there would be more focus on upgrading Lake County's east-west highway net work rather than arguing whether more north-south arterials are the answer.

Prairie Crossing, the nationally recognized conservation community located on Rte. 45, continues to forge ahead by keeping roots implanted in the past.

Reminders of a rural past abound at Prairie Crossing, where ground was broken this week for the final single family home to be built. A total of 359 single family dwellings co-exist with trails, wetlands, lakes, prairies, farm fields. With a sprinkling of Frank Lloyd Wright prairie-style architecture, most of the homes built in the last 10 years are mindful of Victorian or farm houses located in Lake County in the early part of the last century.

Next to be unveiled will be 36 condominiums in Station Square with access to Rte. 137 at the intersection of two commuter rail lines, Metra North and North Central. Condo residents will be able to walk to the two stations like North Shore residents of years ago and residents of Libertyville and Mundelein when commuter rail service sparked development in the 1920's.

Both lines provide commuters a choice of 50 trains a day. The two stations have combined parking space for 1,700 cars.

The condo area will look a lot like Sheridan Rd. winding its way through the North Shore with shops on the ground floor and living quarters above. That should be appealing to buyers desiring to combine upscale living with convenience. The design is no accident, according to Vickie Ranney, who along with her husband, George, are the founders of Prairie Crossing and Prairie Holdings, the corporate parent of the complex located within the boundaries of Grayslake, but adjacent to Libertyville where the rail stations are located. Ranney said a substantial proportion of the condo buyers are expected to come from the North Shore.

Prairie Crossing may be the only residential development in the last 50 years in Metro Chicago to incorporate old-fashioned "Chicago-style" alleys are part of the design. An alley provides garage access to a number of homes built around a neighborhood "green." Neighborliness is enhanced by the porches fronting on quiet streets.

Residents are on a first name basis with resident farmers Matt and Peg Schaeffer, two Wisconsin organic growers who keep residents supplied with fresh produce summer and fall from a 15-acre vegetable farm. Holding to the "turn-back-the-clock" theme Prairie Crossing has a horse barn and paddock and its own school.

Lake County is unique for a broad range of housing styles that fit just about every taste and pocketbook. Prairie Crossing provides a unique look and lifestyle emphasizing that the best of the past is never out of style.

Tides avoid midwest

Recently, my wife and I enjoyed traveling on a cruise ship. Along with the usual shore excursions and great food, I attended a series of enhancement lectures (aboard the ship). I learned a great deal about tides and waves at these lectures.

Tides are due to magnetic attractions between the moon and the earth, and can range from six inches to 58 feet.

In ancient history the Roman fleet, at their invasion of Gaul (France) tied their ships on the Atlantic coast and were surprised to encounter much higher tides than the six inches they were used to on the Mediterranean Sea. These higher tides surprised them and grounded or floated their boats away.

By World War II, in the D-Day invasion of Europe, the tides, along with weather were a critical factor. The invasion required a low tide due to obstacles placed in the water.

Another example was at the invasion of Tarawa, (a Pacific Island). Strategically it was necessary to attack this island through a lagoon on the backside. A high tide was required to clear the reef blocking the entrance to the lagoon.

An interesting tidal phenomenon is the reversing of the St. John River (at St. John, New Brunswick, Canada) where it enters the Bay of Fundy. The immense tides (28 feet) overpower the flow of the river causing it to actually flow backwards two times daily. This is quite a tourist site. The highest tide in the world is thought to be 58 feet at the mouth of the Petitcodiac River, where it joins the Bay of Fundy. Fortunately boaters in the Midwest do not have to deal with tides.

COMMENTARY

Put lid on trial lawyer money pot

By William R. Storino

Stem Cell research was not discussed much in the campaign, but should have. John Kerry got a lot of mileage out of saying that President Bush has banned stem cell research. That's a bold face lie.

President Bush is the first President to fund this research as well as nanotechnology research. Stem Cell research encompasses adult stem cells (the most promising), umbilical cord stem cells and embryo stem cells. The only one restricted not banned is embryo stem cells. Kerry trumpeted his lie about the ban for months. Stem cells are being researched now both publicly funded and privately funded. Stem cells could be the most promising medical breakthrough in the 21st century.

But, the most promising medical breakthrough of the 20th century is in trouble, which is Immunizations. It is not in trouble because of poor research or lack of knowledge, it is in trouble because of the trial lawyers. Back in the 80s there was 25 company's producing the needed immunizations. Because of the greed of the trial lawyers this number is down to 4 or 5 companies. Our Country will not have enough Flu-vaccine for the population. We only have one American company making this vaccine, amazing. Congress two years ago proposed liability protection for these immunizations companies. Mr. Kerry and the Democrats killed this bill. They did it not to protect the people but to protect their trial lawyer contributors. I care about the health of my kids not the pockets of the trial lawyers. The Democrats need to step up and put the people ahead of the trial lawyers. If they don't, the most promising medical breakthrough of the 21st century, will go the way of the most promising medical breakthrough of the 20th century and become another money pot for the trial lawyers. Kerry and Mr. Edwards didn't care about the medical benefits of stem cells but how much cash they can get into the pockets of their trial lawyer contributors!

PARTY LINES

THIS COLUMN OF POLITICAL OPINION IS PREPARED FROM STAFF REPORTS

Oak tree's demise to spark new law

The stage is being set for the City of Waukegan to join the growing list of suburban communities with tree preservation laws.

Ald. Tony Figueroa would like to see a "tree hugging" movement sweep the city. If Mayor Dick Hyde isn't totally subscribing to Figueroa's enthusiasm, he's solidly in favor of a strict ordinance controlling tree cutting.

The felling of a stately oak regarded as a neighborhood treasure has sparked action to adopt an ordinance that would require permits to cut down trees and stiff fines for violations. Hyde has targeted adoption of a tree protection ordinance this coming spring.

Figueroa: Love for trees surfaces in debate on new law.

Tenzi: Campaign hijinks disturb candidate in Nov. election.

Wants reappointment

Before leaving on a post-election vacation, County Board Rep. Judy Martini (R-Antioch) voiced hope of continuing as chairman of the Planning, Building and Zoning Committee when the board reorganizes in December. Martini called special attention to needed improvements in permitting. Martini won a more than two to one plurality over Democrat Spiro Georgeson.

Tenzi bashes Democrats

After losing her bid for 60th District state representative, Republican candidate Susan Tenzi accused local Democratic leadership of engaging in a "very ugly" pattern of deception that leads to voters "getting screwed." She said that State Senator Terry Link (D-Waukegan) had announced the procurement of $29 million for a bridge connecting Washington St. to the lakefront several years ago, and asked what happened to the money. Democrats tell voters they must be elected as a team in order to affect change, she said, and give their constituents nothing in return. "These people are very, very dirty birdies, and have been for a very long time," Tenzi also claimed Election Day improprieties took place at polling places, and questioned the legality of one specific practice. She said that a man was handing out sample ballots with only Democratic Party candidates' names "less than 14 feet" from the ballot box, even when voters didn't ask for them, at Carman-Buckner Elementary School.

Volunteers sought

Fact-finding volunteers are being sought for appointment as special advocates in Lake County Juvenile Court for abused children. Adults chosen will complete approximately 40 hours of training. Judges look to CASA reports (Court Appointed Special Advocates) for insights into the child's behavior. Interested persons are invited to call 847-808-9154.

Election analysis

Dr. Gene Stanaland, nationally known economist, will provide an analysis of the November election at the annual meeting of Lake County Partners at 7:30 a.m. Thursday, Nov. 18, at Crown Plaza Mundelein. Stanaland has a reputation for applying wit to the "dreary science." Carl R.

Tannenbaum, senior vice president/ chief economist La Salle Bank Corp., also will speak. Partners combines private business with county and village government to promote the local economy.

Waiting for question

Now that Round Lake Area Library Board President Steven Skinner of Round Lake has lost the battle for the Lake County District 6 board seat to Larry Leafblad of Highland Lake, Skinner is contemplating his political future. When asked by a reporter if he would consider running on a ticket as a trustee with Round Lake Mayor Bill Gentes, Skinner said, "I really don't know. I haven't been asked."

Party switch

Rumors abound that Lake County District 8 Board member Robert Sabonjian (D-Waukegan) is going to switch parties and run as a Republican for Mayor of Waukegan.

Debate clerk's job

Mundelein village board members are discussing the restructuring of the village clerk's position.

Trustee Raymond Semple opposed the idea of reorganization because of the timing of the change in reference to the spring election. In addition to changing the role of how the village clerk will function, Semple said there could be three new trustees, a new mayor and a new administrator.

"The only sure thing is that Trustee Voss, Trustee Sullivan and myself will be here. I don't believe it's prudent to change until there's a new village administrator," Semple said.

After the meeting, Kenneth Marabella said he had no formal announcement at this time about retirement.

"I'm considering it for next year. I expect to have an announcement shortly," he said. Marabella will have served Mundelein for 30 years in January.

Republican gain

"With Barack Obama being like a rock star, and as well as John Kerry did in Illinois, I think we did outstanding to gain two House seats and one Senate seat," said Illinois Republican Mark Beaubien (R-Barrington Hills). Beaubien was re-elected over challenger Larry Felgen in the 52nd District, serving Wauconda, Round Lake and some of Fox Lake areas.

Power struggle

County Board member Anne Maine (R-Lincolnshire) said this to members of the Libertyville Township Board and audience at the Oct. 28 Township Board meeting, as she updated progress on radium levels in some county wells: "It's all smoke and mirrors," Maine said. "It's definitely a power issue between the municipalities and the county."

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Sign treatment says a lot about politics

We would like to congratulate Larry Leafblad on his victory for Lake County Board. We were honored to help Larry with some of his election campaigning this year, and placed many campaign signs throughout his district.

However we were very disappointed with some of his opponent's campaign strategies. It seems that some of Steve Skinner campaign helpers took great joy in taking down Larry Leafblad signs and replacing them with Steve Skinner signs.

We are not just assuming this is what happened, we actually saw this happen in two locations where no other candidate signs were located.

Not only were signs destroyed, but Skinner signs were placed directly in front of Leafblad signs covering the entire sign.

So I guess this letter goes out to those people who took great joy in their destruction and childish behavior, to remember the people of Lake County want honest and fair Board Members to represent them, not members who think by running an unfair sign campaign and destroying their opponents signs makes them the better man.

Grow up, and take a few lessons from Larry. Maybe next time you will remember, it's your record people admire not your signs.

Randy/Donna Wagner
Round Lake Park

Residence changed

Congressman Phil Crane is to be congratulated and thanked for his many years of service to the people of the State of Illinois. At a time of a great Republican victory it is unfortunate that voters in the Eighth Congressional District have taken up residence in the minority party rather than a presence and a voice in the majority party of President Bush and House Speaker Hastert. Thank you Congressman Crane.

Joseph S. Keller
Johnsburg

Osmond applauded

I would like to compliment JoAnn Osmond.

As you know, I have been openly critical of the leadership in the Republican Party of Lake County, so much so it earned me the dubious title of Lake County's Maverick Republican.

However, JoAnn and Cheryl Johnson have taken the bull by the horns in Lake County's Republican organization, helped fill the ranks of new precinct committeemen, promoted a teen concept, opened up the dialogue and created a much more effective group as I see it.

From my perspective, a committeeman from Avon Township where I have had outstanding support, the most dramatic example of improvement has been in Warren Township. The precincts there were a significant key to my victory and the leadership of Brian Winters is something to behold, given the history of Warren Township.

But, I give the credit to JoAnn. A few years ago, people may remember I publicly lambasted the outfit for not bringing in a majority for the Republican presidential ticket. I heard excuses. The reaction was to attack me.

JoAnn spotted the problems after the "dueling conventions" in the spring and hit the ground running. I was skeptical. She did it. And, as the Illinois party begins to hear its wake-up call, their new leader might look to the Lake County example for a road map.

More is still to be done. The job is not finished. But, everyone including myself loves to play on a good team. I like what I see. The countywide election results were nearly what we wanted to see. People are showing a genuine respect for one another. This is a good thing, and I tip my hat to State Rep. JoAnn Osmond, County Republican chair.

Larry Leafblad
Avon Township 31,
Lake County Board-Elect Grayslake

Mixing abortion politics

I have seen articles and recently a mailer sent to my home questioning Congressman Crane's concern for our environment. My understanding is Mr. Crane's votes are for exploring and tapping into not just oil but also natural gas, which cleanly fuels many electric power plants. If the environmental lobby truly cared about the earth instead of partisan politics, we would do our drilling right here in America where our environmental rules would apply and the best technology and funding is available. Why do we insist on having the Middle East monarchies or nearly bankrupt countries such as Russia and Mexico do our energy "dirty work?"

I am disgusted with the campaign mailer that criticizes Mr. Crane's efforts to deal with contaminated drinking water in Wauconda Township. Mr. Crane has prepared the Water Act of 2004 for submission to Congress which provides $6 million for remedial action. Also, the Wauconda Superfund site has already been capped and contained as per EPA instructions. I know this because as a resident of the Hillcrest subdivision, which is the focal point of the drinking water contamination, I have attended all government public meetings.

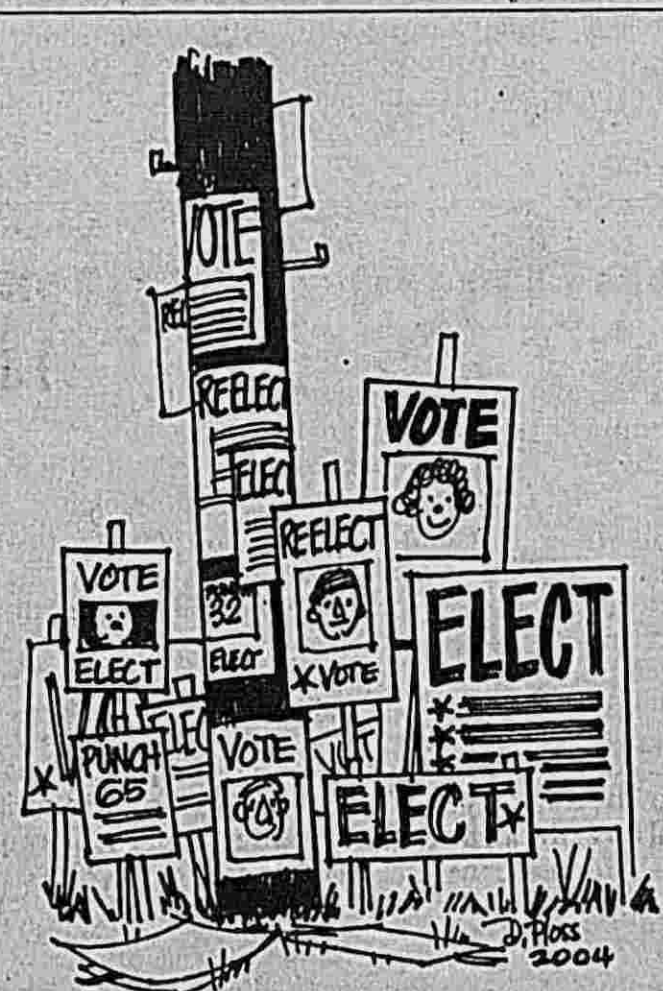

Lastly, I find it curious that this drinking water flyer slamming Mr. Crane is paid for by Emily's List, an activist, organization which supports only pro-abortion women candidates. Personally, I doubt their concern for our local drinking water issues.

Flu vaccine updates

Health Department plans flu clinics

Thanks to the national redistribution of available Aventis flu vaccine, the Lake County Health Department/Community Health Center expects to receive several vaccine shipments during November. When the supply is fully in hand, three to five flu clinics will be scheduled in geographically dispersed areas in Lake County. Appointments will be required to obtain a flu shot through these clinics. Phone numbers for making appointments will be publicized at a later date. The Health Department currently is not taking any appointments.

Due to the current uncertainty as to how much vaccine will actually be delivered, the Health Department might need to restrict appointments to persons with underlying chronic medical conditions, the elderly, and children 6 to 23 months old. Details will be forthcoming. The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention is trying to assure that all state and local health departments receive a fair share of available vaccine.

The Health Department continues to encourage residents to practice good habits to help prevent the spread of respiratory illnesses, like the flu, such as:

- Avoid close contact with people who are sick.
- Stay home when you are sick.
- Cover your mouth and nose with a tissue when coughing or sneezing.
- Wash your hands frequently, especially before and after meals, and after coughing or sneezing.
- Avoid touching your eyes, nose and mouth whenever possible.

The Health Department's Immunization Program continues to maintain a hotline (recorded message), which provides information on general vaccination availability. The hotline number is: 847-377-8470.

Condell provides county with vaccine

After receiving its second shipment of flu vaccine this season, Condell Medical Center made 58 vials (580 doses) of it available to the Lake County Health Department. Condell sold the vaccine at cost, and the health department expressed their thanks.

Condell was one of several employers in Lake County who received a letter from the health department asking them to consider making any doses they could spare available to the county agency, which was forced to suspend its flu shot clinics this fall. Because of the national shortage of flu vaccine, the Lake County Health Department did not receive its anticipated shipment of the vaccine, and Condell wanted to help the health department meet the needs of the highest risk patients in the county.

Condell saved additional doses of flu vaccine for patients who are hospitalized and still need the vaccine this flu shot season.

Lake Forest Hospital offers vaccine to county

Lake Forest Hospital is making 500 doses of flu vaccine available to the Lake County Health Department. The hospital is offering to sell these doses to the health department at its original cost (about $8 per dose).

Lake Forest Hospital President Bill Ries was one of several Lake County employers to receive a letter from the health department asking them to consider making any doses they could spare available to the county agency, which was forced to suspend its flu shot clinics this fall. Due to the national shortage of flu vaccine, the Lake County Health Department did not receive its anticipated shipment of the vaccine.

Lake Forest Hospital immunized about 500 persons 65 years of age and older free of charge during its annual Senior Flu Shot Clinic at the hospital on Oct. 27.

In addition, the hospital's mobile health unit, the CareCoach, provided at least 350 free flu shots in accordance with CDC guidelines during visits the week of Oct. 25 to the Libertyville Senior Center, the Grayslake Senior Center and Gurnee Village Hall.

AROUND THE COUNTY

Adult, Juvenile probation divisions honored

Probation officers and programs of both adult and juvenile probation divisions of the 19th Judicial Circuit, Lake County, were recently honored at the annual Illinois Probation and Court Services Association (IPCSA) Conference held in Chicago.

Lake County's Adult Probation Division won the first annual Innovative Leadership Award for Group Reporting. Group Reporting allows lower risk offenders to fulfill court ordered reporting requirements by attending educational classes in collaboration with the College of Lake County and the Citizens Volunteer Assistance Program. Group Reporting is administered by Assistant Directors Cheryl Reese and Casey Farrow and includes probation officers Beverly Brooks, Tom Kimmel, Jose Alcala and Rudy Martin.

Adult Probation Assistant Director Scott Summers was presented with the S. William Ettinger Award for his contributions to IPCSA. Also recognized at the conference were two juvenile probation officers; namely, Cheryl Gilleran and Cristina Figueroa. Distinguished Service Awards were presented to Cheryl and Cristina for their work with gender specific programming. This is an innovative program which is named "GIRLS" (Guidance In Real Life Situations) that involves female officers working exclusively with adolescent girl clients in addressing issues that are unique to them.

Organizations earn grants

Two community-based organizations, whose work benefits the disabled and provides healthcare for the uninsured in Lake County communities, have received grants totaling $55,000 from the Catholic Campaign for Human Development, according to the Archdiocese of Chicago, which collects and distributes funds each year through an annual Sunday collection in November. A $25,000 award was made to Lake County Center for Independent Living, and a $30,000 grant went to HealthReach Incorporated.

Lake County Center for Independent Living (LCCIL) will use its grant to address the needs of approximately 75,000 people with disabilities living in Lake County. Run by and for people with disabilities, the Center's Community Access Program encourages people with disabilities to be agents of change for their own health care, residential, education, employment and recreational opportunities.

Tutor orientation set

Registration is currently being accepted for the Lake County Adult Learning Connection's volunteer tutor orientation slated to begin at 7 p.m., on Nov. 16. The two hour introduction will be held at the Adult Learning and Technology Center, 2416 W. Washington in Waukegan. Individuals interested in becoming volunteer tutors must attend the orientation.

Participants will learn about volunteer opportunities available in teaching adults basic literacy skills or in teaching adults who want to learn to speak English. To register for the orientation call Susan at 847-543-2024.

Goodwill receives award

Anixter Center honored Goodwill Services at the Great Lakes Naval Training Center with its Employer of the Year Award on Oct. 29 at Hilton Chicago and Towers. Jackie Hallberg, Goodwill Services senior of vice president, accepted the award at Anixter Center's 25th Annual Awards Luncheon.

"You have provided us with a number of wonderful employees who are part of the team," Hallberg said. "This is sincerely a wonderful honor, and we look forward to working with you in the future."

Anixter Center's mission is to assist people with disabilities to live and work successfully in the community. It operates 70 programs in 35 locations in the Chicago area and annually serves more than 5,000 individuals with disabilities. Goodwill Services has hired 23 people through Anixter Center since 2002 to work in its food service operation.

Judge opening draws 19

Chief Judge Margaret J. Mullen announced that 19 attorneys have filed applications for the associate judge vacancy created by the upcoming retirement of Associate Judge Terrence J. Brady on Dec. 31.

Attorneys seeking the appointment are sole practitioners Martin A. Blumenthal of Highland Park, Mark B. Peavey of Waukegan, Patrick J. Quilty of Gurnee, and Robert S. Smith Jr. of Deerfield.

Other applicants include Michael B. Betar of Lindenhurst, an associate in the law offices of Churchill, Baumgartner and Quinn Ltd.; Joann M. Fratianni-Atsaves of Lake Forest, arbitrator and former Commissioner of the Illinois Industrial Commission; Charles D. Johnson of Buffalo Grove, a partner in the firm of Magna and Johnson; Jay R. Orlowski of Mundelein, an associate in the law offices of Thomas J. Popovich P.C.; Peter M. Schlax of Mundelein, a partner in the firm of Sullivan, Smith, Hauser and Noonan LTD; James K. Simonian of Libertyville, an associate in the law offices of Stephen Simonian, and Perry S. Smith Jr. of Libertyville, a partner in the firm of Wysocki and Smith. Adam Bottner of Buffalo Grove, an Assistant Attorney General; Charles E. Ex of Deerfield, an Assistant U.S. Attorney; and five Lake County Assistant State's Attorneys have also applied, namely, Michael G. Mermel of Antioch; Daniel B. Shanes of Mundelein; George D. Strickland of Riverwoods; Christopher R. Stride of Lake Bluff; and Nancy Schuster Waites of Mundelein.

The applicants will be interviewed by the Circuit Judges and they will be evaluated by the Lake County Bar Association. Public comment by letter is invited on or before Dec. 1 and should be addressed to: Chief Judge, Lake County Courthouse, 18 N. County St., Waukegan, IL 60085-4359.

After the review process has been completed, the Circuit Judges will select by ballot vote that will be returned to and tallied by the Administrative Office of the Illinois Courts in Springfield.

Traffic meetings coming

Until Nov. 20, Lake County is conducting seven meetings to gather public input regarding traffic congestion problem locations.

"The primary purpose of the meetings is to give people an opportunity to comment on what they consider to be high priority projects for traffic congestion relief," said County Administrator Barry Burton. "The County is interested in hearing about all traffic congestion concerns, not just issues involving County roads."

The meetings will be held as follows:

- 7 p.m., Nov. 10, The Arboretum Club, 401 Half Day Road, Buffalo Grove
- 7 p.m., Nov. 15, Warren-Newport Public Library, 224 N. O'Plaine Rd., Gurnee

Geo-Karis warns of fraud

State Sen. Adeline Geo-Karis (R-Zion) was recently notified of a consumer scam and is cautioning all members of the 31st District to be wary when giving money to unknown solicitors.

Recently a constituent received a letter claiming that she had won $100,000. To support this claim the "company" sent the victim a $5,000 check, instructed her to deposit it and wait for the check to clear. The deceptive party explained that a Federal Express worker would come by her home to pick up $4,200 in cash, allegedly intended to cover taxes and fees on the $100,000 she "won."

When the Federal Express worker came to pick up the money, the check had not yet cleared the woman's bank account. Assuming the $5,000 was legitimate and she would eventually be compensated, the victim used $4,200 from her personal account. Unfortunately the $5,000 check she received bounced, and the victim was scammed for $4,200.

Senator Geo-Karis warns that this fraudulent activity was particularly convincing because the faux "Federal Express" worker was driving what appeared to be a legitimate Federal Express vehicle, and was wearing convincing Federal Express apparel.

Geo-Karis advises area residents, particularly seniors—who are often the target of fraudulent activity—to be cautious when being solicited by an unknown vendor, or purchasing items from an unfamiliar merchant. She encourages anyone who believes they have been contacted by this false organization to notify local law enforcement and the Attorney General's office immediately.

A consumer complaint form is available at www.ag.state.il.us/consumers/index.html, and reports of fraud can be made using the Consumer Fraud hotline at 800/243-0618.

Expect controlled burns throughout month

As part of a comprehensive district-wide land management program, Lake County Forest Preserve staff will be conducting controlled burns to restore woodlands, savannas, prairies, and wetlands throughout Lake County this fall.

Weather permitting, controlled burns will begin in November and continue through January. Burns are prescribed to increase the number of native flowers and trees, recycle nutrients in the soil, reduce thatch, control invasive species, and reduce the risk of wildfires.

Last year's controlled burn program helped safely bring the benefits of fire to nearly 2,000 acres in Forest Preserves throughout Lake County.

Controlled burns mimic the natural fires that historically occurred in Lake County. They decrease invasive woody plants, remove dead leaves, and expose the soil and seeds to the sun's rays early in the growing season. This encourages native plants to grow more vigorous and to produce more flowers and seed. Wildlife populations are adapted to survive the burns. Most animals are safe underground or high up in trees; others move out of the way to avoid fires. Controlled burns are conducted outside the breeding season of wildlife.

Natural areas being managed by controlled burns are showing resurgences. Woodland sites, which are generally targeted in the fall for controlled burns, are showing signs of recovery as a result of past controlled burns. In many woodland areas, plants have shown positive responses to controlled burns.

Controlled burns are the most cost efficient management tool available to land managers. Forest Preserve staff and volunteers complete intensive training before conducting controlled burns to ensure that proper safety measures are taken to protect people, facilities, plants and animals in the Preserves and surrounding properties.

Forest Preserves under consideration for fall controlled burns include new sites like Ethel's Woods near Antioch and Singing Hills near Volo, and other high quality or habitat restoration areas like Middlefork Savanna near Lake Forest, Wadsworth Savanna near Wadsworth, Cuba Marsh near Barrington, Wright Woods near Mettawa, Rollins Savanna near Grayslake, Ryerson Conservation Area near Deerfield, Grant Woods near Fox Lake, Sun Lake near Lake Villa, Berkeley Prairie near Highland Park and others.

Look in the Preserves section of the Forest Preserves website at www.LCFPD.org for daily controlled burns announcements. Here you can find which Preserve is scheduled to receive a controlled burn, and you can learn more about the Forest Preserves entire land management program.

Local fire and police departments are notified before and after each controlled burn. Forest Preserve staff closely monitor each burn with appropriate safety equipment and, if necessary, stay overnight at the site until the fire is completely out. Wind and other weather conditions are monitored daily to help determine which Preserves are selected for prescribed burns.

This year, several Lake County fire department staff will join Forest Preserve burn crews in the field to receive specialized wildfire training to improve their skills when responding to fires that may happen in natural areas under their jurisdiction.

For a FREE set of brochures on the Forest Preserve controlled burn program and other natural resource management efforts, call the Lake County Forest Preserve General Offices at 847-367-6640, or visit its website at www.LCFPD.org.

LAWSUIT

ity concerns if it is three stories tall or less, Onan said. He believes that the lawsuit stems from a dispute over whether the property's underground parking lot counts as a story, which, if so, would make the building four stories tall.

Though a state representative originally told him that the garage would not be counted as a story, Onan said, a state board member later wrote an opinion defining such lots as stories. He said he has never spoken to anyone who considered the garage a story, and believes the lawsuit exemplifies the state's inability to translate its own laws.

"They're saying no matter that you got the opinions or that he said that it wasn't a story, I'm wrong."

Onan said the attorney general's office wanted him to put money into escrow, which would allow funds to be withdrawn when tenants requested renovations related to mobility concerns. Whatever money remained in the account after three years would go to the state, Onan said, spurring his belief that the lawsuit results from the state government wanting to make money. "They don't think I did this purposely, they think I'm stupid."

HOOPS

the only one that mandates action against athletes.

A violation in which the school or coaches could be punished is the "season limitation rule." Each sport has limitations on when practices may begin or end, Hickman said. Under IHSA rules, boy's basketball players were not allowed to organize for a practice prior to Nov. 8.

Almost any contact by a coach and players outside of school hours is prohibited prior to the start dates, Hickman said.

If player do organize on their own – and this is where the third rule comes into play they may only do so for 25 days over the summer, or in "open gyms" hosted by the high school.

Practicing at Jack Benny would not count as an open gym session, Hickman said, because it is not on high school grounds. Only an open gym at the East or West campus would qualify, he added.

Waukegan Athletic Director Rolly Vazquez

In the lawsuit, Madigan's office alleges that Onan Super Suites must have a required number of adaptable units, which can be converted at minimal expense into fully accessible units. The facility would be required to have 21 adaptable units, though it currently has none.

The units cannot be expanded to comply with the mandated space considerations, Onan said. Given 30 days to respond to the lawsuit, he plans to fight the attorney general's accusations in court.

In addition to the aforementioned improvements, the lawsuit requests that the developer also lower cabinets and bathroom mirrors in the units, lengthen the bathroom grab-bars and widen the complex lot's parking spaces, as there is currently insufficient room for a vehicle's disability lift to be deployed.

Penalties have been requested of $250 per day of violation and $10,000 for violation of the Human Rights Act. The lawsuit also asks the court to order the defendant to immediately correct the violations and convert 21 units to comply with Human Rights Act and Fair Housing Act standards.

said Tuesday he is familiar with the situation at hand. The school is cooperating with the IHSA during the investigation.

Vazquez would not comment on what adults were present at the gym, saying only that it was not a coach.

Coaches at the high school are familiar with the rules, as they are reviewed with them periodically, Vazquez said.

Hickman said he hopes to finish up the investigation within 10 days. Until then there is no saying whether Waukegan did or didn't violate a rule.

Violations of IHSA rules, particularly those involving practice dates, happen, Hickman said.

Every year the IHSA find two or three schools who violate those bylaws, but it is not enough Hickman said, to call it "widespread."

Waukegan basketball coach Brian Colbert had not returned calls by press time.

Groups come to HealthReach's aid

There's a fresh look to the HealthReach building located at 1800 Grand Avenue in Waukegan. Organized by United Way of Lake County, over 40 volunteers from Abbott Laboratories and Hospira Corporation participated in a much-needed building renovation last week. After a routine visit to the site, United Way had a list of projects that needed work.

Two teams from Abbott and one from Hospira accepted the challenge to participate in the work when they contacted United Way for group project options. After two days of non-stop work, with Abbott providing most of the supplies, the projects that were accomplished included painting, landscaping, repair and maintenance tasks, washing windows, and organizing donated medicines.

Chocolate lovers laud Fannie May's sweet return

By Ginny Skweres
Staff Reporter

For those whose stock piles of trinitads and mint meltaways didn't last long enough, the good news is that Fannie May has begun re-opening in the Chicago area.

There are two locations in Lake County. The Lake Zurich store at 495 Ela Road will open soon and the Libertyville store at 1433 Peterson Road, opened last week.

Store manager Laura Mock said employees went through training that included a trip to Canton, Ohio, where they were able to see the candy being made.

"Traffic has been pretty steady and a lot of people don't even know we're back yet," she said.

The Libertyville store is located in the same storefront it had been when the chain closed last February.

With white walls and floor tile, the store smells as good as ever, taking long-time customers back to days gone by.

The store won't carry its entire line until nearly Mother's Day, but the favorites are in place, Mock said.

Right now there are Pixies, Trinitads, buttercreams, mint melt-aways and boxes of assorted chocolates, among others. Mock expects the store will have its traditional selection of holiday favorites before long.

Customers seem to have missed the chocolate confections, Mock said.

"People come in and buy one or two pound boxes of candy, especially a lot of dark buttercreams," Mock said. Some say how much they missed the candy.

Fannie May had been owned by Chicago-based Archibald Candy Company for 84 years, but was owned by creditors after its 2002 bankruptcy, and store closing last February.

The Alpine Confections Inc. of Alpine, Utah, is the new owner of the candy company and is hurrying to open stores before the major candy holidays of Thanksgiving, Christmas and Valentine's Day.

Waukegan Savings and Loan employees 'adopt' a highway

On Oct. 24, 15 employees of Waukegan Savings and their families, spent part of the day cleaning up Delany Road, between Sunset Avenue and Yorkhouse Road, as part of the Lake County Division of Transportation's "Adopt a Highway" program.

"Adopt a Highway has been one of our most popular community programs for the past several years," according to Ted Stanulis, president of the bank. "The Adopt a Highway program offers a great way for our employees to work together as a team—something we always promote at Waukegan Savings."

Many areas of the bank were represented at the cleanup, starting with President Ted Stanulis joined by Adam McDonald, Emily Corsaw, Evelyn Rodriguez and Carmen Sanchez and daughter from the main office. Marisela Quiroz, Ruth Guerrero, Jacqueline Cashmore, and Amalia Garcia attended from the west office and Noemi Hernandez and daughter, Debbie Bahena and family, Ursula Vasquez and family from the south office.

"Our employees and their families certainly understand the importance of giving back to the community. The bank is extremely fortunate to have officers, staff and families volunteer for programs like Adopt a Highway and we sincerely appreciate their continued support," said Stanulis.

Established in 1924, Waukegan Savings and Loan SB, with assets of $130 million presently serves the area with three locations and a full complement of products and services.

Real Estate 'detectives' work behind the scenes

Purchasing a home is more than just showing up with the money and taking home the keys to a new address.

Besides arranging financing, finding movers (or able-bodied friends) and filling out change-of-address forms, there is the issue of investigating the property title. If this particular procedure doesn't ring any bells, don't worry; the home buyer is rarely involved in the process beyond paying a one-time premium for a title insurance policy, which is part of the closing on the home.

"In many cases, such as a new-home purchase, either the financial institution handling the mortgage or the attorneys arranging the sale will arrange for the title search," noted Frank Pellegrini, president-elect of the Illinois Land Title Assn. (ILTA). "There are two types of title insurance: a lender's title insurance policy, also known as a Loan Policy, to protect the bank's interests — since they have a monetary stake in your property until the mortgage is paid off — and an owner's title insurance policy, paid with one premium at the closing, similarly protects you, the home buyer, for as long as you own the property. Between these two policies, title insurance covers the entire process and lets everybody breathe easier."

One of the reasons why title insurance is a good idea is, he states, right there in the statistics: nationally, one in four title searches finds a problem — one that is fixed before the insurance is issued. These obstacles can include deeds, wills and trusts that contain improper information; outstanding judgments or tax liens against the property; and easements. Title companies fix the problems then issue the title insurance. Often, buyers are not even aware that there was a problem, with their property, or that it was solved before it ever reached them.

Occasionally, however, things may come to light after the closing no matter how meticulous the search — mistakes in the public record, previously undisclosed heirs claiming to own the property or forged deeds are just a few of these. "That is when the title insurance kicks in, covering the legal costs of defending the title or otherwise solving the problem."

Therefore, the time between shaking hands on the deal and actually closing on the property is a busy one for the title company; they must research the history of the property, review any and all past deeds and titles, and follow up on each one to determine that all are in good order and no surprises await the new buyer. "Public records and court records are just a couple of the sources we have to check for each property," said Pellegrini.

VISTA HEALTH

Having a baby?

Expectant moms and dads can learn all about the "big day" at Vista Health's childbirth classes. Classes are available year round and are offered at Victory Memorial Hospital (Waukegan) and the Vista Surgery and Treatment Center (Lindenhurst). A schedule of dates, times and fees for classes is available by calling Vista's New Family Center at 847-360-4297, extension 5218.

A few of the classes include:

Prepared Childbirth - A four week series of classes during which expectant mothers and their support persons are instructed in the labor and delivery experience as well as breathing and relaxation techniques. It is recommended that this class be taken early in the pregnancy, during the first trimester if possible.

Prepared Childbirth Refresher - A two session class designed for parents who have attended classes in the past.

Prepared Childbirth Single Session - Designed for people with busy schedules, this one session class meets from 8:30 a.m. - 5 p.m. on a Saturday.

Breastfeeding Basics - This class provides information to expectant mothers about the methods and techniques available for feeding newborns.

Baby Care Basics - Expectant parents are instructed in caring for a new baby, including bathing, behavior, feeding and safety.

LAKE COUNTY HEALTH DEPARTMENT

Crisis Counseling Available

The Lake County Health Department and Community Health Center offers walk-in and telephone crisis counseling and referrals for Lake County residents experiencing emotional stress. This is a service of the Crisis Care Program, 3002 Grand Ave., Waukegan. Counselors are available 24 hours a day. For assistance, call 847-377-8088. (A TDD, hearing impaired phone line is also available at 847-360-2905.)

Health Department Offers Free Breast and Cervical Cancer Screening

Free breast and cervical cancer screenings are offered to eligible Lake County women through the Illinois Breast and Cervical Cancer Program (IBCCP), located at the Lake County Health Department/Community Health Center. Through the program, women can receive, at no cost to them, a complete medical examination, a clinical breast exam and a pap test, as well as referral for a free mammogram at a local hospital. Ongoing yearly exams and medical follow-up are provided. Women 35 years of age or older, who are underinsured or uninsured, and whose family income does not exceed 200% of federal poverty guidelines are eligible for this free program. Examinations are done at the clinics of the Lake County Health Department/Community Health Center, also through private providers, and are by appointment. To find out if you are eligible, please call the Health Department at 847-377-8430.

PARENT'S PLACE

Dr. Sherri Singer

Dr. Singer,

We have a 3 year old and 2 one year old twins. We have read lots of your stuff in the past and like it. We wondered if you feel it is possible to completely prevent ADD and it's struggles from happening at all so we can do something for our little one's before anything can get started. L.O.M.

Hi L.O.M.,

Before anyone can say that they prevent ADD, they first have to express whether they feel it is a biological problem or not. I happen to be one of those who does not believe it is a biological problem. My history with seeing lots and lots of kids for decades now, is that the symptoms of ADD are primarily about habits and training rather than about anything truly biological. As such, I firmly believe that these symptoms can be avoided if the right training is done early enough. That does not mean that people with older kids cannot stop the symptoms for their kids too. It really isn't ever too late to learn how to fix the symptoms that go along with ADD.

First, let's define what those symptoms are (what you actually see): acting before thinking, restlessness, impulsivity, academic deficits, jumping from one thing to the next quickly, memory deficits, long homework times and a host of others.

I have found that training kids how to control themselves and helping parents to learn how to keep that going, works wonders for 98% of this. Many doubt it can be done, but I do it every day. It is very possible to help any child learn self-control. The great thing about this is that the child knows he or she is the one making the magic and it is not something outside of themselves that is doing it. A little self-control goes a long way. Through repetition, we get kids to learn how to think before they act and make the right choices. With enough repetitions, it becomes a way of life for the child and opens up lots of doors for them that they never would have had before.

With things like memory, impulsivity, academic deficits, etc., I teach a group of exercises that are designed to teach things like frustration tolerance, focus, concentration, multi-tasking, etc. While kids do these exercises, which are like brain-teasers, the skills become second nature to them so listening, understanding, concentrating, getting homework written down correctly, working on their own, shorter homework times and better all around behavior can be expected all the time. It is truly an amazing thing to watch as these kids blossom.

Your question is a good one because the earlier you start the better. I think one is too little and you don't really need to start worrying about anything training-wise for that age. I would suggest, though, that you start out from the beginning with really good strong boundaries for discipline issues and require them to spend some time with whatever they do. With one year olds that can be challenging, especially if there are two of them, but you can gently try to encourage them to finish what they start and come back to what they leave so that through habit, they start learning early on those good habits.

These exercises and behavioral habit improvement are also important from another perspective. Many times, kids who are being accused of being ADD are actually self-distracting because they have underlying processing problems that cause them pain, embarrassment and shame. Any human being self-distracts when they feel any of those things because none of us want to stay and feel those things. Children are especially susceptible to that because they have not developed the coping mechanisms to deal with that level of stress in their lives. So, self distraction becomes their soothing mechanism, which is why it is used so often.

I try to take this on by dealing with both angles. Make the processing better so the pain and stress go away and there is no need for the self distraction and train frustration tolerance so that when the child is faced with frustration, he or she is equipped to deal with it and cope with it effectively through self control. Let's face it, everyone is going to get frustrated at times. If we can train the kids to handle it in stride as opposed to letting it make them stop working or do behaviors that get them in trouble, we have 98% of the game won already. And that is what I do with kids and for kids.

So, in answer to your question, yes, you can train early and avoid those symptoms. If you train the skills, do the right kind of responding and encouraging and stay consistent, I believe that the habits that will develop will be healthy strong ones and will never look like ADD.

Now, for those parents whose kids have been diagnosed with ADD, this does not mean that you did something wrong. It just means that bad habits are happening and need to be corrected. It's really simple.

*Dr. Singer is a Psychologist who regularly works in person with readers of this column improving kid's attention, behavior, processing and learning skills fast. She has been an ADD Coach to many kids on meds and has also trained the skills of many other labeled kids who are not on medication to take them to attention, behavior and learning heights their parents never dreamed they were capable of. ## In fact, innovation is common at Cancer Treatment Centers of America.

With enough qualifications, it can be easy for hospitals to claim bragging rights by being the first at something. Well, at Cancer Treatment Centers of America we are the first—the first on the planet—to combine the technology of a GE Discovery ST 16-slice PET/CT image for treatment planning with the precise radiation treatment available from the TomoTherapy HI-ART System, a linear accelerator more advanced than Intensity Modulated Radiation Therapy technology.

We know it sounds like rocket science.

... that's because it is. Or physics, to be precise.

For all the technical terms—what this really means is the technology incorporated into our TomoTherapy equipment allows us to treat virtually any tumor we can see. And the technology in the GE Discovery ST 16-slice PET/CT allows us to see more.

Being able to see more, and treat more, just one part of the arsenal CTCA employs to help you take control of cancer.

Gaebler, Landry named Lakeland's 2004 Offensive and Defensive Players of the Year

Sports Reporters

Seniors Jake Gaebler and Dexter Landry never met on the field during their respective high school football careers at Mundelein and Waukegan. Despite that, it's easy to see similarities in their games.

The ultra-athletes rarely missed a down for their teams, playing both sides of the ball and even special teams. While that may have tired some players out, it only meant more gaudy stats for Lakeland's Offensive and Defensive Players of the Year.

When Gaebler looks back on his career at Mundelein High School, a lot of numbers will stand out.

There will be the 15 school records he broke, including 109 catches for 2,088 yards, which ranks 16th on the IHSA all-time list, the 29 touchdowns receiving (11th IHSA all-time), and the 51 overall touchdowns scored (38th IHSA all-time).

He will remember the two seasons (2002, 2004) in which he led Mustangs to the playoffs, including this year's first-round game against Libertyville in which Mundelein fell just short, losing 16-9. There will also be the 180 points he scored, the 28 extra points and two field goals he kicked, his five interceptions and the 1,787 total yards of offense he churned out during his senior campaign.

But the number 11 will most likely resonate more than the others.

It was the digit he sported on his jersey during his career at Mundelein and it is a number that no other football player will ever wear at the school.

At the fall sports banquet Nov. 8 it was announced that Gaebler's number 11 had been retired.

Head football coach Dave Whitson acknowledged that it is not an honor given to many athletes in high school.

"You don't get too many kids like Jake," he said. "The number was retired based on what he accomplished on and off the field and to show gratitude for what he's done for the school."

Whether the number carries with it some special magic, or is just picked by special players,

Jake Gaebler of Mundelein High School and Dexter Landry of Waukegan High School are this year's Lakeland Newspapers offensive and defensive players of the year, respectively.

Landry also sported 11 on his jersey. While his team didn't receive much attention at 2-7, it was hard to miss the senior Bulldog on the field—he did after all play every position, or at least it seemed that way.

On defense, Landry played like he had a magnetic connection to the ball. Plays short and long all seemed to end one way—with Landry tackling the ball carrier.

Landry, a strong safety for Waukegan, finished the season with 139 total tackles and four interceptions.

"I was always by the ball," Landry said. "I would see it and run to it."

Landry's contribution at safety was a welcomed surprise to Waukegan coach John Neff, who had started Landry at outside linebacker during his sophomore and junior seasons. A depleted depth chart, however, forced him to the safety position where his skills were more needed.

"He's very willing to play in different positions," Neff said. "He didn't have any reservations, he was always thinking about what's better for the team."

And Landry didn't just make changes defensively. Coming into the season he was projected to be one of the top receivers in the state. The depleted depth chart again called upon him to step into different positions.

By season's end he alternated between quarterback, running back, tight end and wide receiver. And it wasn't rare for him to play more than one offensive position in a game.

The transition on both sides of the ball was hard at first, Landry said, but he didn't have time to think about it.

"The team doesn't revolve around me," Landry said. "I'm not trying to be a superstar. I did what I needed to do to win. It doesn't matter where I played."

Gaebler also did his share of jumping around for the benefit of his team this season, switching from his natural position, wide receiver, to play running back.

Whitson, who just finished his first season as the Mustang's head coach, proposed the move to Gaebler shortly after he got the job. The idea was to put the ball in his star player's hands as much as possible.

Gaebler said it took some getting used to but he became acclimated to his backfield position fairly quickly and ended up rushing for 1,386 yards on the season.

"It took a little while, but I caught on pretty fast," he said.

With their high school football careers behind them both players are looking forward to college. Gaebler has seen interest from several Big Ten schools, along with Western Kentucky, Illinois State and Eastern Illinois.

Landry has been in contact with contact Iowa, Indiana and Illinois, Miami of Ohio and Northern Illinois.

But even when they move on, both say they will remember what they accomplished in the prep game.

"I've been fortunate to have a good career at Mundelein and have had a lot of fun and made a lot of friends," Gaebler said. "I went through some changes in positions but it all worked out for the best. I wouldn't want to change any of it."

Landry had similar feelings.

"I've had a lot of fun with it all," Landry said. "I love playing for this school. You'd like to win more...but I am happy with the impact I made."

FANTASY FOOTBALL MONTHLY 2004

(Touchdowns Only!!!)

Fantasy Football season is here again! For many Lakeland readers, the very thought sends their hearts racing. But for others, the question may be, "What is fantasy football?"

One of the most popular games across the country, fantasy football comes in many different forms, with each allowing football fans to draft their "own" team every Sunday afternoon and/or Monday/Thursday night.

Lakeland Newspapers began their league 4 years ago. This year the following rules apply: readers must pick two quarterbacks, two running backs and two wide receivers. Lakeland Newspapers Fantasy Football Monthly counts only touchdowns.

Your team is good for one month and one month only.

Entries must be post marked by the last day of the previous month in order to enter the next month's contest. For example, October 31 is the last day to enter the November contest. You must re-enter each month, after the last game of the month is played the total amount of touchdowns scored by your six players is counted and whichever reader has the most total touchdowns wins. In the event of a tie, Lakeland will count the touchdowns of the candidate's "write-in" players. One entry per person. The October, November and December winners will go in a raffle for the Whirlyball Prize. Each runner-up will get $25.

Lakeland Newspapers will publish a fantasy football column each week with tips and player news. Don't forget that schedule plays a big role in which players choose. Just because someone may be the league's best player, does not necessarily mean that they will be the best player that month. And don't forget the bye weeks.

Good luck and get those entries in.

ANTIOCH

"There was a lot of excitement this season. We had a home playoff game under the lights for the first time ever. And we had our first postseason win since 1985."

Antioch Football Coach

Sequoits struggle in season-ending loss

By Rob Backus

Sports Editor

Antioch coach Del Pechauer was convinced he had the formula for beating Libertyville. After all, his team came pretty close in the opening round of the Class 7A playoffs last season.

He knew his team would just have to grind the ball out on the ground, thus keeping it away from the Cats' high-octane offense. He also had the workhorse to do that on the ground in senior running back Nick Nathan.

"I thought we could move the ball offensively and that we would be able to do the job defensively," Pechauer said.

Unfortunately, the Sequoits were dealt a blow on both sides of the ball prior to the game when team MVP Nate Hughes was forced to the sidelines with an injury.

His absence hurt in more ways than one and Libertyville jumped out of the gates early and never relented, winning 49-20. The Cats were up 42-0 at halftime, instituting a running clock for the second half.

"Not having Nate in there affected the guys," Pechauer said. "He would have made some plays. They would have won anyway, but it wouldn't have been a blowout."

Pechauer is able to point to two specific plays where Hughes' absence hurt the Sequoits. Twice Antioch was poised to stop the Cats on defense, and twice Libertyville quarterback hooked up with running back Kyle Nader on long touchdown passes (from 35 and 45 yards out).

"They threw it right where Nate would have been," Pechauer said.

Antioch did manage a trio of second-half scores from Nick Nathan, from 30, 10 and 22 yards, respectively, but it was too little, too late for the Sequoits, who fell to 7-4 with the loss. Nathan finished with 171 yards on 22 attempts to lead Antioch.

Despite the loss, Pechauer was pleased with the way his team played this season.

"There was a lot of excitement this year," Pechauer said. "We had a 5-0 start, our first playoff game under the lights and our first playoff win since 1985."

Graduation will hit the Sequoits hard, as will the coming split with Lakes Community High School.

"I don't know how well we'll compete next year," Pechauer said. "It's a question of numbers. We only have 14 sophomores coming up next year because we lose 20 to Lakes."

BOYS SOCCER

While Antioch's boys' soccer team may have taken its lumps at times this season, first year coach Bill Stafford is convinced he got 100 percent from his team.

"I got everything out of every player," said Stafford, whose team finished 9-9-4 on the season. "We were in every game, some games we just didn't put the ball in the net."

Antioch Community High School's Nick Nathan attempts to break the tackle of a Libertyville player in a Class 7A second-round playoff game. The Sequoits lost 49-20.

That's exactly what happened to the Sequoits in the regional semifinal against Warren. Antioch played tough against the No. 1-seeded Devils, but fell 1-0.

The team started out 3-6-1, but then went on a four-match unbeaten streak to get back to the .500 mark.

"We just started finding ways to score goals," Stafford said. "The things we worked on early started coming through. We started converting corners and 50-50 balls; we were getting three or four extra chances per game. We started doing the little things."

Integral in Antioch's offensive resurgence was junior forward Alex McKenzie, who led the team with 14 goals and six assists on the season.

"He led us in the direction we needed to go," Stafford said. "He got stronger as the season went along."

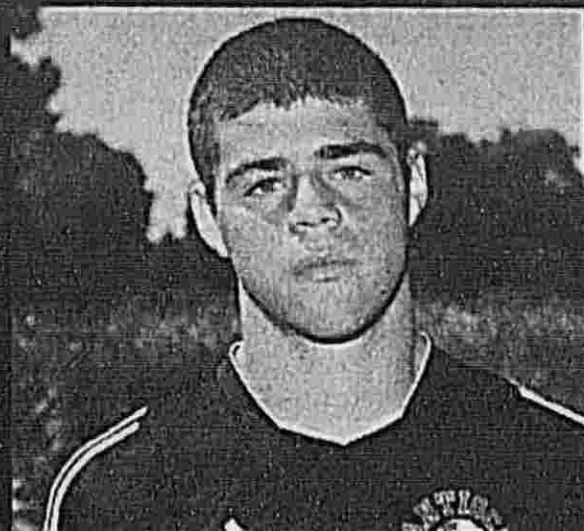

Gary Mouradian (6 goals, 6 assists), Brett McKenzie (7 goals, 3 assists) and Alex Mayer (5 shutouts) were also key statistical leaders on Antioch. Mouradian, Mayer, Dan Braun and Alex McKenzie were all named to the All-North Suburban Conference team, and Joe Barlow and Jason Moxley were honorable mentions.

"The guys were very responsive to what we needed to do," Stafford said. "You can give a game plan, but soccer demands that you change it and the guys were able to adapt on the fly. They did what I asked and that's all I can ask of them."

BOYS GOLF

Antioch senior golfer Joe Kinney signed a letter of intent to play at Kansas State University on Wednesday. Kinney won the North Suburban Conference championship and placed 4th in the state this past season.

PREP PROFILES

Gary Mouradian

Who ever said soccer players weren't tough?

At a tournament in Geneva earlier this fall, Antioch senior midfielder Gary Mouradian was going for a ball when he collided with an opposing player.

"A kid came in and caught my ankle and it swelled up like a balloon," Mouradian said.

Initially, Mouradian tried to play through the pain. "I played the next game but coach (Bill Stafford) took me out. And then I tried to play in practice but that just made it worse."

But Mouradian wasn't about to give up. In just five days he went from hobbling around on crutches, to suiting up on the field for Antioch's postseason opener against Grayslake.

"I didn't want to miss that game no matter what," Mouradian said. "Being captain, I felt I had a responsibility to be out there."

And his presence must have paid off as the Sequoits rolled to a 4-0 victory over Grayslake in the regional play-in game.

"His return was like a shot of adrenaline for the team," Stafford said.

But being a motivator for the team was nothing new for Mouradian, who played that role to perfection throughout the season.

"There were times during the season where I'd be late to practice because of meetings, but he'd already have them stretched out and ready to go," Stafford said. "He did the little things to help us. He played physical, with heart and hustle."

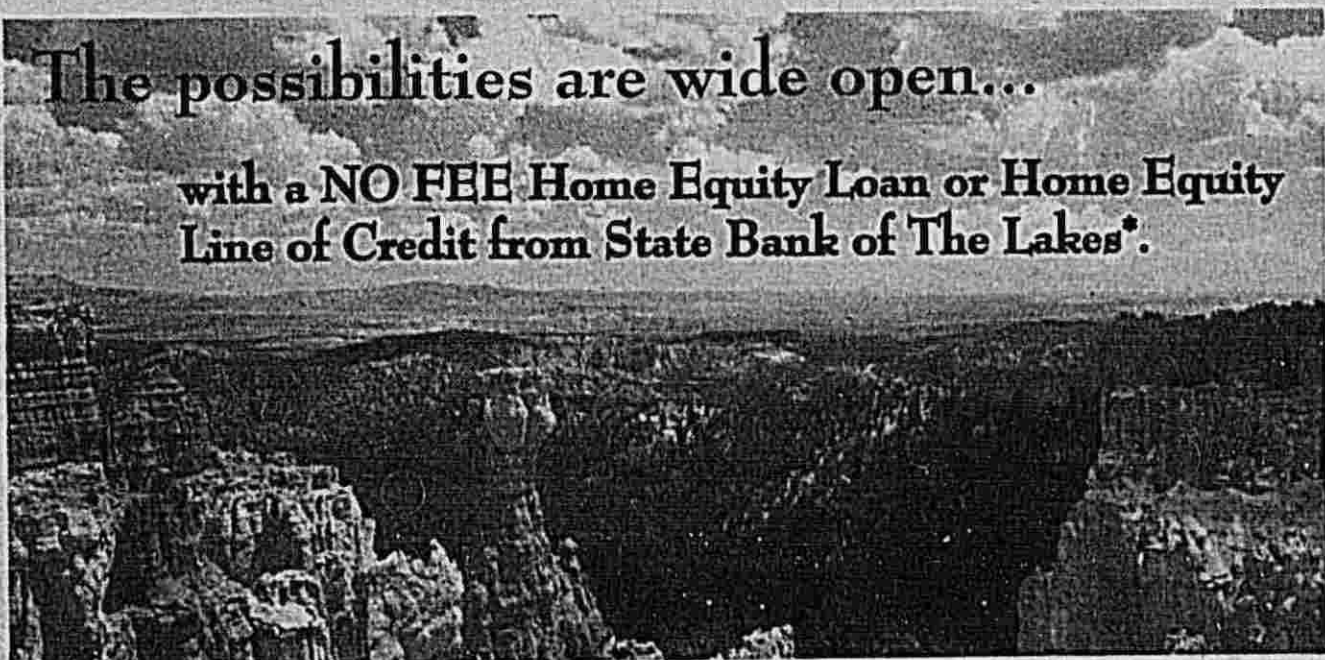

He also provided some good numbers for the Sequoits (six goals, six assists) on his way to an All-North Suburban Conference season.

"I just tried to lead by example," Mouradian said. "I worked really hard and hopefully some of it rubbed off."

Chances slip away from Corsairs

By Rob Backus

Sports Editor

For the first 24 minutes last Friday, Carmel appeared to be in control. The Corsairs were up 14-7 on Geneva in the second round of the Class 6A playoffs, and were going in for another score.

But then the unthinkable happened. In a play similar to the turning point of the Bears/Packers game earlier this season, Carmel quarterback Tyler Ankney was stripped by Geneva's Matt Damall, who raced 67 yards for the score to tie the game at 14-14.

"If we score there, it's over," Carmel coach Andy Bitto said. "But that play kind of ripped our heart out. We had them on the ropes and we let them turn it around on us."

The Corsairs retook the lead on a 43-yard touchdown run from Jimmy Potempa (26 carries, 184 yards), but Geneva quickly tied the game at 21-21 and took the lead for good in the fourth quarter on a halfback pass. Geneva added a late insurance score to win 35-21.

"They just executed well," Bitto said. "We had our chances to win. Games come down to four or five plays, unfortunately they (Geneva) made three of them."

Carmel fell behind in the second quarter but quickly tied the game on an 11-yard score from Darren Davis (8 carries, 48 yards), and took the lead on a 6-yard fade pass from Tyler Ankney to Sean McGrath just before halftime.

"Our inside veer kept working early, so we kept running the ball," said Bitto, whose team racked up 275 rushing yards in the contest. "Momentum was completely on our side."

Unfortunately, a trick play, three turnovers and six penalties would cost Carmel in the end.

"It was our game to win, which makes the loss even tougher," said Bitto, whose team fell to 7-4 with the loss.

Despite the tough loss to end the season, Bitto was pleased with how his team played throughout 2004.

"In a lot of ways we overachieved," Bitto said. "This team didn't win much as sophomores, so to win seven games was pretty exceptional."

Although the team graduates the last members from the state championship team, the outlook is positive for next season.

"We were a young team this year," Bitto said. "Guys fought through injuries and played hard. The team laid it on the line and did everything we asked them to do. They put us in a position to win; sometimes it goes your way, and sometimes it doesn't."

CROSS COUNTRY

at Detweiler Park in Peoria last weekend.

Donovan finished in 16th place with a time of 18:08.

"You can always hope for better, but she ran a great race," Carmel coach Jim Halford said. "She ran a smart, sound race. She did exactly what she was supposed to do."

Donovan also feels she could have done better, and plans to next year in her final season.

"I finally had a full season and I learned a lot," Donovan said. "So I'm definitely shooting for a top-five finish next year. But I was still really happy with the way I ran."

Halford also feels that is a strong possibility.

"She's still a novice in cross country," Halford said. "This was her first full season. Her best running is still ahead of her."

Teammate Carly Reiger, also a junior, finished 61st in the race, with a time of 18:54.

"She was shooting for the top 25, but it just wasn't her day," Halford said. "She was a little under the weather but she ran a good race. This was just her first year on the team, but she had a sensational season."

GIRLS VOLLEYBALL

Despite finishing under .500 for the season (17-18-1), Carmel coach Sarah Yeager feels her first year with the team was an enjoyable one.

"We did really well towards the end of the season," Yeager said. "When we needed to step up and win big we did. We wanted to do better, but it was a learning experience for myself and for the team. I got used to the girls and they got used to me."

Getting to know her players was important as the Corsairs will return seven key members of this year's team, including Pam Stanton, Erica Masini, Kelly Gleason, Emily Grum, Erin Thelen, Sara Lehman and Colette LeClair, who was named the team's most improved player.

Those seven will look to combine with members of a sophomore team that went 24-4.

"We'll have a great team next year that will be able to grow," Yeager said.

But Yeager will miss the presence of senior captains Erin Walsh and Teresa Ogrinc.

"They were leaders on and off the court for us," Yeager said.

PREPROFILES

Colleen Donovan

The old saying goes, "It's a marathon, not a sprint." And while cross country isn't really a marathon (it's only three miles), training for it is, which is something Carmel junior Colleen Donovan had to find out the hard way.

As a freshman, Donovan adopted a track mentality for her cross country season, going all out in every race. And while she did manage to make in downstate in her first year, the resulting leg injuries stunted her growth as a runner, according to Carmel coach Jim Halford.

"Her technique early on was to go out blazing," Halford said. "She had to learn not to go all out, all the time."

After her nagging hamstring injuries, Donovan started to shift her training regimen.

"I haven't been focusing on speed," Donovan said. "I've been doing a lot of endurance. I just put myself in coach's hands."

And that strategy paid off as a sophomore as Donovan made it through the track season injury free, finishing fourth in the state in the two-mile run.

This season Donovan remained injury free, and ended it in a big way, taking 16th at the IHSA state cross country meet at Detweiler Park in Peoria, finishing just 10 seconds out of fifth place and taking home All-State honors in the process.

"I'm really thankful that I made it through the season healthy," Donovan said. "I'm starting to get the feel for running cross country."

And with a successful cross country behind her, Donovan is already looking forward to the track season, which is just a few months away.

"I can't wait for track," Donovan said. "As soon as that (state) race was over I started getting into track mode." —By Rob Backus

GRANT

"It was great. She (Pam Staton) has been working a lot in the last couple of weeks on her mental toughness."

Bill Newby
Grant Cross Country Coach

Quote Me

Things looking up for Bulldogs

By Steve Peterson

Sports Reporter

With two of the top three scorers returning, Grant High should have another competitive soccer team next fall.

The boys' squad posted the first 10-win season in school history on the soccer field, with a 2-1 win in the playoffs against Mundelein.

Senior Bryan Mark scored 14 goals, but back will be junior Danny Huerta (14 goals) and sophomore Sam Deligio had nine goals. "Sam would be on one night, Dan would be on one night and Bryan would be on one night," Rivette said.

"We're still a young team," said coach Shane Rivette. All three Deligio brothers, Dominick, Sammy and Danny are back.

Mark was named all-NSC while Hunter and junior Zach Williams were named honorable mention all NSC along with Ian Hunter.

Barrington ended the Grant season with a 4-0 win at the Lake Zurich regional semifinal. Grant ended 10-10-3.

"They were bigger than us and a little faster. We hung with them. It was scoreless for 50 minutes, then they got an easy goal. We were fighting to stay in the game. I was proud of them," Rivette said.

Senior goalie Greg Sheil had a good season. "Greg improved this year. He had a lot more saves. He had 206 saves. He had three shutouts and only allowed 46 goals," Rivette said. "The backline was strong, led by our sweeper, Ian Hunter. He played defense, he is a natural player, he just loves the game. Moving him back to sweeper this year helped. Eduardo Solis played well on defense."

The win over Mundelein was the top moment for Grant. "They beat us during the season pretty bad. Each time we have seen a team twice during the season, we did better. That was a good win. Against Harvard, at the beginning of the year, to win our tournament, with a Mark goal, was big. Overall, the season was good. We broke the school record for the school record with wins."

The NSC Prairie will include Lakes Community High and Antioch coming in next year.

"We want to build up the depth," Rivette said.

Jason Janowicz, a forward, is the only other senior than Mark who will graduate. Juniors back are Tony Szeewicki and Chris Castro. Sophomores returning are the Deligos, Mike Gentile and Roger Jackson.

Mark was named team MVP at the school's fall sports awards night.

"Each season, we set goals before the year starts. This year, we wanted to win two tournaments and advance into the postseason tournament. By winning the tournaments at Richmond and our own and beating Mundelein, we were able to do that," Rivette said.

CROSS COUNTRY

Grant High runner Pam Staton used most of her strengths in cross country to claim a top-10 finish in the ISHA Class AA cross country state meet.

She finished seventh, with a time of 17:59.

"I'm excited, pretty happy with it," Staton said. "My goal was just to get to the top 25. I did not expect to finish in the top 10. I was in tenth place for a while, then just passed a couple of people," she said.

"It was great. She has been working a lot in the last couple of weeks on her mental toughness. I thought that she could finish in the top 10," said Grant coach Bill Newby.

Staton's finish earns herself a place in Grant sports history in track and cross country. Wrestling has had state champions, including Jim Kennedy last year, but this rates right up there.

Newby said competing in the always-tough NSC with the likes of Rachel Ascher (Lake Forest senior who just edged Staton for sixth) and others, helps a lot.

There was some delay Saturday before all the results were finalized, adding to the drama at Detweiler Park.

Staton executed her strategy to perfection, beating a tough wind and stiffer competition to qualify for the state cross country meet.

She became the first Grant High School girl in 15 seasons to do so, since Cindy Edwards in 1988. Staton finished ninth overall at the Schaumburg Sectional, with a time of 19:02. She was the second individual qualifier not in a team qualifier and one of three from the area.

Staton was honored several times at the school's fall sports honors night. She had 32 points, 29 kicking PATS for the football team, and was named all-conference in both sports. She also won the Wauconda invite, conference meet, the first Grant runner to ever win it, was a sectional qualifier and state qualifier and first time since 1988 to go to state. Staton was MVP for girls cross country.

"Pam holds team records in football, cross country and track, and plays club soccer, cross country, football and floor hockey, basketball track and school soccer in the spring. She is also in the top 10 in her class and was named homecoming queen," Newby said at the school's fall sports awards night.

Chris Rosado

Relative newcomer Chris Rosado concluded his high school career the same way it began: with an all-out effort.

"The second half of the year, was tremendous. I don't know how we held up. My sophomore year was my first year in football," Rosado said.

Grant started the year 0-4 but finished with a 4-1 mark the rest of the way.

Rosado and cross country star Pam Staton are the school's nominees for the High School Heisman, sponsored by Wendy's. "It is a great honor. I looked up some research on it," Rosado said.

Rosado was the "other" rusher not named Eric, in the Bulldogs' high-powered attack. Eric Horvath and Eric Lostroschio led the way, but Rosado had 18 rushes for 100 yards, 93 net, and a TD run for six yards. He also recovered a fumble.

This spring, Rosado will turn his attention to the pole vault. He hopes to break a "curse" of the sectional meet. "It is great when you see it wobbling, but it (the bar) stays up," he said.

Rosado came to Fox Lake from Gurnee his freshman year.

The offensive standouts include junior Matt Behm, who caught 20 passes for 520 yards and four touchdowns; Jeff Cukla had 36 catches for 766 yards and six TDs; Horvath had four catches for 60 yards and one TD.

Lostroschio was 64-123, with nine interceptions and had 1,240 yards in passing offense and 11 TDs. Back-up Rick Howell was 2-4 with one TD pass of 76 yards against Wauconda.

The Bulldogs gave second-round playoff team Johnsbury all it could handle in a double overtime loss in week two. Mundelein, Antioch, Warren, and North Chicago all made the playoffs. Warren, like Johnsbury, lost in the second round Saturday. —Steve Peterson

Rams still hungry for success

By Rob Backus

Sports Editor

Wins have been hard to come by for Grayslake's volleyball team the last two seasons.

After winning just five games in 2003, the Rams managed seven victories this season. But despite winning just 12 matches in two years, Grayslake's players are still hungry for success.

"They still want to win everyday," Grayslake coach Jeanna Beerbower said. "They all work so hard. And you can't coach the desire to win, and they all have that. They know they have the potential to do it."

That potential was shown in a few key matches, including wins over Fox Valley Conference foes McHenry and Jacobs. Grayslake failed to win a single conference match last season.

"No one expected us to have two conference wins this year," Beerbower said. "The win over Jacobs was especially big. That was a huge upset."

The Rams also had chances for several more upsets throughout the course of the season, but came up just short.

"We had a lot of close matches, so hopefully next year we'll start to win some of those," Beerbower said.

Just a week after the season ended with a loss to Warren, Beerbower is already itching for next season.

"We didn't play as well as we would have liked to against Warren, but the girls made the season a lot of fun," Beerbower said. "I miss them already."

Grayslake will miss the presence of several seniors next year, including setter Nicole Sarver, defensive specialists Amy Anderson and Rochie Vergara and outside hitter Krista Hook.

But Beerbower is encouraged because the Rams return all of their hitters, including All-FVC selection Jill Smart.

"She showed power I never knew she had," Beerbower said.

Beerbower also lauded the play of junior hitters Janice Johnson, Gabby Pate, Megan Patterson and Ashleigh Swearingen.

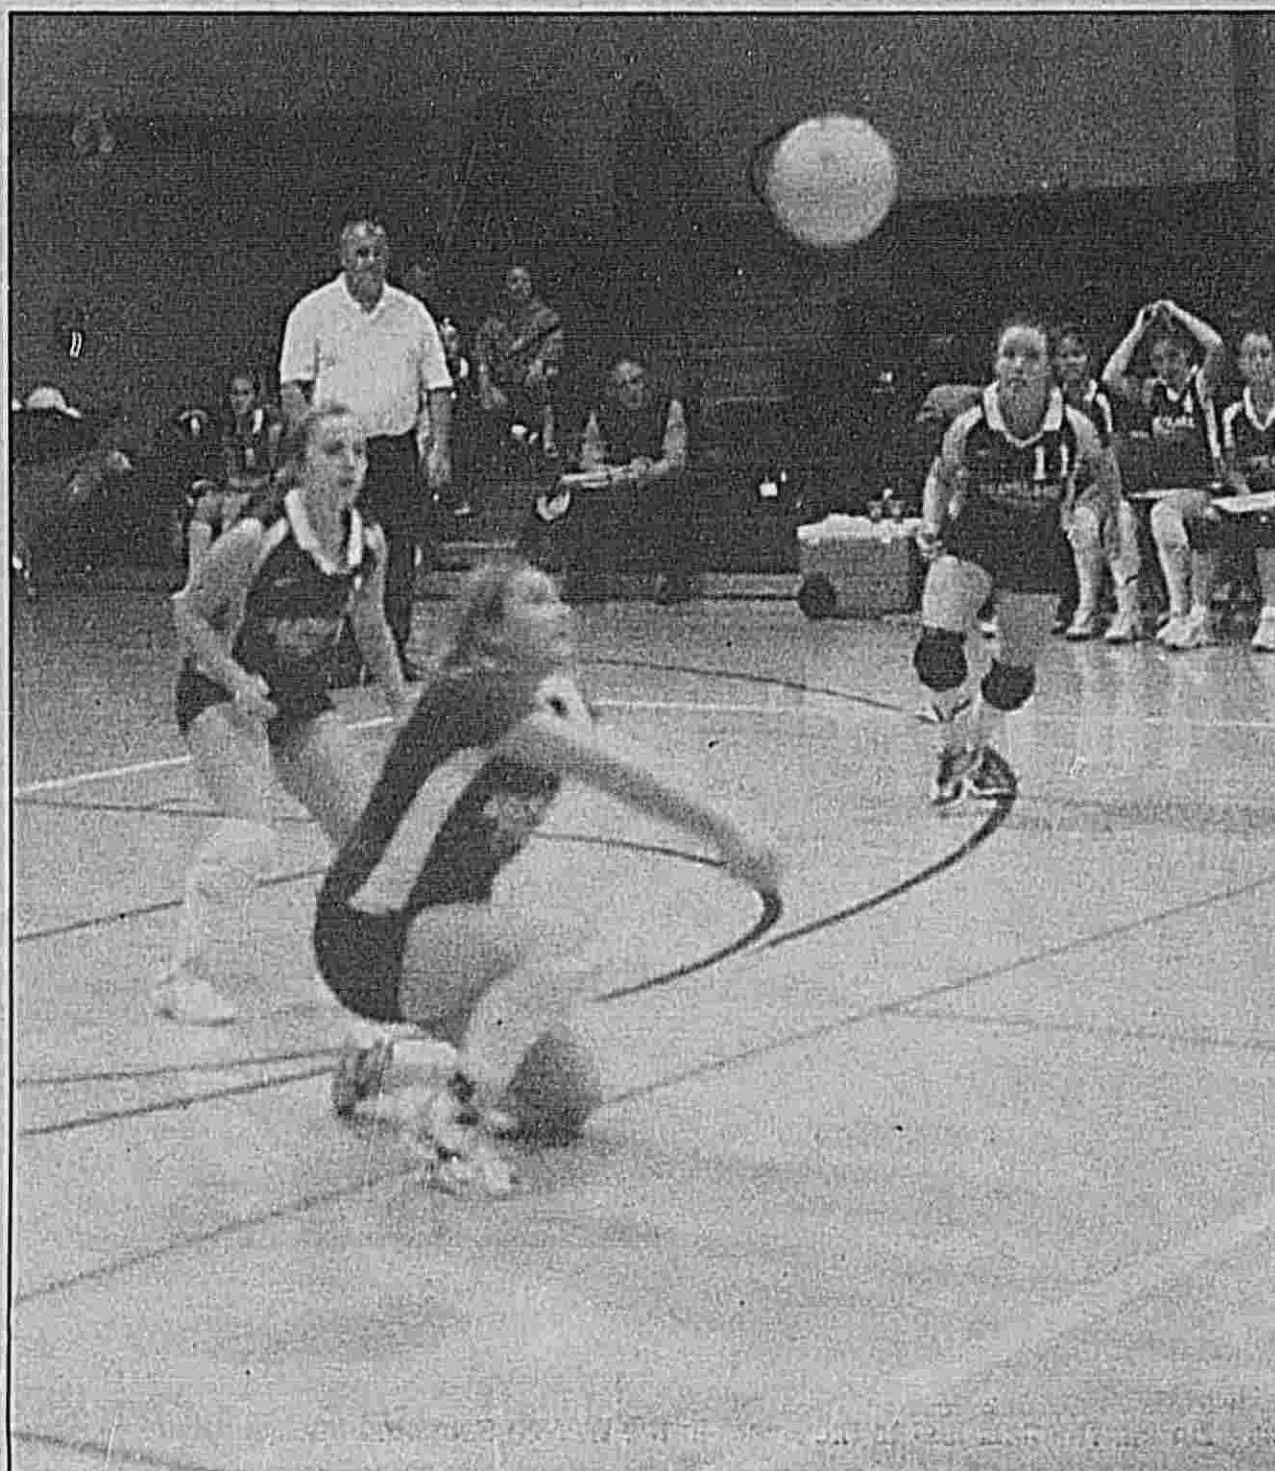

"We really improved our offense a lot this year, and were going to run it even quicker next year," Beerbower said. "We just have to improve our serve receive."

A pair of sophomores, middle hitter Angel Xiong and defensive specialist Kay Salvatiera, and freshman outside hitter Megan Falk also saw some action at the end of the season.

"A lot of people got some playing time this year," Beerbower said. "Just wait 'til next year. I'm already looking forward to it."

BOYS SOCCER

Grayslake Community High School's Gabby Pate prepares to dig the ball in a regional semifinal match-up against Warren.

The Rams were outscored as a team 64-32 this season, and not coincidentally, finished 8-14 overall and 3-7 in the tough Fox Valley Conference.

"Lack of scoring was our biggest problem this year," Grayslake coach Dan Landry said. "There was also a point where we gave up 15 goals in a three-game span. We just weren't good at the beginning of the season. But then guys started to find their positions and things improved."

Case and point was senior defender Jimmy Sloan. He played out of position on the junior varsity squad last season, but was moved to defense during his club season and responded with an All-Fox Valley Conference season. He also became a captain toward the end of the season.

"He never said a word off the field," Landry said of Sloan, who had two goals and two assists on the season. "He just let his play do the talking."

Senior midfielders Ben White (6 assists) and Bobby Reed (6 goals, assist) were also named to the All-Conference squad.

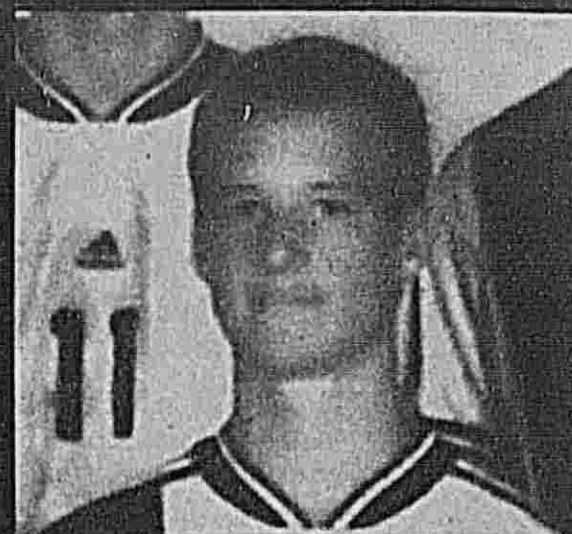

Landry was also pleased with the play of junior midfielder Eric Hager (2 goals, assist), senior midfielder Kurt Smyth (4 goals, 3 assists), senior defender August Trexler (assist) and sophomore midfielder Nolan Sandberg (2 goals, 4 assists). Sophomore forward Manny Carrillo led the team with seven goals and five assists on the season.

"There's some talent coming back," Landry said. "Three sophomores got significant playing time and the juniors learned a great deal."

The fact that his team closed out the season with solid play is encouraging for next season, according to Landry.

"We were weak at the beginning but we knew we'd get better and we did," Landry said. "We're able to say that we played better at the end of the season than at the start."

PREP PROFILES

Jimmy Sloan

Grayslake senior defender Jimmy Sloan is proof positive that hard work pays off.

As a junior, Sloan was relegated to the junior varsity team and struggled at times. But this year, he was back with a vengeance, becoming an integral part of the Rams' varsity soccer team, even becoming a captain towards the end of the season.

"You can't even compare the two players," Grayslake coach Dan Landry said. "It was like night and day. He has a tremendous work ethic."

Sloan attributes his improved play to back-to-back summers spent at soccer camp at Northern Illinois University.

"I really worked hard at my defensive skills there," Sloan said. "Plus I played for the Chicago Kickers and they moved me to defense, and that turned out to be my natural position."

Sloan did prove to be a natural at defense, according to Landry.

"He was a really tough player," Landry said. "He was not afraid to use his body to get in the way."

The ability to use his body, though, did not come from hard work, but from the inevitable teenaged growth spurt.

"I've grown four or five inches and gained 30 pounds in the last two years," Sloan said. "That gave me a lot more confidence on the field. I was able to play a lot more physical."

But Sloan also had some brains to go along with his newly added brawn.

"He's a really smart player," Landry said of Sloan, who also had two goals and two assists on the season. "He was seldom caught out of position."

That's something that came from his time at the soccer camps, according to Sloan.

"My ball control and field vision improved about 100 times," Sloan said. "I was able to play quick passes and move the ball around." —By Rob Backus

Lancaster leads Cats to blowout win

By Matt Pera

Sports Reporter

After Libertyville just squeaked by Mundelein in the first round of the playoffs Oct. 29 with a 16-9 last-minute win, head coach Randy Kuceyeski decided the offense needed an exorcism.

So, at the Wildcats' last practice before their Nov. 5 second-round game against Antioch, he arranged a little mock ceremony. The defense stood in a circle around the first and second-team offensive units and sang a soothing rendition of "Kumbaya." Then Kuceyeski had the first team offense say "wig-wam," to which the second team answered "teepee."

After doing the answer and call a couple times, Kuceyeski told them, "Now relax, you're two tents."

Get it?

The Wildcats' offense obviously did, as they exploded for 423 total yards and six touchdowns in the first half alone against Antioch, winning 49-20.

"We were too tense," Kuceyeski said. "We were too tight. Now, this is what we're capable of doing."

Senior running back Kyle Nader led the revival, rushing for 167 yards and two touchdowns, while catching for 105 yards and two more scores.

In an offensive scheme that featured much more passing than usual for Libertyville (11-0), senior quarterback Brett Lancaster also thrived. He threw for 160 yards and three touchdowns, while rushing for another.

"(Antioch) didn't really see any of our passing game the first time we played them so we just came out ready to play today and just came out throwing good from the start," Lancaster said.

Lancaster was active in that good start, running nine yards into the end zone for the Wildcats first touchdown of the night on their first possession.

After that, the scoring barrage was underway with Libertyville scoring on each of their next five possessions to make the score 42-0 at halftime.

Kuceyeski said it was the best overall effort he had seen from his team.

"This is probably the first game all year where we were clicking that well on offense as far as throwing the ball, catching the ball and also running the ball," he said.

And the second half was merely a formality, as the Wildcat's second team offense and defense played nearly the entire final 24 minutes. Senior running back Nick Nathan came through with touchdowns runs of 30, 10 and 23 yards after the break for the Sequoia (7-4).

With just under four minutes to go in the game, Kuceyeski sent out his first-team offense for an encore. Appropriately, Nader capped off the game with a 46-yard touchdown run.

The Wildcats will next host Glenbrook North (11-0) Nov. 13 in the Elite Eight. This time around, Kuceyeski probably won't need a ceremony to loosen up his offense.

"We needed that more than anything, just to get our confidence back on the offensive side of the football," he said.

GIRLS' VOLLEYBALL

In the sectional championship game against Lake Zurich Nov. 4, the girls volleyball team looked like they might relive some of the magic from their Nov. 2 semifinal win over Stevenson.

The Wildcats lost 25-12 in game one to the Patriots before roaring back to win the next two and earn a bid to face the Bears.

But against Lake Zurich, the comeback fell just short with the Wildcats losing 2-0 (17-25, 21-25).

Despite the tough loss, head coach Chris Trzyna said her Wildcats (32-6) played strong all season.

"They have to be really proud of the effort they gave," she said. "They played tremendously well on the floor. We started out missing wide angles here and there but we played aggressive."

Dominant serving and hard hitting put Libertyville in a deep hole in game one, as Lake Zurich jumped out to a huge 18-7 lead and never looked back.

But in the second game, the Wildcats found their defense and were able to pick up many of the jump-serves and kill attempts the Bears sent over the net.

Libertyville's increased intensity led them to a 19-11 game-two lead. But the Bears (34-5) answered with a 14-2 run to win the game and take the match for their second straight sectional title, both of which have been over the Wildcats.

Senior outside hitter Sarah Carlino paced the Bears with six kills, six digs, three blocks and two aces on the night.

"We had a huge lead and I think we just got way too comfortable (in game two)," senior outside hitter Christine Marchinski said. "We made way too many unforced errors."

PREPFILES

Brett Lancaster

For most high school kids, the summer months are reserved for relaxing.

But last summer, Libertyville senior quarterback Brett Lancaster was the antithesis of that. He would wake up every morning to get to football practice by 8 a.m., where he worked extensively with quarterbacks coach Jim Schurr.

"We went back to the fundamentals and just worked on my throwing technique and my footwork and everything," Lancaster said.

Lancaster played quarterback for both the freshman and sophomore teams before moving up to the varsity squad his junior year. But then-senior Chris Jansen had the quarterback position locked up already, so Lancaster moved over to tight end.

But going into this season he knew he would be the Wildcats' play-caller. With several seniors gone from the 2003 team that lost in double overtime to Oswego in the state championship, including Jansen, Lancaster said a lot of people looked past the Wildcats.

"We were under the radar because we lost so many seniors last year and we just wanted to come out and surprise teams," he said.

And while teams may have been surprised initially, opponents quickly learned how good Libertyville really was.

Lancaster completed 52 out of 84 passes for 973 yards and 10 touchdowns in the regular season while leading his squad into the playoffs.

And he has stepped up his game in the postseason, as evidenced by Libertyville's second-round game against Antioch in which he threw for 160 yards and three touchdowns and rushed for a nine-yard score.

"He stayed in the pocket and was poised, by far his best game," Kuceyeski said. "That was the true Brett right there (against Antioch)." —By Matt Pera

FIRST TEAM

QUARTERBACK

Which player led his football team in receptions one year and pass completions the next? The answer is Grant High quarterback Eric Lostroschio. Lostroschio finished with 64 of 123 passing for 1,240 yards for the Bulldogs and had 11 touchdowns. Throwing to the talented bunch of receivers, led by Jeff Cukla and Matt Behm, of course, helped, but Lostroschio also rushed the ball, kicked off and punted. Grant was co-NSC Prairie Division champs with a 4-1 division mark, 4-5 overall.

RUNNING BACK

After scoring 13 touchdowns on his way to being named Lakeland Newspapers' 2003 Rookie of the Year as a sophomore, Warren junior Mitchell Moore followed that up with one of the best rushing seasons in school history. He tallied 1,663 yards on 196 carries (8.5-yard average) and scored 24 touchdowns in helping lead Warren to an 8-3 record and a playoff win over Barrington in the first round of the Class 8A playoffs. It's no wonder several Div. I schools are already drooling over the 6-foot, 190-pound prospect.

As a junior, Antioch's Nick Nathan made few headlines, despite being named team MVP, although he was Lakeland's 2003 Unsung Hero. This season it was hard to ignore Nathan as he racked up school records with 1,833 yards rushing and 23 touchdowns in helping Antioch to a 5-0 start and the school's first playoff win since 1985. His big moment came in week two, when he gained 252 yards on 10 carries and four scores...in the first half, on his way to 366 yards and six touchdowns in a win over Elgin Larkin.

WIDE RECEIVER

Whenever 6-foot, 3-inch Warren junior Marcus Lewis was lined up one-on-one against a smaller cornerback his eyes would light up. And due to his tall frame, long arms and incredible jumping ability, so too did Warren's half of the scoreboard. Making frequent use of his formidable size advantage over opposing defensive backs, Lewis hauled in 50 catches for 778 yards and eight touchdowns.

When he wasn't punting or returning kickoffs for Waukegan, Demetrius Butler was busy setting single-season school records in receptions (41) and receiving yards (882). Despite playing in the tough CSL conference, Butler was still able to make the best defensive backs look slow as he sped by them time and time again on his way to eight touchdowns.

OFFENSIVE LINE

Any team with a solid running attack needs players who can win the battle in the trenches. Libertyville, which has run the ball for over 2,000 yards this season, definitely has that. Senior offensive lineman David Moosman is one of the best in the country at his position. He is currently being heavily recruited by UCLA, Michigan, Notre Dame and Iowa.

DEFENSIVE LINE

While Libertyville's offense has often been the center of attention this season, the Wildcats defense has been impressive as well, limiting teams to just 11 points per game. Defensive lineman Matt Nordia has been right in the middle of that. He tallied 38 solo tackles, 24 assists, 5.5 tackles for loss, a sack and two forced fumbles during the regular season.

After starting on Carmel's defensive line as a sophomore, Sean Murnane was moved to linebacker to take advantage of his speed and athleticism. When he struggled, he moved back to the line and seemed more comfortable with his hand down, leading the Corsairs with 74 tackles and five fumble recoveries.

LINEBACKER

Although most people expected a Grayslake linebacker to be among the area's best this season, not many would have expected this one. With preseason All-Area pick Doug Hanson struggling with an injury down the stretch, junior Chris Westfall stepped up big in his absence, leading the Rams with more than 100 tackles, two sacks and two fumble recoveries.

While wins were hard to come by this season for Round Lake, when the Panthers did enjoy success, senior linebacker Teddy Silvetti was usually right in the middle of it all. He led the team in tackles, tackles for loss and sacks. And on occasion, he also broke through on offense, gaining several hundred yards rushing on the season.

A leader on and off the field for Waukegan, Joe Leccesi used all 264 of his pounds to halt ball carriers as they came through the hole. Leccesi was second on the team with 114 total tackles and four tackles for a loss. The University of Iowa is among the schools interested in him and the work ethic he brings.

DEFENSIVE BACK

Senior cornerback Kevin Burns played a key role in Libertyville's stifling secondary this season. He boasted 25 solo tackles, eight assists, three interceptions and one fumble recovery in the regular season. In the first round of the playoffs against Mundelein, he nabbed a key interception at the end of the game to ensure the Wildcats 16-9 victory.

No matter where the play was run on the field, Warren junior Marvin Bemby seemed to be right in the middle. He used his blazing speed and excellent instincts to amass 55 tackles, three interceptions, three fumble recoveries and a sack while helping lead the constantly improving Devils' defense.

SPECIAL AWARDS

COACH OF THE YEAR

LIBERTYVILLE

Since taking over the helm of Libertyville's football program in 1994, Randy Kuceyeski has helped usher in a new standard of success for the Wildcats.

With their win over Lake Forest at the end of the 2004 season, Libertyville has won 24 straight regular season games, the last loss coming at the hands of North Chicago in game three of 2002.

He has also led the Wildcats to back to back undefeated seasons (2003-04) and five straight North Suburban Conference Championships for the first time in school history.

Now in the state playoffs for the 11th time in 12 years, Kuceyeski is on a mission to lead his undefeated squad (11-0) back to the state championship game, where they came up just short last season against Oswego.

ROOKIE OF THE YEAR

JIMMY POTEPA
CARMEL

After Carmel lost two key members of its starting backfield from the Class 6A state championship football team, the Corsairs were poised for an offensive backslide in 2004.

However, sophomore tailback Jimmy Potempa would not let that happen. Despite his small stature for a fullback, Potempa rumbled for 1,203 yards on 214 carries, and scored a team-high 14 touchdowns.

"In our scheme he was the first option," Carmel coach Andy Bitto said. "Teams would pound him, but he stayed so low to the ground that he was able to bounce off a lot of tackles. And he was the fastest guy on the team. By the end of the season, it was a given that he would get 150 yards per game."

With the fact that Potempa broke every sophomore record in the school's book, it may also be a given that Potempa may eventually go down as one of the best backs in Carmel history.

UNsung HERO

NATE HUGHES
ANTIOCH

While teammate Nick Nathan garnered most of the headlines this season with his multiple 200-yard games, Antioch coach Del Pechauer still feels his team had an even more valuable player this season—senior Nate Hughes.

"Nick was a tremendous runner, but Nate was our MVP," Pechauer said. "He did so many things that went unnoticed." Those things included playing the role of a change-of-pace back on offense, the leader in the defensive backfield and the Sequoia's go-to guy on trick plays.

Hughes finished second on the team with 659 yards on 112 carries and eight touchdowns. He also caught seven passes for 133 yards, also second on the team. On defense, he had 54 tackles, two interceptions, two fumbles caused and two fumble recoveries for the Sequoia, who went 7-4 and won their first playoff game since 1985.

Young Mustangs learn the ropes

By Matt Pera

Sports Reporter

It was not the easiest of seasons for Mundelein girls' head volleyball coach Dan Szymkowiak.

The Mustangs finished the year with a 15-20 overall record and did not advance in the postseason, losing 2-0 (21-25, 23-25) to Lake Forest in the first round of the regional Oct. 27.

But still, it was not hard for Szymkowiak to find a silver lining on a very young team.

"Our kids came a long way this year," he said. "They didn't give up and they were young in terms of varsity experience."

Mundelein's youth was evident in its starting lineup that, at the end of the season, fielded four sophomores. One of the second-year starters was Paige Tortorello, who also shared team captain duties with senior outside hitters Beth Rosendahl and Ashley Cretacci. Sophomores Heidi Haubrich, Kelli Boich and Colleen Hoffman also saw time in the starting lineup during the season.

Rosendahl said the lack of varsity experience was often hard for the team to play through.

"As season went along at times we were getting better and at times it still seemed like we were back to where we started," she said.

The Mustangs got off to a rough 0-5 start to begin the season, which put the team in a hole that was difficult to conquer.

But Szymkowiak pointed out that his squad faced several quality opponents to begin the 2004 campaign.

Three of their first five opponents were Prairie Ridge, Wheaton St. Francis and Hersey, all teams that are still alive in the postseason. Szymkowiak added that ten of the Mustangs losses throughout the year were against teams that ended the season with thirty wins or more.

He said he was impressed with the way his squad took several of those teams to the wire.

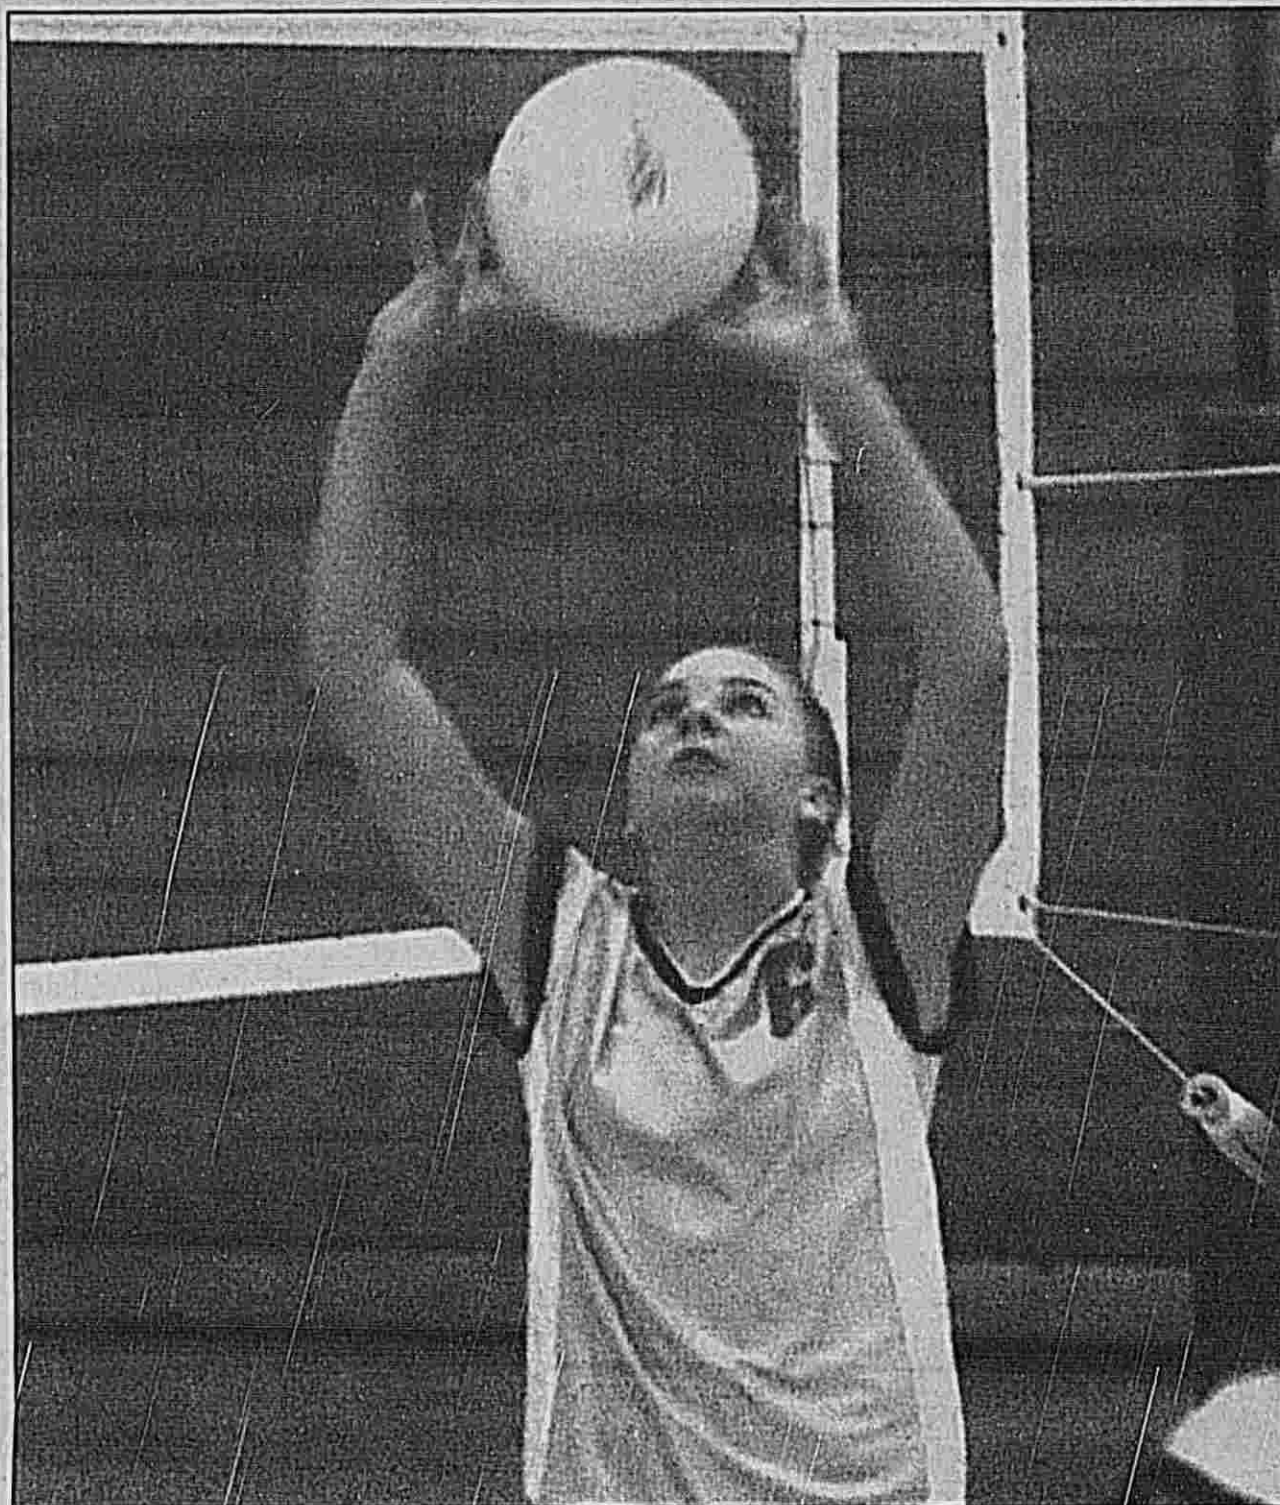

"The teams we played, like Lake Zurich, Antioch, Stevenson and Libertyville all had over 30 wins and we played them all to three games except for Stevenson," he said.

Because the Mustangs lacked veterans, Szymkowiak said the leadership from Cretacci and Rosendahl was vital for the Mustangs.

"They were trying to keep kids moving in right direction," he said. "And just their ability on the court was important because they had been in that situation. The kids knew they could go to them and have confidence that something would get done."

Cretacci was named the team MVP for her work on the outside during the season. She finished her career on Mundelein's all-time top ten list in season kills and attempts.

Cretacci and Rosendahl both played in the middle during their junior campaigns, but were moved to the outside hitter position this season, which Szymkowiak said better suited them.

"(Cretacci) really did a great job this season," he said. "She and Beth last year both played the middle and they're not really legitimate middle players but they did a great job. But this year they were just more in their element at outside hitter."

And while the senior duo will be missed next year, Szymkowiak will also have a crop of players much more accustomed to the varsity game.

"We made a lot of progress and if they put work in during the off season, it's going to pay off at the start of next season," he said.

GIRLS SWIMMING

The girls swim team took fourth place at the North Suburban Conference meet Nov. 5, finishing behind Lake Forest, Stevenson and Libertyville with 167 points.

Lucy Hirt and Nikki Spillone highlighted the meet, placing first and third in the diving competition respectively. Hirt broke the four-year-old NSC record for 11 dives with 398.20 points en route to the conference champion title.

The Mustangs middle and long-distance freestyle swimmer Megan Thompson also had a record-setting day. She broke her own school record in the 200-yard free with a fifth-place time of 1:59.11 and also set a new mark in the 500-yard free with a 5:18.52, good for fourth place.

Mundelein also took fifth place in both the 200-yard and 400-yard freestyle relays and finished fourth in the 200-yard medley relay.

The Mustangs will next travel to the Barrington Sectional Nov. 13, where five top 20 teams will compete for a trip to state.

PREPFILES

Beth Rosendahl

Be it on the basketball court or the volleyball court, Mundelein senior Beth Rosendahl is used to shifting between positions.

During the volleyball season, which ended Oct. 27, she played as an outside hitter after being featured as a middle hitter during her junior year.

As a starter on the Mustang's girls basketball team, she moves between the small forward and shooting guard positions.

But the constant changes don't bother Rosendahl, who said she is comfortable adapting to new challenges.

"It was pretty easy because I'm a pretty quick learner," she said. "Just tell me where to go and I'll do it for you."

The senior captain did quite a bit for the Mustangs volleyball team this season. Her personal highlight came against Round Lake in the Crosstown Classic Oct. 22, when she served for 25 straight points, a rare feat in volleyball.

"It was really exciting," she said. "It helped a lot that I had the team digging ball and setting it for (senior outside hitter) Ashley (Cretacci) so she could just come up and get a nice kill at the net."

Cretacci and Rosendahl shared the role as senior captains on a team that started anywhere from two to four sophomores during the season.

Mustangs head volleyball coach Dan Szymkowiak said Rosendahl was integral to both the team's offensive and defensive attack.

"She may not have been as powerful as Ashley but her experience in the middle and her defense paid off," he said. "She was second on the team in digs and she was a solid outside player." —By Matt Pera

Future Panthers come out for clinic

By Steve Peterson

Sports Reporter

Round Lake High School welcomed future wrestlers a free wrestling clinic and tournament for boys in grades five through eight.

The three-day session concluded with one-on-one battles.

"We had a good turnout, about 25 wrestlers. Some look like natural wrestlers. It is important to start them young," said head coach John Jobst.

"I'll be able to get better at takedowns," said eighth grade wrestler Joseph Medinah.

Junior high wrestling starts with a meeting in December, followed by tournaments in January.

Participants should bring a signed waiver form and workout clothes.

"We want to start to get junior high kids interested in wrestling. It's a great sport," said RL High head coach John Jobst.

For more information on youth wrestling, call Jobst at RLHS, 847-270-9300, ext. 5215.

Returning include 103-pounder Derrick Pousson, a sophomore, fourth at 103 pounds at the Waukegan Regional; Marlos Dos Santos, third at 119 pounds at the regional and sophomore Brent Stafford, fourth at 215 pounds in the regional.

Ryan Barnard, a sectional qualifier at 135 last year, said he hopes to reach state this year.

"We have some real hard practices, going straight for 10 minutes," he said.

Barnard said that he has been working out on a regular basis. "I run from my house to Dog 'N Suds and to the Rollins Road Forest Preserve, about three miles. It is a lot different from running shape to wrestling shape."

Barnard said there was much enthusiasm in the wrestling room the first day of practice this week. He may go at 135 or 140 pound weight class this year.

He has been in the sport since his youth wrestling days at Illinois Wrestling Federation meets. "I won sixth place when I was in seventh grade," he said.

He attended an NIU wrestling clinic with Terrill this summer. "Our counselor told us to always get the first takedown," he said.

Round Lake opens the season Nov. 24 at Antioch. Early-season meets also include Dec. 3 at Wauconda and Dec. 4 at the Deerfield tournament. A showdown with NSC Defending Champ Grant is set for Dec. 10 away.

GIRLS VOLLEYBALL

Steven Monroy, 13, takes down Aaron Collins, 12, as they learn new techniques during a wrestling clinic at Round Lake High School.

Colton asked Nicoline to move to right hitter after being a setter last year. Nicoline did so, adjusting well throughout the season. Nicoline was named team MVP and honorable mention all-North Suburban Conference.

"We asked her to change positions. She picked it up quickly," Colton said.

Freshman setter Brittany Kucia was the reason Nicoline was asked to make the switch. She ran the 5-1 offense, showing improvement as the season went on. In fact, she won the most improved player award. She adjusted well to what the game dictates, Colton said.

"She did a nice job in the 5-1. She grew up a lot as a freshman and improved," Colton said.

Sophomore Kamila Lakoma is another up and coming talent. She is a middle hitter who is a "great blocker. She will be a force in the conference," Colton said.

Nicoline was one of three seniors on the team. Also in their final season were Alyssa Shults and Nicole Walters.

Back next year include Laura Daily, Alma Rodriguez, Jamie Gallinati and sophomores Amanda Scrivner and Miranda Daily. "We will have two or three players playing club ball, and that is the key to getting better, playing more often," Colton said.

The team played well in its finale against Stevenson. "We were able to stay with them early in both games," Colton said of the 2-0 loss at the McHenry regional. "Our defense picked up at the end, and we would like that to be the strength of the team," Colton said.

A few freshmen and sophomores gained the taste of varsity experience in the season's final weeks.

Lisa Steffen and Jeremy Fisher were the assistant coaches.

BOYS GOLF

A move-in from Texas helped show Round Lake High golfers the way this fall.

Jeff Wegner came to Round Lake from a Houston powerhouse and finished runner-up in the NSC meet and qualified for the sectional at Rock Island, just missing the state meet. He gained his team's MVP award.

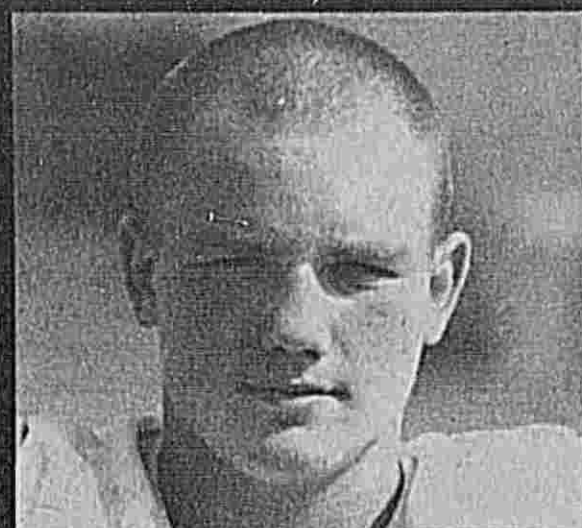

"His real strength was the adjustments that he made. He also helped out the young guys," said RL coach Alan Dorfman.

The Panthers were 2-11 in dual meets, 2-3 in the NSC Prairie.

Wegner was the only senior on the squad.

Juniors leading the team next year could be Joe Reasland and Travis Cook. "We hope the guys coming back go to camps and work on their games," Dorfman said.

PREPROFILES

Jake Powell

Jake Powell is such a fan of football that a few weeks after the season had ended, he still would like to play catch now and then. "It is hard to think that I may have played in my last game," said Powell.

Powell is a senior at Round Lake and fans have begun to get accustomed to seeing. The familiar No. 20 does it all, catches passes from QB Mike Hughes, intercepts a pass or recovers a fumble from his cornerback slot, and is on special teams.

"Powell is in on each and every play. He's a wonderful player. Last year, he did not make the big plays, this year he did," said coach Kevin Dempsey.

"I was drained for a couple of games, like when it was 90 degrees at Lake Forest, but at the end of the game, you run on pure adrenaline."

Powell joins fellow senior Ted Silvetti as all-NSC picks. Craig Brock and Hughes were named honorable mention.

"I started to play football with Ted and Mike in the fourth grade," Powell said before an early start to his Monday, an advanced physical education class before 7 a.m.

Powell drew some tough assignments from his CB slot, including Jake Gaebler of Mundelein, Jeff Cukla from Grant and Zion's tough wideouts. "I had a good game against Cukla, as he only had one catch. Gaebler was running a post pattern and I came across and made him fumble. I was supposed to keep an eye on him," Powell said. "I prefer to play man than zone. Cukla and Gaebler were pretty tough."

Powell has enjoyed working with Silvetti on defense. "He is one of the toughest players in the conference on linebacker, one of the best," Powell said. —Steve Peterson

Lack of scoring costs Cougars

By Matt Pera
Sports Reporter

One issue hindered the Vernon Hills boys soccer team all season long—finding a proficient scoring attack.

Head coach Vince DeLuca said he shuffled the lineup more than once in the hopes of finding a forward who could provide an offensive threat. But no one was able to settle into that role, which resulted in a lack of goals and six 1-0 losses throughout the year.

One such loss ended the Cougars' season. In the Class A regional championship at Amundsen High School in Chicago Oct. 21, Vernon Hills dropped a 1-0 decision to Gordon Tech. The only score of the game came off the foot of the Rams' Kevin Hall on a 35-yard free kick.

"I guess the whole season has been like that," he said. "We couldn't find a guy to put the ball in the net. In the Gordon game we had plenty of chances, as we did in a lot of games. We had chances to score but we couldn't do it."

The result had been much different in the semifinal game, in which the Cougars beat River Grove-Guerin 4-0. Matt Bowers and Josh Bryant each tallied a goal in that game, while Paul Hutchins notched two goals and an assist.

Despite the high-scoring effort in the semifinal, DeLuca said it was the defense that usually carried his squad, which finished the season 6-12-4 and 3-1-1 in the North Suburban Conference Prairie Division.

The senior trio of goalie Jared Batson, sweeper Matt Powers and defensive midfielder Gordon Scharf were charged with shutting down the opposition's attack on goal.

All three were rewarded for their efforts with all-NSC honors.

"They were solid," DeLuca said. "Defense was our big thing all year. Defensively we'll miss those three guys."

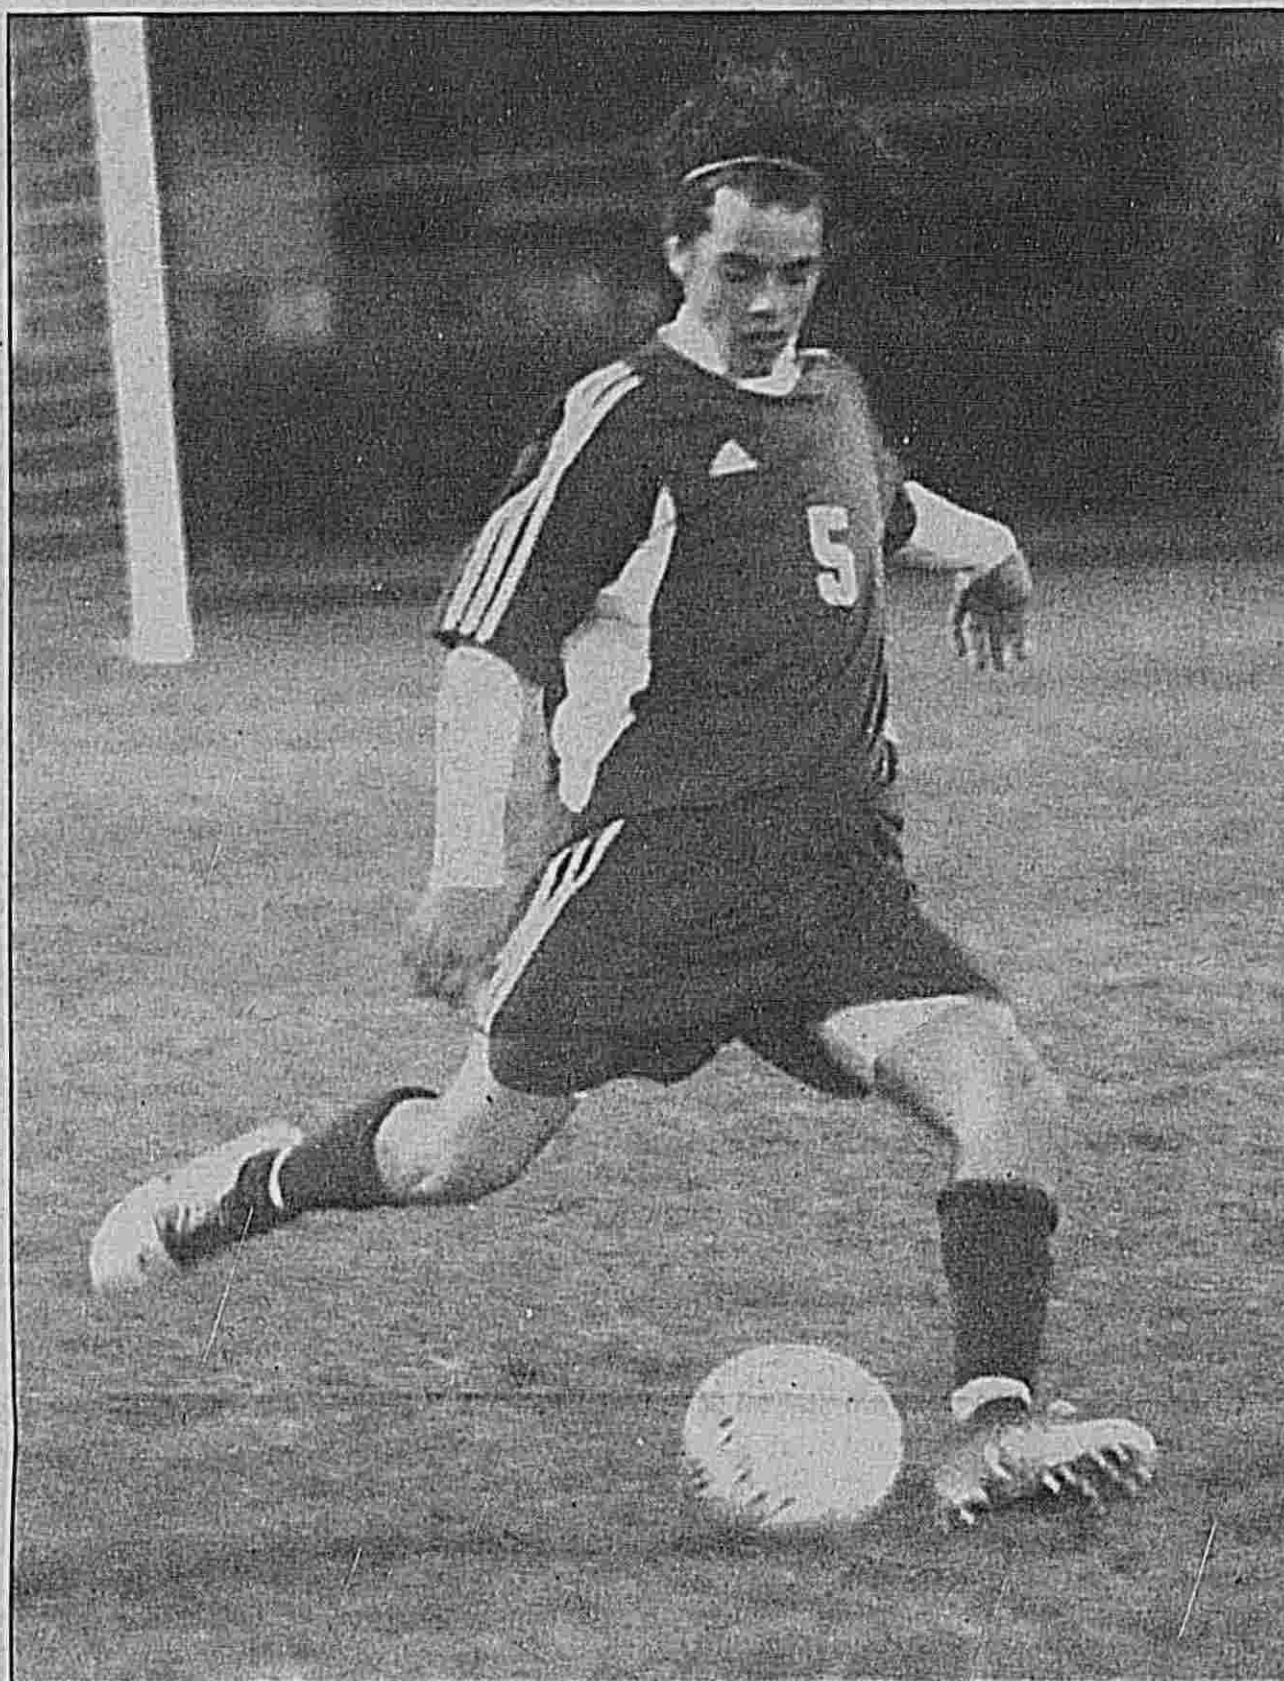

Junior midfielder Paul Hutchens, who led the Cougars with 12 goals on the season, was also named to the all-conference team.

And while the Cougars will lose their best line of defense in 2005, young players such as Hutchins and junior forwards Jake Short and Jason Cho have DeLuca optimistic the team will play more consistent soccer on the offensive end next season.

"It was just a tough season (this year)," he said. "We're graduating some good players, but we're returning a good nucleus of players so hopefully we can rebound from that."

Several members of the team plan to play indoor club soccer this winter and compete on traveling teams over the summer. DeLuca said the year-round experience should give several of his players a more competitive edge when they return to the varsity squad next fall.

"Playing in the off-season will help them improve," he said. "They're a good bunch of kids. Hopefully we rebound and have a nice season."

GIRLS SWIMMING

The Vernon Hills girls swim team took sixth place at the North Suburban Conference meet Nov. 6, tallying 96 points to beat out Zion Benton and Antioch. Lake Forest took first place with 303 points, followed by Stevenson, Libertyville, Mundelein and Warren.

Freshman sprinter Melanie Lecaroz highlighted the meet for the Cougars. She finished fifth in the 50-yard freestyle with a time of 25.57 and placed fourth in the 100-yard free with a time of 55.34, just barely being touched out by Stevenson's Aubrey Wanland who finished third with a 55.17.

Of the three relays, the Cougar's 200-yard medley team fared the best at the meet with a fifth place finish. The corps of seniors Emily Heiser and Katie McDonnell, sophomore Karyssa Bowers and Lecaroz swam in at a time of 1:59.07. The same relay team swam to a sixth-place finish in the 400-yard free relay with a time of 3:58.72.

In the diving competition, sophomore Carla Brioni placed tenth with 226.35 points in 11 dives.

The Cougars will next travel to the Barrington Sectional Nov. 13, which will include five teams that are ranked among the top 20 in the state.

PREP PROFILES

Matt Bowers

Vernon Hills' senior sweeper Matt Bowers likes speed, which is why he has a passion for working on Ford Mustangs.

He owns a 2001 Mustang and he is currently completely revamping the engine of a '71 "fast back" Mustang for a school project.

His affinity for quickness was also evident during the soccer season, as he chased down opposing scorers.

"He could see and anticipate and, as a coach, that's the hardest thing to teach," head coach Mike DeLuca said. "He had the ability and the speed."

While the Vernon Hills soccer team had a hard time scoring this year, with six 1-0 losses throughout the season, the Cougars (6-12-4, 3-1-1) were often able to shut down the opposition.

Senior sweeper Matt Bowers was one of the anchors in front of the goal, along with fellow seniors, midfielder Gordon Scharf and goalie Jared Batson.

The trio's work was rewarded with all-conference honors. Head coach Mike DeLuca cited the work of Bowers and Scharf as a major reason the opposition struggled to score against the Cougars.

"They both anchored the defense," he said. "Jared would be the first to tell you that if it wasn't for them he would have had a hard time in goal."

Bowers said the defense's success was based on strong communication.

"It was just organization really," he said. "As long as everyone talked back there it was fine."

Bowers plays year-round and is now suiting up for the FC United club team in Winnetka.

And while he has yet to settle on a school, he said there are several college coaches who have expressed interest.

"I've talked to a couple coaches and they like how I played," he said. —

Devils' valiant comeback falls short

By Rob Backus

Sports Editor

The game couldn't have started any better for Warren last Saturday. On the Devils' opening possession of their second-round match-up against rival Stevenson, senior running back Mitchell Moore raced down the left sideline for an 80-yard score.

It appeared that the Devils were on their way to another victory over Stevenson, having defeated the hated Pats 29-12 in the regular season finale.

But appearances can be deceiving as Warren found out.

On the Pats' first possession, quarterback Preston Earl hooked up on a 43-yard touchdown pass to Andrew Johnson. After forcing Warren to punt on its next set of downs, Stevenson took a 14-6 lead on a 33-yard score from Carl Johnson.

With Warren's offense stagnating, the Pats took advantage, adding two more touchdowns in the first half, on a 19-yard TD pass from Earl to Andrew Johnson, and a 6-yard run from Earl, to take a 28-6 lead at the half.

"We came out real flat," Moore said. "We weren't playing our kind of football."

"Things were pretty quiet at halftime," Warren coach Dave Mohapp said. "The kids were kind of in a trance."

But the Devils were determined not to go down without a fight.

"We said that we have 24 minutes to make something happen," said Moore, who finished with 151 yards on 20 carries. "It was win or go home."

After forcing Stevenson into a punt on its first possession of the second half, the Devils resorted to a bit of trickery to get their first points of the quarter.

Zerfass handed the ball to Marvin Bemby on an apparent end around, but Bemby quickly stopped and heaved a 49-yard touchdown pass to Marcus Lewis to begin the comeback. Zerfass completed a pass to Quintin Scott for the two-point conversion to cut the lead to 28-14 with 6:08 left in the third quarter.

"We needed to get something going to create some life," Mohapp said of the trick play. "Stevenson was taking everything away from us. It was a nice throw by Marvin and Marcus made a great catch. We were able to get some momentum going and the third quarter was ours."

The Devils got another momentum shifter when Joey Baruffi recovered the ball deep in Stevenson territory. Two plays later, Zerfass (9 of 28, 89 yards, 2 TDs, 3 INTs) hooked up with Lewis on a 30-yard score to cut the lead to 28-21.

And Lewis wasn't done. Less than two minutes into the fourth quarter, he caught a 9-yard fade pass from Zerfass to tie the game at 28-28. He finished with five catches for 83 yards and three scores.

"The kids really opened their eyes in the second half," Mohapp said.

Warren Township High School quarterback Garren Zerfass prepares to hand the ball off to a teammate during a 31-28 playoff loss to Stevenson at home.

But the historic comeback wasn't to be as Stevenson's Mitchell Rasmussen kicked the game-winning 34-yard field goal to take a 31-28 lead with 2:22 left in the contest. A Zerfass interception with 58 seconds left sealed Warren's fate.

"The comeback felt good, but it really didn't mean anything in the end," Moore said.

Mohapp disagreed, saying: "It was nice to see the character of this team the way they came back."

Despite the loss, Moore was proud of the way he and his teammates played.

"We gave it all we had in the second half," Moore said. "No one should feel like they didn't do their part. We had a good season and we came a long way."

The loss dropped Warren's final record to 8-3, but Mohapp was pleased with his team's season as well.

"Week in, week out we played good football," Mohapp said. "The character and work ethic of this team made it fun to coach."

BOYS HOCKEY

Warren entered quietly into Hoffman Estates' newly opened rink this past

Wednesday to face off against Palatine/Elk Grove. With play going back and forth across both ends of the ice, Warren was able to knock in three goals in the first period. Scoring for Warren were sophomore Ryne Korbas and senior Phil Torola, who scored a pair. Helping with the first period goals were Kris Latz, Andrew Spernow, Dan Torola and Ryan Canfield.

Warren was quieter in the second period, waiting until a power play in the last two minutes of the period before Ryan Canfield scored on an assist by Korbas.

However, Warren had enough of being the quiet gentlemen. Warren came out on fire in the third period, scoring eight goals.

Ryan McGaughy started the scoring streak assisted by Korbas and Mike Lavalle. Without giving Palatine's goalie much rest, junior Shawn Sullivan scored with help from Josh Gabl. Less than a minute later, Torola scored his third of the game assisted by Sullivan.

Casey Barnash kept the Warren net cool by earning another shutout.

PREPFILES

Garren Zerfass

Last Saturday, nothing was going Warren senior quarterback Garren Zerfass' way. His Devils were losing 28-6 to rival Stevenson, and he was overthrowing pass after pass.

Instead of panicking, Zerfass instead decided to calm things down a bit. So he, running backs Mitchell Moore and Quintin Scott and wide receiver Marcus Lewis knelt down on the sideline and talked things out.

"We said to ourselves, 'If we're going to come back, we have to be the ones to do it,'" Zerfass said.

After that, the Devils' offense exploded for 22 unanswered points, including a pair of TD passes from Zerfass to Lewis, to tie the game. Warren might have gone on to lose the game 31-28, but one thing was undeniable afterwards.

"I don't know that I've had a quarterback that throws the ball as well as him," Warren coach Dave Mohapp said. "He really understands the offense. He knows the scheme, he fits into it and he throws a really accurate ball."

His accuracy showed as Zerfass completed 92 of 176 passes for 1,345 yards and 11 touchdowns against just five interceptions.

"We really worked on our throw game this year," Zerfass said. "We spent a half hour after every practice working on our timing."

That worked paid off as Zerfass appeared to have an almost telepathic connection to Lewis, who caught 50 of Zerfass' passes for 778 yards and eight scores. Also key was the possession receiving of AJ Kegg (24 catches, 314 yards).

"Me, Marcus and AJ built a strong bond in camp," Zerfass said.

With his high school career behind him, Zerfass will focus on college. He is currently in contact with Div. III Augustana College and is hoping to hear from some Div. II schools in the near future. —By Rob Backus

Victory highlights Bulldogs' season

By Steve Peterson
Sports Reporter

A taste of success was achieved for Wauconda, something not seen on the football field for 29 game stretch. "We took some steps. We won a game, obviously, and we had opportunities to win others, but we need to translate those opportunities into wins," said coach Glen Kozlowski.

A group of seniors and juniors broke the 29-game losing streak on a memorable day in Round Lake. The Bulldogs won 24-21 in double overtime on a field goal by Anthony Santella.

Santella was not only a weapon for field goals, but kickoffs sent opponents back on their 20 more often than not. "I was confident that he could kick field goals from 60 yards out. He also helped create field position, because it would be a lot harder for teams to score against us if they started from 80 yards away than 40," Kozlowski said.

Santella finished 4-7 in field goals and 10-11 in PATs.

Another senior was QB Andrew Baker. "He had a nice year. We'll have to have someone step up next year, but the young guys are getting bigger, stronger and faster." Baker, in nine games, was 63-134 in passing with 3 touchdowns and five interceptions, the the long going for 49 yards. Junior Cole Munson was 4-9 passing.

WHS topped the 1,000-yard mark in rushing, with 111.2 yards per game. The offense had 92.9 yards passing per game, for a season total of 1,837. Junior Kris Gerke led with 308 yards in 28 receptions and one TD. Grooms had 11 catches for 205 yards, with a long of 65. Brandon Francis had six catches for 109 yards, finishing strong with a TD catch in the finale against North Chicago.

Bill Cheng, in 79 rush attempts, had 405 yards. Patterson had 172 and Jay Stewart 141. Cheng and Stewart had two TDs rushing and Brian Catalano, whose season was shortened by injury, had one TD.

B.J. Nedli, a senior and junior Joe Raupp were the leaders on defense. Nedli had 73 tackles, 34 solos and 39 assists. Raupp had 29 solos and 45 assists. Junior Brett Glavey had 35 solos and 11 assists. Grooms had two interceptions for 49 yards.

"We ran an attack defense and filled the gaps. It was good to see the linebackers get the tackles. BJ was tremendous with the solo tackles, and that is more important than the assists," Kozlowski said.

Sophomore Nick Angelotti made his presence felt early on despite being new to WHS. He finished with 49 tackles, and had 7 sacks for 48 yards in losses. "He will be a Division I player. He could not only get a sack, but cause a fumble and recover it," Kozlowski said.

Unsung heroes for the '04 Bulldogs were Angelotti, Francis, junior lineman Tyler

Hopfauf and senior Jamie Bobka, Kozlowski said.

"Our seniors were great in that they did not like to lose. They would come back the next Monday and just work harder," Kozlowski said.

Juniors have some strong goals, and that does not just mean two wins. "They met last week and set some big goals. Now we will get to the weight room and try to be stronger, faster and bigger," Kozlowski said.

GIRLS TENNIS

Wauconda High's tennis team was able to achieve a goal by downing a division rival.

"There is hope because we could see that we are able to beat Vernon Hills," said Wauconda coach Melissa Walsh.

The Bulldogs went on to share the NSC Prairie Division title with Grant as both had 4-1 records.

No. 1 singles player Courtney Mikelski led the squad. Another senior is doubles player

Alla Papirnyak. The Bulldogs return most of their squad next year. Danielle Cunningham, a junior No. 2 player is back.

"She hustles everywhere on the court. She does not give up," Walsh said after a match.

Mikelski will attend Midway College in Kentucky next year, where she hopes to hone her other interest, equine therapy. Besides tennis, she is also involved in the Varsity Club and National Honor Society at WHS.

Walsh was pleased with the whole team's effort.

"They all improved throughout the season. They'll have good years ahead of them if they work in the summer.

Varsity players who are expected back are: Karen Pinkosky, Maria Callendo, Sarah Schoo, Amber Likens, Courtney Manahan, Arielle Cassidy and Janielle Grotefield.

The Bulldogs were 4-7 in dual matches. A 5-0 win over North Chicago clinched the co-division title.

PREP PROFILES

Brian Kellogg

Brian Kellogg and soccer have a long history together, and the Wauconda senior hopes more is on the way.

Kellogg just completed a high school season that saw the midfielder score 9 goals, but more importantly, be the field general with 16 assists. The Bulldogs had five players score 7 goals or more and three have more than six or more.

"It was awesome. We made the sectional final three straight years, once losing in double overtime," Kellogg said of his prep career. "I remember playing soccer for the Tiny Kickers, then the Chiefs. My mom was the coach then and we went to the state semifinals. Even then, she said that I was a natural athlete," Kellogg said.

Kellogg takes more pride in his assists than goals.

"The assists are much more important to the offense," Kellogg said. Mom Cindy must have been right.

"We had a nice group of seniors and then we had a group of guys who we could plug in and not lose anything. Kellogg played defense last year, but was extremely important to us this year as a midfielder. As they say, if you control the midfield, then you can control the game," said WHS coach Terry Stevig.

The Bulldogs won their own tournament and the Prairie Division, taking Stevenson to a long shootout after two overtimes for the NSC title. Kellogg knows that Wauconda could have made it to the Class A quarterfinals. "But we weren't as prepared as Sycamore. I know if we had played our best, we could have beaten them," he said.

Coach Stevig said that the team held its own throughout, with some exceptions such as the Warren match and a 4-0 loss to Sycamore, eventual runners-up in Class A.—Steve Peterson

Future looks bright for booters

By Nicholas Alajakis

Sports Reporter

The season may have ended in a 0-1 heartbreaker in the regional finals, but Waukegan Soccer Coach Mike Berrie maintains hope for the future.

Next season the Bulldogs will be returning their two leading scorers. Juniors Jesus Lopez (27) and Jonathan Hernandez (17) were the highest scoring duo in Berrie's tenure as coach. The two also picked up post-season honors, with Lopez being named to the CSL's all-conference team, and Hernandez being named to the all-sectional team.

The team will also return three other starters from their 13-7-3 season, but they won't be without big losses either. All-sectional selection Arturo Hernandez and all-conference selection Guillermo Lopez are both graduating. And then there's the biggest loss. All-conference goalie David Rodrigues, who posted a .89 goals-against-average in three years at Waukegan will also be graduating.

"He's by far the best we've seen (in the program)," Berrie said about Rodrigues.

Freshman Alex Molina, who saw limited action on the varsity this season will most likely replace Rodrigues, Berrie said.

Even with key losses, Berrie said he thinks the team can be very competitive next season. The team had six freshmen on the varsity squad at season's end, including starters Emmanuel Lopez and Cayse Guadarrama.

"Each year we talk about taking it a step further," Berrie said. "I think we can do that."

BOYS GOLF

Though the team posted only one win in nine dual meets, coach Ted Injasulian said he thought they played well.

For the first time in a few years, Injasulian had to cut some boys in the beginning of the season, and limit the squad to only nine varsity members.

The highlight of the season for the Bulldogs came on Sept. 18, when they took third place at the Grant Invitational. Team captain Stephen Booker and Jon Duffie led the Bulldogs in scoring with an 89 over 18 holes. Matt Laine (90) and Sergio Cruz (95), completed the scoring for the Bulldogs.

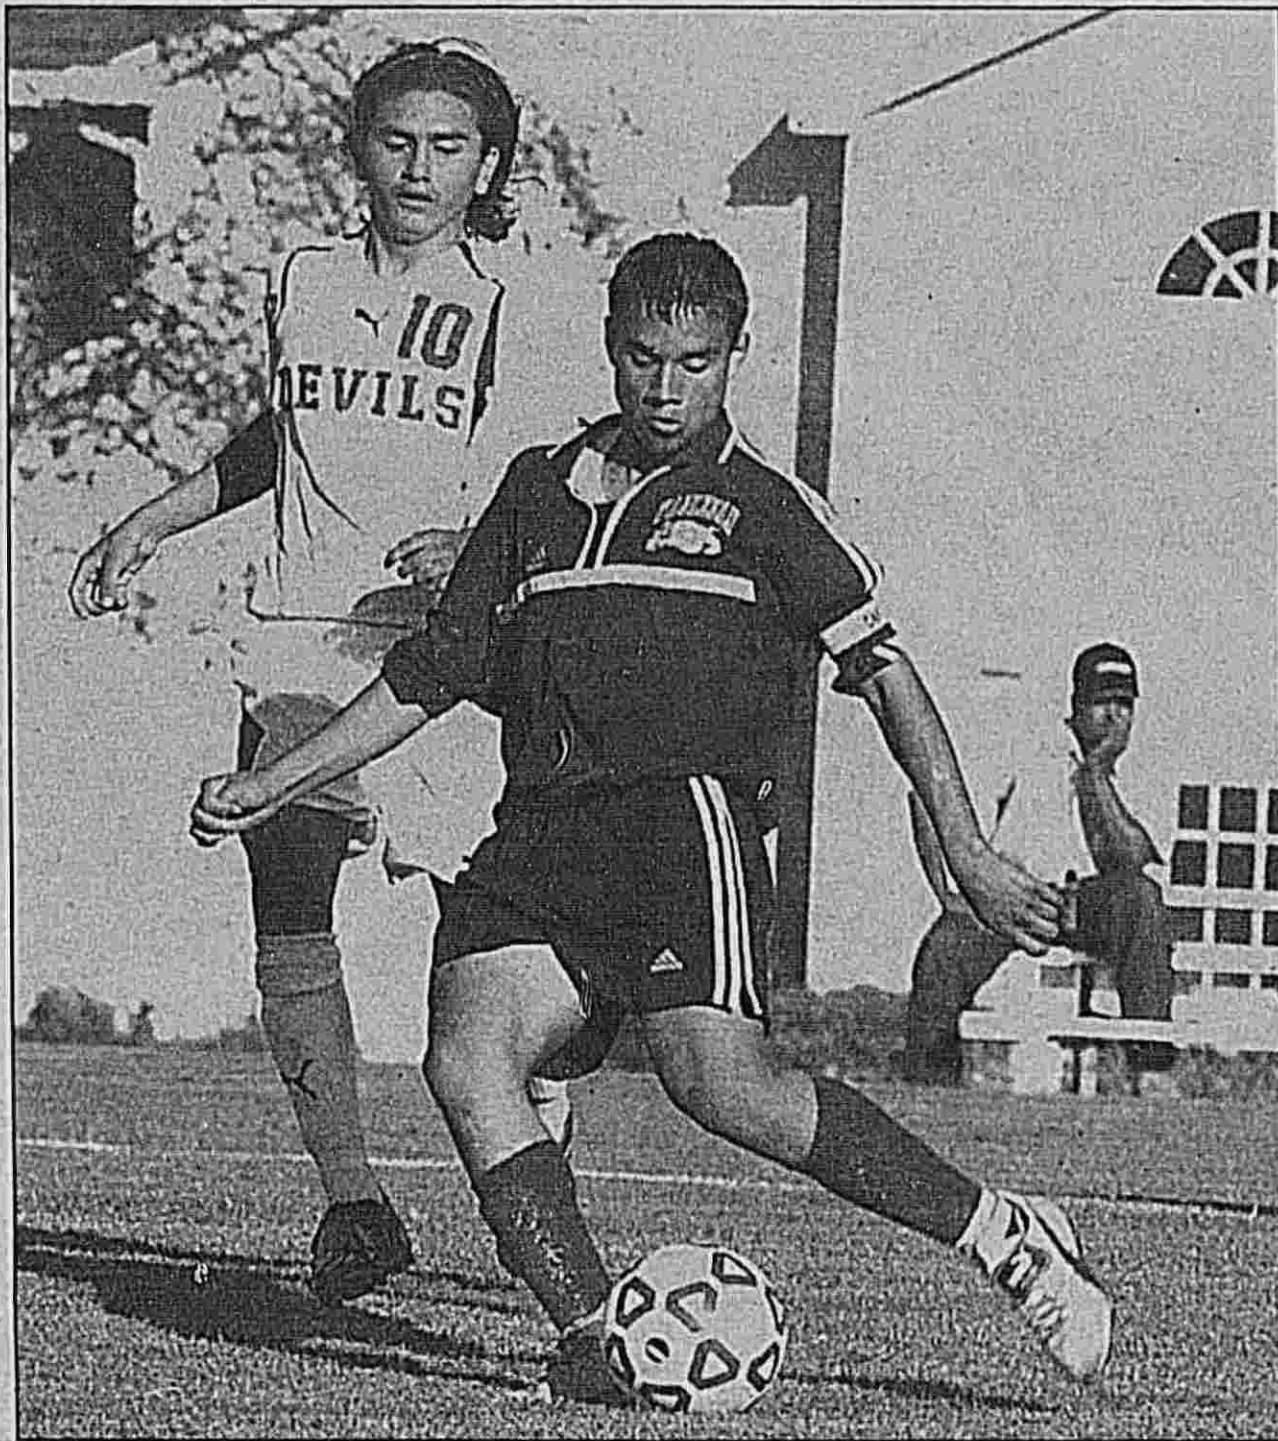

The strong showing was cause for a celebration, said Injasulian, and a step in the right direction.

"We will be back next year even stronger than before and we will continue this era in WHS boys golf," Injasulian said. "Our history and legacy is being laid right now."

GIRLS GOLF

Fielding a squad of only 10 girls is a far cry from where Waukegan coach Windell Piercy would like to be. But it's a move back in the right direction. Two years ago the team was half that size.

The team, despite its low numbers, was not without its highlights. Senior Frankie Lucas shot an 86 to take fifth place in regionals and qualify for sectionals. She was also an all-conference selection.

The team's highlight came at the Champaign-Centennial Invitational, where they placed 11th out of 22 teams.

Normally being at the bottom of the pack in the CSL, it was refreshing to be in the middle, said Piercy.

Next season, Piercy said he thinks the team will be more competitive than it has been. After taking a plunge two years ago they have been slowly rebuilding, and with talented freshman Alex Lucas and Lindsay Payne returning, the future looks a little brighter than it has, Piercy said.

CROSS COUNTRY

Heading into the off-season, Coach Tim Fox can for the first time feel confident about future teams at Waukegan.

Plagued by low turnouts the past three years, Fox said he finally saw a slight increase in the amount of students interested in running.

When the season began the team had more than 30 runners. Those numbers dwindled to just more than 15 by season's end, but what remained, could be seen as a building block, Fox said.

For the girls, freshman Candace Magee and sophomore Samantha Kafetz were top runners, each posting times near 21:00.

To be competitive Fox said he'd like to drop their times below 20 minutes - a goal he sees possible once the girls develop more of a base.

On the boys level Fox said he is hoping junior Josh Cantrell and freshman Matt Laforge, who both run around 18:00, can each drop times more than a minute.

Both teams finished sixth at the conference meet this past season.

It's refreshing, Fox said, to have potential after struggling with numbers. The team is far from posting large numbers, however, he admits.

"It's not getting easier," Fox said. "It's hard to keep kids throughout the season."

PREPROFILES

Frankie Lucas

In his first year at the helm Waukegan girl's golf coach Windell Piercy knew he'd have troubles. Luckily, he said, he had some assistance some someone familiar with the program.

Senior Frankie Lucas came up "big" Piercy said. From helping him learn proper conference procedures, to helping him deal with and coach the girls, Lucas was always there.

"I tried to make it so he had someone who could make it easier on him," Lucas said.

Stepping into the leadership role came natural to Lucas. During the off-season she helps coach in Waukegan's "First Tee" program, which works to develop the golf skills of youngsters.

Working with those kids gave her leadership skills she has been able to use, Lucas said. Not only did she have to work to help her coach get accustomed to high school athletics, but she also worked to help many of her younger teammates progress.

Being an all-conference selection and sectional qualifier this passed season earned her respect from teammates, so when she gave pointers they listened, Piercy said.

It was Lucas' second trip to sectionals, after playing on a qualifying team as a freshman.

And Lucas did it all, while she herself was not completely comfortable. In her four years at Waukegan she had three different head coaches, not to mention the many assistants she's learned under as the program underwent a rebuilding phase.

"It's been difficult," Lucas said. "They each have their set rules on how they want things done."

"It's hard to transition, but if you work hard it's not a problem."

Through it, Lucas said she thinks it's made her stronger, so she has the insight to offer up advice to others. -By Nicholas Alajakis

Lancers fall in Region IV title match

By Matt Pera
Sports Reporter

At the beginning of the season, the College of Lake County women's volleyball team set a goal to make it to the National Junior College Athletic Association National Championship in Columbus, Ohio.

Last year the Lancers fell just short, losing to Elgin Community College in the Region IV Tournament title game.

Sophomore outside hitters Sarah Campbell and Lindsey Gruber, the only returning players from last year's squad, made it the team's mission to get out of the regional and into nationals this year.

But CLC fell just short again, losing to Kankakee Community College 3-1 (30-27, 22-30, 14-30, 21-30) in the regional title game Nov. 6 at Grayslake.

The teams were already familiar with each other, as they squared off twice during the regular season. The Lancers won the first match 2-1 Sept. 18, then dropped the second contest of the season 3-0 Oct. 9.

CLC head coach Roger Ozima said that familiarity hurt his team in the championship game.

"We tried a lot of different stuff to get (Kankakee) off balance and they were picking up everything," he said. "I give them credit. They had an idea of what were trying to do."

The Cavaliers fast-paced offensive attack combined with their solid defense proved tough for the Lancers (33-12, 11-1) to handle.

In the first game, however, it appeared the teams were poised to go down to the wire.

The Lancers held their own against Kankakee to open the match, battling their way to a 30-27 win behind a solid defensive effort at the net.

"Against Kankakee we started out blocking really well I thought," he said. "It was a continuation of the night before against Oakton (in the semifinal). We got frustrated when we weren't pulling spikes down and we got a little anxious."

The trouble started in game two, when the Cavaliers settled into their hard-hitting attack. Sophomore outside hitter Andrea Thomas, who was named NJCAA Player of the Week Nov. 2, and sophomore setter Melissa Aguina led Kankakee to three straight wins to take the match.

Ozima said Aguina gave the Lancers the most problems.

"They were as determined as we were but they were just relentless with their offense," he said. "Every chance they got they were trying to run at us. They have a great setter. That was probably pretty much the difference."

The Lancers had been the aggressors the night before, beating Oakton 3-1 Nov. 5 in the semifinal match.

College of Lake County's Sarah Campbell dives for the ball during the Region IV championship match against Kankakee Community College. The Lancers started out strong but ended in a 3-1 loss to KCC.

Gruber (14 kills, three aces, three blocks, 17 digs), Campbell (13 kills, three aces, one block, 17 digs) and freshman middle hitter Kim Steele (11 kills, five blocks) led CLC in the win.

Their solid performances earned the trio all-tournament honors.

Steele said the team had been motivated to get to nationals to keep the season alive and fulfill the goal set by their sophomore captains.

"We just wanted to play as long as we could together," she said. "(Campbell and Gruber) are wonderful people and great teammates."

Ozima said the Lancers now have a big hole to fill, as the sophomore duo rewrote the record books during their two-year careers.

"They're going to be really missed next year," he said.

Gruber made the Skyway All-Conference first team and was runner up for conference player of the year.

Campbell and freshman setter Jenna Runge were also named to the first team, while freshman middle blockers Kim Steele and Megan Krizman received second team honors.

MEN'S BASKETBALL

The CLC men's basketball team is off to a 2-0 start this season, winning both of their first two games by double digits.

In their season opener, the Lancers beat the Trinity College junior varsity team 57-40 on the road.

CLC followed up that win with a 98-63 blowout of University of Wisconsin-Fox Valley.

The Lancers were led in that game by sophomore forward Erin McMillan (16 points, 12 rebounds), freshman forward Tony Murdock (12 points, 13 rebounds) and sophomore point guards Austin Yarc (10 points, 5 assists) and Marlon Cobb (17 points).

CLC will next face the University of Wisconsin-Washington County Nov. 11.

PROFILES

Kim Steele

In game two of the regional semifinal game against Oakton Community College Nov. 4, College of Lake County freshman middle hitter Kim Steele displayed how she has established herself as one of the best blockers in the Skyway Conference this season.

She slammed the door on the Raider's offense during a sequence that head coach Roger Ozima said set the tone for the entire match.

Oakton's hitters came hard at the net four times in a row and, each time, Steele was right there to stop them. The blocks shifted the momentum of the game and helped change a tight 22-20 game into a 30-20 victory.

"Toward the end of the game she gave a blocking clinic," head coach Roger Ozima said.

Her solid play at the net translated into nine blocks in the tournament, five against Oakton and four in the championship match loss against Kankakee Community College.

Steele said her defense steadily improved over the course of her freshman campaign.

"I get to the blocks fast and line up better than I used to," she said.

Steele added that her overall game has gotten quite a bit better this season as well.

"I just sort of changed," Steele said of her improved offense. "I became a smarter player. I see things better."

The six-foot Zion-Benton grad even had a chance to play in the back row for the first time ever this season, tallying a service ace against Triton Community College Oct. 26.

With the season now over, Steele said the Lancers came together as a team and had a successful year.

"We were all just so passionate about winning and competing," she said. "I think we all did a wonderful job." —By Matt Pera

Skyhawks' only loss ends its season in Class 5A

By Steve Peterson

Staff Reporter

It was about 4 p.m. on the first Saturday in November, time for another sunset on a late fall day.

Members of the senior class of Johnsburg's football team took a final lap. Juniors watched and fans clapped, many saying 'thankyou' for a 10-1 season that had just concluded.

With many standouts returning, the Skyhawks hope to be back in the playoffs again and again, although the heartbreak of a 36-33 loss to Rock Island Alleman Catholic will not go away soon.

"We fought and fought, never gave up, but they just kept shoving the ball down our throats. I feel bad for the kids, although we have a lot of talent coming back," said Johnsburg coach Jason Aubry.

The Skyhawks faced a tough challenge, march 76 yards in just 1:42. But with Trevor Bupp, who had already completed TD passes to Kyle Fiedorowicz (13 yards), Zack Decker (24 yards), Chris Leathers (52 yards) and to Brent Blackowicz (2 yards to close the first half), anything seemed possible. The Skyhawks gained two first downs, the second on a fourth-and-two situation from the 49 on a run by Bupp, and appeared to have wrestled back the momentum. But a junior defensive back, Andrew Doyle, played center field type defense, on the final JHS play from scrimmage, for an interception with 32 seconds left.

The Skyhawks were without Fiedorowicz and his 6-foot, 7-inch frame to catch passes the second half, as he had suffered a knee injury. "We really do not have a back-up for him. HE had been so steady for us the whole season," Aubry said. "Blackowicz and Josh Feld (both juniors) stepped it up." "But Alleman is just a great team. We hope to be able to continue this (in the future).

JHS's aggressive play calling stunned the Pioneers (9-2) at the end of the first half. Facing a third-and-25 from midfield, Bupp unleashed a 40-yard strike to Leathers just after two had misfired. A key Alleman penalty gave Johnsburg first and goal at the 2. "We were thinking about a field goal, but the kids said they felt we could score," Aubry said. Blackowicz made a diving catch on the left side of the end zone and it was a 21-14 halftime lead for JHS. Bupp would have 11-of-18 pass completions for 178 yards and one interception. That was in the first half.

JHS surrendered an early score after Alleman had a short field to work with. Bupp connected with Fiedorowicz, a junior, for a 13-yard strike, but the extra point try was blocked. That would be a trend, as JHS later would miss a PAT and settled for a one-point lead.

Senior Decker had a good game rushing the ball and caught a 24-yard strike from Bupp for a 14-7 JHS lead with 8:21 left in the second quarter. Alleman tied the game less than two minutes later, on a 1-yard run by QB Jeremy Hauer.

Alleman gained momentum with a long drive to start the second half, capping it off with a game-tying TD on a 41-yard run by Michael Ater.

Johnsburg did not have an answer until early in the fourth quarter. Bupp scored from two yards out, capping a 66-yard, 11 play drive. The extra point try was blocked for a 27-21 JHS lead.

Alleman tied the game on a 6-yard run by leading rusher Robert Barlow. A PAT gave the visitors a 28-27 lead.

"Chris has been doing that for us all year," Aubry said of a short catch that the senior turned into a 52-yard jaunt down the sidelines. Leathers missed the extra point as it sailed wide left, settling for a 33-28 lead with a seeming eternity, 4:45 left.

Barlow scored the game-clincher, from 4 yards out, ending a well-managed clock sucking drive by the Pioneers.

"Johnsburg is a good club. Neither club wanted to give in. Their team and their fans can be proud of them," said Alleman coach Dave DeJaegher. Alleman gets to move on, facing Genesso-Darnell in the quarterfinal round.

Does This Job Have Meaning

By Scott T. Fleischmann

In the past two weeks, five people (who are not in our organization) shared their feelings that their work was not worthwhile. Most people occasionally go through a period where they question the value of the work that they do each day. The conclusion of the struggle with that doubt is important because, for many people, it relates to self worth.

Unfortunately, many people use the wrong criteria to evaluate the question. The first mistake that they make is to evaluate the compensation as the primary guideline. We all work to earn a living. Unfortunately, most of us consider what the compensation will buy us as the litmus of this value.

Those who are being compensated within a normative range are compensated fairly. (Those ranges can be found on the Internet.) Yet, we continue to include the size of the house we can afford, the car we drive, the number of times that we can go out for dinner... as the criteria. When we analyze the basics, if we are compensated fairly, and our basic needs are met, our compensation is not an effect on the meaningfulness of the job. (Incidentally, the basic needs are shelter, i.e., a home to live in, clothing, and sustenance, including clean air, water and food. Televisions, cars, and CD players are not basic needs.)

Another value that contributes to the value of work question is the contribution to society. This too is important but not the sole criteria. Of the people that questioned the value of their work, one was a medical doctor and one a scientist. Most of us would consider their contributions to be significant. They were judging based on much higher standards.

The doctor was working on a long research project that may not be implemented before he retired. The final product would help millions of people. The scientist became a college teacher and saw only the students that wanted to get a good grade but were not interested in using the knowledge.

Job meaningfulness? A five-year-old boy walked on the beach after high tide. The beach was loaded with starfish that would probably die on the beach. Realizing the problem, he started carrying them, one in each little hand to the sea.

A cynical jogger approached and asked what he was doing. He replied "I'm saving starfish." The jogger, seeing the thousands of crustaceans on the sand suggested that he could not really make any difference. As the boy gently put two more into the brine he replied "It made a difference to those two."

Look for the contributions that you make not the insignificance. Are you making life easier for others? Does your company contribute to others through its products or services? Even the doctors and scientists cannot do it alone. They need janitors, lawyers, secretaries and YOU.
